DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

POOR TASTE

It is a thing that no nice girl does, and I hope that your experience will not only teach you discretion, but also will make you realize that it disgusts men for women to run after them and be too easy. When a girl throws herself at a man's head, he ducks and dodges her.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl of 21 and am desperately in love with a man who is divorced and has four children who live with him, instead of with their mother. We were to have been married, but now that the time approaches, I don't know what to do. I think that a girl of 21 doesn't have much of a future with a man if he has four children.

Should I throw my happiness away because of the children? Or should I help him rear them and love him with a love that he has never known? What shall I do?

TROUBLED

ANSWER: You certainly have a problem, for it is one that has no easy way out, and you should do a lot of thinking before you make your final decision.

Four stepchildren, who have probably had no proper rearing, are a handful for even a middle-aged woman to undertake, and what they would do to torment a girl stepmother, I hate to contemplate. I can see little happiness in such an arrangement for you, no matter how much you love the father. But, on the other hand, it may be your opportunity to do a great service in making these children a happy home and giving them a future that they would not have, except for you.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have wanted a dog for a very long time. I begged my mother to let me have one, but she says they are too much trouble. My father would like to give me one, but my mother simply refuses to let me have it.

I am very unhappy as I want a dog more than anything else in the world. Can you suggest any possible way that I can persuade my mother to change her mind?

G. H.

ANSWER: I gladly add my entreaties to yours, because I think a dog does a lot in the development and formation of the character of any boy. No boy can have a dog without learning from it loyalty, devotion, kindness, patience and helpfulness.

Please, Mother, open your heart and give your little boy a dog. What if it does make you a little more trouble when it will bring the child so much happiness? Have a heart!

BABY'S
UPSET STOMACH
QUICKLY CORRECTED

BABY'S little "Tummy" is often easily upset. It is easily righted again, too, if you know just how to do it. Let Mrs. M. S. Alway, of London, Ont., tell you: "Baby's Own Tablets are a great help at the first sign of upset stomach, during teething time or when a cold is coming on. They work quickly yet gently to carry away poisons and promote quiet sleep. Walking floors at night is unknown in our home."

And Mrs. W. R. Sharp says: "I nursed my baby shortly after being alarmed over a motor accident and that upset her almost to the point of convulsions. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she soon stopped crying—went to sleep."

Equally effective for teething troubles, constipation, simple fever and diarrhoea. Sweet-tasting, easily crushed to a powder, if desired — prompt in action. No "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effect. Buy a box today for sickness so often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Money back if not satisfied.

He lives and always will.

Fondly Remembered by His Wife and Family.

In Memoriam

In fond and loving memory of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Hannah J. Whitlock, who departed this life April 25, 1943.

Just four years ago she left us
How we miss her loving face
But we are pleased to have an angel,
In God's Kingdom full of grace.

Lovingly Remembered by Daughter Mary and Grandchildren Marie and Walter Stephen Thompson.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our father and mother, Mr .and Mrs. John A. McDougall, who passed away April 24, 1946, and June 22, 1942.

Tho' tears in our eyes do not glisten,
And our face is not always sad,
There is never a night or a morning
But we think of the loved one we had.

Ever Remembered by Their Daughters Helen and Marjorie.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear father, Thomas L. Howatt, who passed away two years ago today April 25th, 1945.

Do not ask us if we miss him
Oh there's such a vacant place,
Oftentimes we think we hear his footsteps
And we see his smiling face.

Days of sadness still come o'er us
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps him ever near us,
Though he's gone two years ago.

Always so faithful, true and kind
Few in this world his equal you'll find,
A beautiful life that came to an end
He died as he lived, everyone's friend.

Inserted by the family.

Meat Magic

When speaking of meats, undoubtedly the first choice would be those delicious tender and juicy steaks or roasts. However, all homemakers know that neither the family budget nor rationing will permit the daily use of such cuts. This proves no hardship though, for those who have acquired skill in the cooking of the less tender cuts.

When the proper cooking methods have been applied, together with ingenious seasoning, these have been found to be more tender and flavourful than that juicy steak or expensive roast. So do not pass up this real source of saving together with ther stimulating appetite appeal.

All tough cuts are made tender in one of two ways. In the case of stews, braised meats and pot roasts, a long, slow cooking, using moist heat, softens the connective tissue, which is responsible for the toughness of meat. In meat loaves and patties, the meat has been ground and made tender in this way. Do not have meat ground too finely. Medium-fine is best. The less expensive cuts may be readily extended. A generous quantity of vegetables may be added to a stew, thus extending that meaty flavour. Ground meats are good mixers. It goes further and the texture of the cooked product is often better, when combined with milk, bread crumbs or other cereals.

The home economists, Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture suggests the following recipes as special treats and real money savers.

THE WOMAN'S REALM

mask twice a week is very helpful. Make your mask this way.

Mix the white of one egg with the juice of one lemon. Blend in sufficient oatmeal or almond meal to make a thin paste. Apply to face, arms, back; wherever the freckles gather and leave on until dry. Rinse off with warm water.

For the freckled skin which simply won't yield to bleaching treatments, here is the ideal way to make up so that your freckles can't be seen. A foundation cream does wonders in disguising these freckles which you worry about so much. Choose a foundation cream in a shade best suited to your type, that is, to your hair and skin tone. Choose face powder to match the foundation. Be sure that it isn't even one shade darker.

LATEST EQUIPMENT

Pressure cookers and cream puffs hold no mysteries for young grade seven and eight students of five Regina public schools learning the domestic arts in a newly-equipped classroom. The 13 and 14-year-olds spend half a day a week in the modern domestic science room. They've had domestic science training for years but now the subject is taught with the latest gadgets. The room has two sink-cupboard-stove units and in each "kitchen" four girls prepare a full meal. As a climax of the morning's work they eat their latest production.

BABY CARE

Baby's beauty care in hot weather calls for all-over pattings with his special baby lotion before and after sunning. A blend of pure mineral oil and lanolin with an antiseptic ingredient added for special protection will help insure your cherub's tender skin against discomforts from wind and sun and be a reward for strict observance of His Majesty's routine. And Mama will get a beauty bonus for her hands as well.

MEN, HERE ARE TIPS OF REAL VALUE

Want to surprise your wife? You can, and it won't cost you a cent. Just try:

Doing a repair job the first time she asks you, and finding the tools you need without her help.

Saying, "You drive," next time she meets you down town, and start to slide out from under the steering wheel.

Asking her opinion about world affairs instead of telling her what you think.

Paying the monthly bills without wondering out loud where all the money goes.

Saying once on your day off, "If there's anything you'd like to do to-day I'll look after the kids."

Gossiping with her after a party, instead of just punctuating her comments with a few monosyllabic grunts.

Showing her the small courtesies you automatically show other women.

Remembering to give her credit when an idea of hers works

Saying, "I'll help you get it done," instead of "Oh, let it go," when she wants to finish a job before joining in with some spur-of-the-moment plan of yours.

Admitting that having guests creates a lot of extra work, instead of saying airily, "Don't go to a lot of trouble."

Inhaling considerable amounts of dry cleaning fluid vapors can make you sick. Do big cleaning jobs where there is plenty of fresh air.

TWO BITS A DOZEN

Married people and those about to marry will soon be able —for 25 cents—to attend a dozen 90-minutes lectures on home-making and the care of children organized by London County Council. The first course, an experimental one scheduled to begin after Easter, will include lectures on home life and the family; pregnancy, confinement, feeding of infants; care of children from physical and psychological aspects; prevention of infection; planning the work of the home; care and repair of household equipment. Men and women over 18 years of age will be eligible to attend.

TASTY SOUPS EASY TO MAKE

"Beautiful soup of the evening" the Mock Turtle sang to Alice. Whether beautiful or not, housewives will agree that soup beats most other foods in economical and nutritive value.

A popular item in the daily diet, soup can be an inexpensive nourishing dish when made at home. Delicious soup can be made entirely without meat. A hot cream of vegetable soup is particularly valuable for the children's lunch.

Cream Soups: Three tablespoons dripping or shortening; 1 1-2 teaspoon salt; two cups vegetable stock and pulp; four tablespoons flour; pepper; two cups milk or milk and water.

Vegetables are pulped by mashing or pushing through sieve. Melt dripping, blend in flour and seasonings. Add either hot vegetable stock or hot milk gradually; stir and cook for 10 minutes; add remaining ingredients. Reheat. Strain if necessary or beat with a Dover beater. Serve at once.

Tomato, potato, carrot, onion, corn, pea, spinach, bean and cheese soups can be prepared in this way.

Tomato Soups: Cheap cuts of meat, bones, scraps of meat and left-over cooked meats may be used for soup stock. Cereals, greens or potatoes may be added. A small amount of herbs or spices will give a good flavour.

Cut meat into small pieces and cover with cold slightly salted water. Let stand one hour, then simmer gently for three or four hours. Strain, cool, and remove fat. For each cup of stock allow one-quarter cup mixed vegetables and one-half tablespoon rice or barley. Cook until tender.

Peanut Butter Soup. One-third cup peanut butter; four cups milk; four tablespoons flour; two tablespoons fat; one-half teaspoon salt; one-half teaspoon scraped onion.

them and yet their screaming is so plaintive and continued that both Jeanie and I are relieved when at last in the warmer Spring days they desert the neighborhood leaving it to the crows' and other more musical calls. I thought that this morning's light wind in the trees made gentle apology for the dreariness of yesterday's cloudiness and perhaps for the coldness that has come tonight. But as James remarked when he came indoors after assuring himself that everything was ship-shape at the stables "It's better to have this frost now than when we get into the cropping!" And in between April's dark days and the cold ones, one catches fleeting but heartening promises of delightful days to come. For all the time

"April will care for the slumbering sod
And whisper the message she needs,
'There is Life, there is Hope, there is Love, there is God'.
And the still earth awakens and heeds;
And the daffodils golden, that long since were gone,
Will sing in a chorus "Lo, Spring's at the dawn'".

Until tomorrow — Diary —Good-night.
