EVERYTHING POINTS TO SLUMP IN QUEBEC French Canadians, Even More Than English, are Opposed to the Fact

Montreal, Sept. 10.—The campaign is at its height in the province of Quebec today, and everything points to a slump against the Laurier-Taft party. The fact that the once idol has to return here to endeavor to stem the tide is plainly indicative of the way things are going. Hon. Mr. Lemieux having gone to Gaspé, the ministerialists are without a strong speaker, while Bourassa and his scores of trained speakers are swarming over the province, carrying everything before them and C. H. Caban is doing the same amongst the English that Bourassa is accomplishing amongst the French. Converts are coming over in droves and number some of the leading men of the city.

The anti-reciprocity feeling is even stronger amongst the French-Canadians than the English and the strong undertone evidenced on every side would point to a very powerful unseen power on the fighting line. Bourassa has at last swung squarely against the pact and Armand Lavergne will follow suit in Quebec district tomorrow, so it goes without saying that reciprocity will be the great and one issue upon which an undivided party will lay siege to the Laurier forces tomorrow and along the line. By tomorrow night there will not be a gap, and everything would seem to a point to sweep similar to the National Policy victory of 1878. With men as Jas. Carruthers, Paul Galher, Jim. Redmond, George Caverhill, Robert Archer, J. A. Hart, J. N. Greenfields, and scores of others first citizens deserting Laurier and working for Canada, anything short of a panic can be expected by election day.

ONTARIO WILL BE ALMOST SOLID

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Dr. J. D. Reid, ex-M. P. for Leeds and Grenville, who was in the city yesterday, stated that out of the twenty-five seats in Eastern Ontario the Government could not count as a sure thing on carrying more than one. He would have no trouble in securing his own re-election, and the same can be said of Mr. Duncan McMartin, in Glengarry, who is making a very successful campaign. The two Ottawas would also be captured by the Opposition, and he repeated that not more than one county was safe for the ministry on the question of reciprocity in the eastern part of the Province of Ontario.

ANOTHER.

Mr. J. B. Picken, the veteran banker and Broker of St. James street, will vote against reciprocity. He is a Liberal.

Sparks From Sifton's Anvil

"For many years sheep were much cheaper in Canada than in the United States. During the last year or so they have been cheaper in the United States."

"We have our choice now of being commercially independent or commercially united with the United States, and we must make that choice." "I never saw such a preposterous proposition as this which leaves the Canadian farmer at the mercy of the whole world and then telling him that it was for his own benefit."

"We hold today the proudest position of any young nation on earth. By this treaty we are asked to turn from the path which leads to the capital of the empire and to make ourselves into a commercial appendage, a commercial dependency of the United States."

"The results of this trade agreement is said by the government supporters to be Laurier and larger kets. It will not be that, but it will be Laurier and smaller prices and larger trusts."

Some of Bourassa's Bewities

"Farmers must sell cheaper if you are to buy cheaper."

"The United States will take Canada, and the ancient Greeks took Troy."

"It is now time to take off liberal coats, clean them, and put them on again."

"Canada can use what Canada produces."

"Laurier is not opening the American market for Canadians, but Taft is opening the Canadian market for Americans."

"Canada is a nation under the crown. The scepter is in the hands of the people."

According to the dredgers' organs, Mr. Bourassa is now a serious menace to Canada. Yet it not so long ago that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was denigrating Mr. Bourassa on the floors of the House of Commons.

What Sir Wilfrid and the dredgers fear is that Bourassa may reduce Laurier's majority in Quebec and the fear seems to be well founded. Without a solid Quebec Laurier's case is hopeless, for the rest of the country is against him.

Certain Defeat for the Laurier Government Victory for Borden Everywhere Apparent

Tide running strong against Reciprocity. Special Despatch from headquarters at Ottawa.

Special reports received this week by Conservative Headquarters in Ottawa from every Constituency throughout Dominion strongly confirm opinion that a large majority of electors from Pacific to Atlantic oppose American Reciprocity Agreement and will defeat it on the twenty-first. The Farmers, the Business Men and the Wage Earners demand a trade policy made in Canada, by Canadians, and for Canadians, free from the control of the great American Trusts. Opposition in every Province by thoughtful Liberals to the Government's hastily made Reciprocity Agreement has grown rapidly, developing daily all over Canada.

The Opponents of Reciprocity are joining with Conservatives and will defeat Laurier Government decisively on Polling Day, and thus maintain present Prosperity and a Home Tariff for Canada.

Last night quite a commotion was caused at the People's Theatre by a number of the firemen leaving the hall—some of them rather hurriedly—responding to an alarm. For some time they have been notified of a fire slide and when passing the box office they were told the location. As the Theatre has telephone communication last night, for the first time in years, the alarm came in during intermission and when the audience saw some men leaving hurriedly, they stood to their feet. Some, who knew what but the audience were undecided for a short time, until the actor, Chas. J. Mitchell, realizing what was possible to happen down below him, with his customary presence of mind, started the show and with Mrs. Tomlin, who immediately proceeded to the piano, the show was in progress again. Miss Higgins on the first intimation of confusion immediately closed the large exit and standing there told the excited patrons that "it was only the firemen who were wanted." The manager is arranging with the chief to have a new signal to notify the men, instead of the red slide, and heretofore no signal will be given the firemen during intermission.

It may not be generally known that image of solid object thus reflected is as easily traced. This idea will be of special value to an inventor who finds it difficult to make a perspective drawing of his model or some intricate parts of it. This method will be found much less troublesome than making a photograph.

In making a tracing by this means it will be found of great advantage to have a bright light on the picture or object to be drawn and a piece of cardboard arranged to shade the drawing paper.

A drawing is more quickly and easily made by simply marking the intersections of the different lines, and directions of curvature etc., after which the rest of the picture may be filled in with the aid of a ruler. If a very thin glass is used the double image, due to refraction, will not be confusing.

THE INVALID'S TRAY.

Small quantities only should be placed before the invalid. The serving should be as dainty as possible. A sprig of parsley should be added to the appetizing appearance of any savory dish, and the variety should be as large as the prescribed diet will permit. Never let the patient feel faint for the want of food.

Do not consult the patient about meals if it can be avoided; an unexpected dish will sometimes create a relish for food. Beef tea and soups should always be free from grease. Warm food is more easily digested than cold. Everything should be the freshest procurable, particularly fish, milk and eggs. Glamorgan... 1 The figure of merit worked out on the basis adopted for garrison artillery was as follows: Canada, .988; Sussex, .715; North Scottish, .542; East Riding, .520; Dorset, .500; Glamorgan, .—

The team was commanded during the firing by Capt. Harris of Victoria, B. C., and his gun group commander was Lieutenant Oland, of Halifax. It was remarked that the homes of these two officers are further apart than Nova Scotia and the United Kingdom. Among those who attended the firing were: Col. Renouf, president of the Canadian Artillery Association; Col. MacNachtan, commandant of the Canadian artillery team; Col. Hurdman, Major McLaren, Major Ralston, all well known in Canadian artillery circles.

The London Standard speaking of the visit of the Canadian gunners says: It was in 1886 that the Canadian Militia Artillery first came to this country to take part in the competitions of the National Artillery association, and in 1886 they were assigned to England for the same purpose. The present visit may be regarded as a reply to the compliment paid by Canada to our own Volunteer Artillery, a detachment of which was invited to the Dominion some four years ago. It is now hoped that this interchange of courtesies may take place at more frequent and regular intervals, and it is known that the scheme has the hearty support of the Duke of Connaught, Canada's future Governor-General. Field guns have been sent to Chelsea barracks in order that the troops may not be without drill and gun practice. The Earl of Stabrooke is chairman of the reception committee in charge of the entertainment of the visitors, and among its other members are Colonel S. Wishart, who commanded the English artillerymen in Canada in 1917; the Lord Mayor, Field-Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, Lord Strathcona, the Earl of Denbigh, Major H. Vane Stow, Lieut.-Col. E. T. Shea (hon. secretary), and very prominent Territorial officers. The detachment consists of eight officers and 41 men.

CLEANING A SWEATER About this time the snowy white sweater purchased at the beginning of the summer is beginning to look a bit grimy and gray. It is much better to wash a sweater two or three times during a season than to allow it to become so soiled that a strenuous scrubbing will be necessary to make it white again. Make a strong lye of pure white soap and warm water, to which a little borax has been added, and souse the sweater up and down in this. Do not use washing soda, as this turns the wool yellow, and do not lift the sweater too high out of the water, the weight of which may drag the garment out of shape. The rinsing is most important. Five rinsings in clear water are none too many. Six or eight will be better still. Do not attempt to wring or twist the garment. Squeeze out all the water you can; wrap the sweater in a towel; place it on the floor and dance up and down on it until all the excess of water is out. Now spread it out flat on a clean sheet in the sun and let it dry. It will be beautifully soft, white and fleecy and will not have stretched out of shape.

"I reached nothing when the suggestion was made. At heart I felt acutely hurt. I felt that this newspaper man, not hesitating at deceiving the public in order to get a sensation, regarded me as a scoundrel. I was learning, too, as I had throughout the after-biter controversy, the duplicity of human nature."

"After a talk with Mr. Hampton, who finally arrived, and who, I am glad to say, had no such suggestion himself to offer, I got to work on my articles after the definite plan spoken of with Mr. Harry in London. I then set to writing, reaching the Hotel, in Newburgh. The articles finished, I returned to London to settle certain business matters prior to my public return to America by Christmas."

OH, HORRIBLE!

"Imagine my amazed indignation when, shortly before sailing, the cables brought the untrue news, 'Dr. Cook Confesses.' Imagine my heart-aching dismay when, on reaching the shores of my native country, I found the magazine which was carrying the articles in which I hoped to explain myself, had blazoned the sensation-provoking lie over its cover—'Dr. Cook's Confession.'"

"I had made no confession. I had made the confession that I was pro-Canadian as to having reached the exact mathematical Pole. That same admission Mr. Peary would have to make, had he been pinned down. He did make this admission, in fact, while his own articles, a year before, were being prepared in the Hampton office."

Although Dr. Cook's representatives are frank in saying that Dr. Cook's book contains the most sensational material of the entire Polar controversy, great secrecy is maintained concerning the nature of this. The charges made against Dr. Cook, they say, are not so startling as the revelations of fraudulent methods employed in the campaign to discredit him. Dr. Cook's book, it is said, cannot but create a tremendous sensation.

Dr. Cook intimates that Peary's proofs of having reached the Pole were altogether inadequate and not nearly so convincing as his own.

CLOSING STOCK PETCHER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The market quieted down today, the liquidation ceased and it moved throughout the five hours of trading in an erratic and irregular way. The opening was dull and rather heavy and before long traders made a drive at the market which forced prices down well below last night's close. There was not much liquidation, however, and prices quickly rebounded, getting up to or above the highest point touched yesterday. Stocks were supplied, however, on this advance and the market soon sagged off again. After that dullness and professionalism were the main characteristics. The tone on the whole throughout the afternoon was heavy and more declines than advances were shown on the day. The bulk of trading was confined to Reading, Steel and Union Pacific. Of these three, Reading showed the most resistance, its net change on the day being insignificant. The other two stocks both tended lower. Persistent reports continue to circulate of a large amount of stock being taken over at private sales yesterday and some big speculators being helped out. The foreign markets continue unsettled, but Europe was a buyer here today. The main purchases, however, were probably made from this side by way of Europe, and were undoubtedly in the line of short covering.
