REVIEW OF ROTARY CONVENTION

away from this visit, all too short to me, will be the number of men and women I have shaken hands with."

A concert by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, Henry Verbrughen conducting, with Jeanette Verbrughen, Soprano of the New York Symphony and Paul Althouse, Tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, furnished real enjoyment for the music lovers.

The programme was in keeping with the international character of the occasion and was designed to include representative compositions from as many nations as possible. Thus the opening march "Pomp and Circumstance" containing the production "Land of Hope and Glory" was written by Sir Edward Elgar and represented Great Britain. As an additional courtesy to the 176 delegates from the British Isles, Sir Dan Godfrey, conductor of the Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra and President of the Rotary Club of that city, was requested to conduct during this number.

Sir Dan received a thrilling ovation on taking charge and was required to render part of the number three times.

Representatives from Japan, China, France, Holland and Argentina and a score of lesser countries also addressed us briefly. Many of the speakers were of international fame. There is an utter lack of "High-Hatting" in Rotary and all in attendance met, fraternized and conversed on a basis of Friendship and equality that was refreshing and the source of keen enjoyment.

A "community Service" specialist has this to say: "Am I enthusiastically devoting a portion of my time, my talents, my energy, my enthusiasm and means toward some community activity? That is the real basis, the real measure, the real evidence of Rotary's contribution. It suggests the opportunity of Service to others, which, when rightly understood, develops a keep civic consciousness."

Another speaker said: "The place of a club in Community Service, is to develop the inclination of successful business and professional men to participate in the greatest game of life, by considering themselves parting the community a nicer place in which to live, a safer place to bring up little ones to lives of usefulness and honour, and a better place in which God will have the opportunity of doing His work."

Floyd A. Alton, Assistant to the President of General Motors Corporation outlined "The Individual Responsibility of the Professional and Business Man". He contrasted the general relations among business men with the system of ten years ago. Business now realizes that one of the most important assets is the employee. As long as big business continues to go ahead on that kind of a foundation of honesty, frankness and absolute fairness to everyone connected with the picture, so long is the future of big business safe, and they will continue to set a good example for other lines of business all over the world, establishing business everywhere on a same, sure and solid foundation.

The Canadian delegate who had a prominent place on the programme was Rotarian Norman Sommerville, Toronto, and his address on "Rotary International—Its Objectives from the viewpoint of a Rotarian" was received with enthusiasm. A high spot in his message was reached when he successfully explained the attitude of the King when he said: "Seventeen years ago today, at this hour, I heard the Archbishop of York at the Coronation in Westminster Abbey, preach from the text chosen by the King: 'I am among you as one who serves.' Thus the fallacies regarding the attitude, prerogatives and privileges of the Crown are rapidly being dispelled."

Thirteen thousand delegates and friends thronged the Auditorium on the occasion of the President's Ball. Two thousand or more danced at a time, under the varying lighting systems before described, bringing at times into bold relief the beautiful dresses and sparkling jewels of the ladies, presented a pleasing and rare spectacle. During the preliminary a band of music enlivened the proceedings, and when all had arrived, two fine orchestras took turns in furnishing music for dancing.

There was an idle moment during the whole evening. A crystal ball suspended on the stage, furnished reflected light to the most remote corner of the Auditorium as it swayed gently. During the waltz numbers the entire lighting effect was brought into play and the result was spectacular and unusual.

Chief Two Guns and his Blackfoot Braves, who were camped at Minnehaha Park, rushed into the arena at the stage of the proceedings and adopted President Sapp into the tribe. The Indians, dressed in their gaudy and coloured costumes entertained us with native dances for a short time.

The Resolutions will be published in due time. The following might be mentioned here: "To acknowledge the gracious recognition indicated by His Majesty King Albert, in accepting the Honourary Governorship of Rotary in Belgium (King Albert is a frequent attendant at club meetings). A similar resolution was passed regarding King Victor Emanuel of Italy. A resolution 'Looking to the securing of a permanent home for Headquarters of Rotary International in the city of Chicago.' The convention next year will be held at Dallas Texas. Tom Sutton of Mexico is the new President. Acquaintance at Rotary International matures very rapidly into fellowship and true friendship. No one could attend a conference without acquiring such a feeling towards a considerable group, carrying to our various clubs the message and spirit of Peace, Happiness and Good-will. To have represented this club at Rotary International was a real honour, to meet Rotarians from 44 countries of the world and become friendly with hundreds of them was a rare experience, to be loyal to Rotary and what it stands for should be more than ever, a pleasure and a duty. The guests present were Rotarian John Club; Rotarian Randolph Ben-turn the proceeds over to the Board.

Third, he leaves the impression that he worked on the farm continuously from the time he bought it in 1919 until he gave it up in 1928.

Fourth, he would lead the reader to believe that he more or less forced him to sign a Quit Claim and put him out of a home.

Fifth, that we sold the farm to a civilian at a price less than we were prepared to accept from him.

All of these insinuations are a direct misrepresentation of the facts. The first information we have on this farm is a statement which I have before me signed by Wilbert Arsenault stating that he has personally examined this farm and found that it was worth the price asked for and he made application for loan to purchase. The loan was granted and the settler established.

In 1923 he called a sale of the stock and equipment purchased for him by the Board and which he had paid anything on, and the Board collected the proceeds. At that time he offered us a Quit Claim to the place but we persuaded him to retain the place and pointed out to him that he required a home for his family and it would cost him as much to rent a place as it would to make the payments on this place. At that time he went to the States and promised to meet his payments from wages received. Payments were not made.

We carried him for four years while he used the place as a home only and did not make payments, and finally in 1928 we accepted a Quit Claim from him which he was prepared to give us four years previous to which he was now perfect-ly willing to give us and stated to us that he had another home to move his family into.

Regarding the price of the place, Arsenault did not make application for Revaluation which would indicate that he was satisfied with the price of the place or had no intention of repaying the loan. We accepted a loss on the resale of the place chiefly due to the fact that the property was very badly handled by Arsenault while he had possession of it, and at the time his account was placed in adjustment he was with one $802.52 in arrears in his payments.

These facts will show positively to an unbiased reader that we gave the settler every opportunity to make good and that we are no more responsible for his being in the States at the present time than we were for his being in the States in 1916 or in 1923. I may add that while Arsenault was perfectly willing to abandon the place and give us a Quit Claim we would have taken the same action provided he had not been willing, as the settler was not making an effort to make good on the land and the Island is outstanding in the Dominion for its good type of Soldier Settlers.

You have suggested in your footnote that this is a matter that should come before the local branch of the Canadian Legion. I am forwarding a copy of this letter to the Secretary of the Legion, and any further information that he may want, and there is plenty of evidence on file, we would be very glad to furnish it to the Legion.

I am, Sir, etc. W. A. McDOUGALL, District Superintendent.

P. E. I. Jersey Breeders Organize

Over 100 people gathered at the farm of Edgar Easter & Sons' North Wilshire on Friday, July 13 to attend the first Jersey field day ever held on the Island.

The programme started at 2:30 P. M., with Turner Glyden Margate in the chair. The first speaker was Jas. Bremner, Jersey Fieldman for Eastern Canada, who said that this was the 7th, Jersey field day for his district.

He briefly gave the history of the Jersey Cow and traced her Progress in Canada, until now the Jersey Association was the second largest dairy cattle association in the Dominion. The Jersey cow in the maritimes had received no recognition from any educational institution, and as had the other breeds, and called attention to the fact that nearly 25% of all the Ayrshire records made ever increasing demand for in the Maritimes were made on Experimental Farms and other educational institutions. But the Jersey cow was rising rapidly to the top in the estimation of the farmers.

EVERY TWO MINUTES OF EVERY BUSINESS DAY... SOMEONE IN CANADA BUYS A NEW GENERAL MOTORS CAR

SINCE the days of Confederation, General Motors of Canada Limited has been supplying Canada with transportation. Each year as requirements have multiplied, the scope of General Motors service has widened... the quality of General Motors cars has steadily improved. Each year more Canadians have looked to General Motors for better automobiles, until now, every two minutes of every business day, someone in Canada buys a new General Motors car.

These cars are bought by people you know... by people like yourself... for the very reasons which would guide you in the choice of a car. They are bought because they are the product of the most progressive organization in the world's most progressive industry... because they reflect the General Motors policy of constant advancement... because they are better cars...

They represent the latest developments of the world's leading automotive research laboratory, offering these developments to the public as soon as they become available. They are proved in advance, at the expense of General Motors, not the public. They are better cars because they are Canadian cars. And they embody greater value because of General Motors money-saving methods of quantity buying and volume production.

and community effort in general in judging Jersey cattle was given by He praised the Dairy cow, and hoped Mr. Bremner that farmers would not get so interested in potatoes that they would forget the dairy cow. He told to a day that will mean to the Jersey breeders on this famous Island, people of North Wilshire were much credit for the progress they were making, and complimented them on the success of their calf club in the past, and urged the older folks to get behind boys and girls club work and to give them every assistance. He was pleased to see such a large gathering, and strongly urged the Jersey Breeders to organize as the other breeders had done.

Following Mr. Shaw's inspiring address, the Prince Edward Island Jersey club was organized with the following officers:— President, Harold Stead, Charlottetown.
