

Westville Still In Win Column

Halifax Casinos Lose Two Straight In Series By Dropping Yesterday's Game 3 To 1.

(Canadian Press) WESTVILLE, N. S., Sept. 23.—Combining timely hitting with every break of the game behind Billy Richardson, Westville scored a three to one victory over Halifax Casinos here today, and needs only one more victory to clinch the Nova Scotia baseball crown. Richardson gave out eight hits in winning his second straight over the Halifax invaders, but was steady in the pinches. The home-eters were out hit, getting to "Bun" MacDonald, Casino's right hander, for only six bingles, but their field generalship was superior. Each team scored once in the first and Westville put over the winning runs in the sixth, Marshall driving in all three tallies. The teams meet a third time, in Halifax, on Friday, for the series right to meet St. Stephen Mohawks in the inter provincial series and go up against Prince Edward Island in the Maritime final.

ABBIES MAY HAVE TWO SQUADS

Football Practice At Victoria Park This Evening.

A senior and an intermediate football team from among the Abegweits is one of the projects at present being mooted in local sport circles. It is thought that sufficient material is available in the city for the formation of the two teams. Several practices have already been held and the old timers, apparently have lost none of their pep and punch. A practice will be held this evening at 5 o'clock at Victoria Park. It is hoped that in addition to all the members of last year's squad, a large number of others will be on deck.

EGMONT BAY

tal Farm spoke in glowing terms of the improvements in the showing of fruit and beans. The cranberries were much better than other years and would be hard to beat. He gave some excellent advice to the farmers in regard to pastures, advising fertilizing the grass and keeping it grazed close, which would produce more milk at less cost. When prices are low, to learn to produce cheaply was the essential point.

Rev. Theodore Gallant, Vice President of the Exhibition, congratulated the management and exhibitors on the splendid showing they had made.

Horses.—Mr. P. A. Horne, who judged this class, remarked on the splendid showing of foals, which would do credit to class "A" Fairs. The carriage foal in section 14 was a wonderful animal. All the carriage classes were above the average. The entries in all classes were much higher than the previous year.

Cattle.—This was judged by Mr. Roper. The outstanding exhibit was a dual purpose shorthorn calf. This calf owned by a young school-boy Master Charles Arsenault, was an excellent example to other breeders who could improve their stock by feeding along the same lines as this young man. There was also two very fine shorthorn bulls. More care in having the animals prepared for the show ring was the advice given to the owners of cattle. Many animals with good lines were disqualified on account of their poor appearance.

Sheep and Swine.—These classes were fair and the showing not as large as other years. The market lambs lacked finish, but in other respects showed up well. There was very little competition in the swine exhibit. Mr. F. F. Baird was the judge.

Poultry.—The poultry, judged by Mr. F. M. Nash, was an improvement over last year. The Plymouth Rocks were very fine. The Rhode Island Reds also showed up well. More competition in this department would bring better results.

Vegetables and Grain.—Mrs. J. Peppin, supervisor of the potato inspection service for the Island, judged the potatoes and praised the exhibit of Irish cobbler. Green mountains and McIntyres were up to the average, but could be improved for exhibition purposes. Mr. Parent and Mr. Clark judged the other classes and were delighted with the fine showing of grain and vegetables.

The ladies' department was judged by Mrs. Lebronn Tait, supervisor of the Women's Institute, Miss Jean Tait and Miss Hassard, assistant supervisors. This department was up to its usual high standard, the women of the district being noted for their skill in domestic science.

The ladies of Egmont Bay served an excellent dinner to those who came earlier in the day. There was a small exhibit of silver foxes.

Mountain farmers in Ireland say their potato crop this year is the smallest since 1879.

CELEBRATES 102ND BIRTHDAY IN CANADIAN HOME

AURORA, Ont., Sept. 22. (By the Canadian Press)—Born in 1829, Mrs. Jane Chapelle celebrated her 102nd birthday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Emily Lawson, Armistage, near Aurora. Beside her when the 102 candles were lighted were her three living sisters, Mrs. Arsh Ann Woolven, 84; Mrs. Carolina Moody, 89; Mrs. Lawson, 79; and one of her two living brothers, Albert McMann, 72.

As a girl she recalls following the plow for many long hours, and she says in those dim days of the past, a hard day's work of 12 hours was regarded with no more disdain by women folk than washing the dishes today. Mrs. Chapelle's husband predeceased her 44 years. The most of her years were spent in the village of Creemore, where she resided for 65 years. The rest of her 102 years were spent almost entirely in King township.

Mrs. Chapelle has no quarrel with the girls today. "I'd want as many clothes for bed as the average girl wears today," she said naively. "You can't blame the men folk for being bold these days with the way the girls dress," she declared. "If I was a girl I would not want to dress like that."

"Nothing looks nicer than bobbed hair," she said, when this modern trend came up for discussion. "The only time I ever went out with

SPRINT TEAM FOR 1932 SHAPES WELL

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 23.—Selectors of Canada's 1932 women's team for the Los Angeles Olympics may have their worries but picking a strong sprint section won't be one of them. The rest is not likely to be such a heartening job.

At least half a dozen girls flash flying feet at Wetaskiwin, Alta., during the Canadian championships earlier this month and any one of them might develop by next year into an international star. Two, in particular, stood out as sprinters of exceptional ability, apparently already ripe for competition in any company. But Wetaskiwin failed to produce a single field performer of better than ordinary rating. There seems to be no successor to versatile Fanny Rosenfeld.

Three sprinters stand today as top-heavy favorites to make places on the Dominion's Olympic team. They are Mrs. Myrtle Cook-McGowan, of Montreal, Lillian May, of Montreal, and Beatrice Gillespie, of Edmonton. The present season has made Miss May and Miss Gillespie champions—successors to Mrs. Cook McGowan for the time being, at least. Winner of the three Canadian sprint titles a year ago, Mrs. Cook McGowan let them go by default and her fleet protegee, Miss May, captured the only two she tried for.

Miss Gillespie, who came to the Wetaskiwin meet totally unheralded, went away with the intermediate 60 and 100 metre titles and a powerful yen to wear a Maple Leaf at the next Olympiad. Her triumphs were as impressive as those of Miss May in the senior class. Her 100 metre win, a record equalling affair, was staged in faster time than Miss May managed in capturing the open century. Miss Gillespie ran the distance in 12 3/5 seconds, one-fifth of a second better than the Montreal mis clocked.

Not far behind the two met leaders were three easterners and a second Edmonton star, who may turn the tables by next spring. Elsie Proctor, Ottawa's 15 year old sensation, was beaten by Miss Gillespie, but the fair-haired, frail little speedster may easily become her superior. Josephine Laba, of Halifax, N. S., another who could not match strides with the Edmonton flash, is a potential champion.

Mary Vandervelt, of New Liskear, Ont., was only beaten by inches in the senior 100 metres final and took second in the 200. Untrained and a poor starter, the northern Ontario girl's future depends on the sort of coaching she is able to obtain. Edmonton's second-best threat is Charlotte Daws, who won the senior 60 metres at Wetaskiwin.

Miss Daws took the 60 metres Canadian record from Mrs. Cook-McGowan, running the dash in 7 3/5 seconds. Miss May relieved the former champion of her 200 metre mark. But Mrs. Cook-McGowan will be back next summer for the Olympic-year track battles and it is expected Lillian Palmer, of Vancouver, winner of the intermediate sprints in 1930, also will make a comeback. Miss Palmer did not defend her titles in the Alberta meet.

Unless Ethel Catherwood shows a surprising reversal of form the Dominion's field squad will lack most of its point-scoring punch. Miss Catherwood, Olympic champion at Amsterdam in 1928, and unbeaten since she flared out of Saskatoon five years ago to become the "Saskatoon Lily" until the Wetaskiwin championships, took a beating by Mona Wade, of Medicine Hat, Alta., and Jessie Gilles, of Calgary.

Miss Wade won the high jump at four feet, 10 1-2 inches—five inches under Miss Catherwood's world record. But her supporters believe the Medicine Hat athlete can do better. Miss Catherwood was not in good condition, being handicapped by an injured knee. She retained her javelin throw title, but the Toronto beauty is not rated a strong Olympic threat with the pole.

Outstanding in weight events, Jean Godson, of Toronto, may carry what hopes Canada has in the shot put and baseball throw to California. Her 31-foot toss in the shot put is far from the best she can do. But Miss Godson will not be able to replace Miss Rosenfeld, sprinter, weight-thrower, broad-jumper and hurdler. The Dominion at the moment doesn't seem to have even a group of athletes capable of replacing the Toronto ace.

In the event of a fifth game being necessary it must be played on neutral grounds, and this year Moncton or Springfield have been named as neutral territory. However, in the event of a team winning the three first games of the series, a fourth must be played as an exhibition game and the gate receipts of the second and fourth games split fifty-fifty of the net. In the event of rain the game must be played on the following day.

SERIES FOR MARITIME TITLE MUST CONSIST OF 5 GAMES RULES SAY

For the information of those who are following with interest the Maritime baseball playdowns, it is well to point out that, according to Article 13, of that section of the by-laws of the Maritime Province Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada passed at the last annual meeting held in Charlottetown last October, governing baseball playdowns, the final series for the Maritime championship must consist of five games.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

BY "TEC."

WESTVILLE LOOKS GOOD

The Westville Miners, although enjoying slight edges in their present series with Halifax Casinos, look good at the present time to cop the Nova Scotia baseball championship and a play-off berth with St. Stephen Mohawks for the N. B. N. S. title and the right to meet Abegweits in the final Maritime playdowns.

Yesterday the "Miners" took a strong hold on the Nova Scotia hunting by trouncing Casinos 3 to 1 for their second straight win in as many games. In order to come out on top, the Halifax club must win the three remaining games as the series is best three out of five.

According to C. J. Gillespie, Maritime President, the series must be finished this week which means that the battling teams must work every day without rest in order to finish on "schedule."

Jack Johnson was the last colored boxer to hold the world's title and since he was dethroned by Jess Willard on Cuban soil all the champions have drawn the color line with neatness and despatch. Riot that followed Johnson's victory over Jim Jeffries, in 1910, upon Johnson's conduct when champion secured promoters on mixed bouts the late Tex Rickard leading the way.

In vain have millionaires like Harry Williams, George Godfrey and Gains clamored for recognition. They just can't get a hearing. Jimmy Dougherty, Godfrey's manager, avers that he will guarantee Max Schmeling $200,000 to meet the huge "Lepel-ville Leopard," but he can't even get a reply.

Jack Johnson was the only man of his race, who ever won the title and a Canadian, Tommy Burns gave him the chance to reach the top. Had Johnson acted the way Joe Gans, the great lightweight, did other colored boxers might not have been adored, but this is open to question.

The Belmont Futurity, the richest race for two-year-olds in the world, had a gross value of $13,800 on Saturday last. The riches were distributed as follows: Top Flight (C. V. Whitney), $94,780; Mad Pursuit (W. J. Salmon), $7,800; Morfair (Dorwood Stable), $4,400; and Pompeius (W. R. Coe), $1,000 while the breeders of the first three netted $3,000, $2,000 and $1,000, respectively.

Top Flight is the tenth filly to win the Futurity and she has earned almost as much in six races as Princess Doreen did in thirty four over six seasons of racing. Her earnings are $162,830.

Twenty Grand was also in the limelight on Saturday at Belmont Park. He was a galloping winner of the Jockey Club Gold Cup and added $10,400 to his money record. His total earnings are now $259,925.
