Bundle hesitated for a minute. "There was a man shot yesterday," she said slowly. "I thought I had run over him—"

"Mr. Ronald Devereux?"

"You know about it, of course. Why has there been nothing in the papers?"

"Do you really want to know that, Lady Eileen?"

"Yes, please."

"Well, we just thought we should like to have a clear twenty-four hours—see? It will be in the papers tomorrow."

"Oh!" Bundle studied him, puzzled.

What was hidden behind that immovable face. Did he regard the shooting of Ronald Devereux as an ordinary crime or as an extraordinary one?

"He mentioned Seven Dials when he was dying," said Bundle slowly.

"Thank you," said Battle. "I'll make a note of that."

Ashamed of his wife!

there is seldom enough bulk to properly do this work. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

No need for pills

How much better is ALL-BRAN than habit-forming drugs and laxatives—whose dose you must constantly increase to keep effective. ALL-BRAN works as nature intended. A pleasant cereal that provides vital roughage. Eat it with milk or cream. Add fruits or honey. Sprinkle it into soups. Mix it with other cereals. Cook with it. Recipes on package.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls in some form daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Every woman can help her family to better health by adopting its regular use.

But don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. Get Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants—on diners. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

Why ALL-BRAN is necessary

To relieve constipation naturally, the system must get plenty of bulk or roughage. ALL-BRAN furnishes this bulk in generous quantity. Here is what happens: It absorbs moisture and carries it through the intestines—exercising them, gently sweeping out poisonous wastes. In a part-bran product

MOONLIGHT EPISODE

They sat in silence on the beach; She was a somewhat ancient beauty, He shut her eyes, this ancient miss, Expecting him to steal a kiss. But his was unheroic ally, And so he merely stole away.

ONLY AN AMATEUR

He wrote a few words on the blotting pad in front of him. Bundle started on another tack. "Mr. Lomax, I understand, came to see you yesterday about a threatening letter he had had."

"He did."

"And that was written from Seven Dials?"

"It had Seven Dials written at the top of it, I believe."

Bundle felt as though she was battering hopelessly on a locked door.

"If you'll let me advise you, Lady Eileen—"

"I know what you're going to say."

"I should go home and—well, think no more about these matters."

"Leave it to you, infant?"

"Well," said Superintendent Battle, "after all, we are the professionals."

"And I'm only an amateur? Yes, but you forget one thing—I mayn't have your knowledge and skill—but I can work an advantage over you. I can have in the dark."

She thought that the superintendent seemed a little taken aback, as though the force of her words struck home.

"Of course," said Bundle, "if you won't give me a list of secret societies—"

"Oh! I never said that. You shall have a list of the whole lot."

He went to the door, put his head through and called out something, then came back to his chair. Bundle, rather unreasonably, felt baffled. The ease with which he acceded to her request seemed to her suspicious. He was looking at her now in a placid fashion.

"Do you remember the death of Mr. Gerald Wade?" she asked abruptly.

"Down at your place, wasn't it? Took an overdraft of sleeping mixture."

"His sister says he never took things to make him sleep."

SECRET SOCIETIES

"Superintendent Battle, could you give me a list of secret societies that have their headquarters in Seven Dials?"

It was Superintendent Battle's boast that he had never been seen to display emotion. But Bundle could have sworn that just for a moment his eyelids flickered and he looked taken aback. Only for a moment, however. He was his usual wooden self as he said:

"Strictly speaking, Lady Eileen (there's no such place as Seven Dials nowadays.)"

"No?"

"No. Most of it is pulled down and rebuilt. It was rather a low quarter once, but it's very respectable and high class nowadays. Not at all a romantic spot to poke about in for mysterious secret societies."

"Oh!" said Bundle, rather non-plussed.

"But all the same I should very much like to know what put that neighborhood into your head, Lady Eileen."

"Have I got to tell you?"

"Well, it saves trouble, doesn't it? We know where we are so to speak."

TROUBLE AHEAD

"Ah!" said the superintendent. "You'd be surprised what a lot of things there are that sisters don't know."

Bundle again felt baffled. She sat in silence till a man came in with a typewritten sheet of paper, which he handed to the superintendent.

"Here you are," said the latter when the other had left the room. "The Wolf Hounds, The Comrades of Peace, The Comrades Club, The Friends of Oppression, The Children of Moscow, The Red Standard Bearers, The Herrings, The Comrades of the Fallen—and half a dozen more."

He handed it to her with a distinct twinkle in his eye.

"You give it to me," said Bundle, "because you know it's not going to be the slightest use to me. Do you want me to leave the whole thing alone?"

"I should prefer it," said Battle. "You see—if you go messing round all these places—well, it's going to give you a lot of trouble."

"Looking after me you mean?"

"Looking after you, Lady Eileen."

Bundle had risen to her feet. Now she stood undecided. So far the honors lay with Superintendent Battle. Then she remembered one slight incident, and she based a last appeal upon it.

"I said just now that an amateur could do some things which a professional couldn't. You didn't contradict me. That's because you're an honest man, Superintendent Battle. You know I was right."

"Go on," said Battle quietly.

"At Chimneys you let me help. Won't you let me help now?"

Battle seemed to be turning the thing over in his mind. Emboldened by his silence, Bundle continued.

"You know pretty well what I'm like, Superintendent Battle. I butt into things. I'm a Nosey Parker I don't want to get in your way or to try and do things that you're doing and can do a great deal better. But if there's a chance for a amateur, let me have it."

Again there was a pause, and then Superintendent Battle said quietly:
