Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick W. Brown and little son, Junior, motored to their home in Peabody, Mass., after spending a pleasant vacation in Maple Plains, with Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Smith. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCarville, and Mrs. Ambrose Kelly.

LOVING TRIBUTE.—Miss Sarah Kellow of Charlottetown placed an exquisite bouquet of white lilies and maiden hair fern in the Cornwall United Church on Sunday, Sept. 14th in memory of the Kellow family, the sons of James and Euphemia Kellow John Charles and George, the daughter Anna Bill. Loving hands placed upon the altar a sweet and fragrant memorial to the loved one gone on before to the city of God. This is one of many splendid gifts given by Miss Kellow to Cornwall Church in memory of her beloved relatives. Beautiful flowers are nature's gifts to us, what finer use can they have than to remind us of bright and fragrant lives who have their place in the garden of God.—Com.

Prominent Athlete Returns to City

In these days when we read so much of successful Islanders abroad, it is the exception, rather than the rule to read of a successful Islander returning to his native province, writes a correspondent. This time however we have the exception. The latest arrival is one who is well known here especially in Athletic Circles, namely Neil "Tiny" Matheson. "Tiny" was formerly a valued member of the Abegweit Club as a football player and also competent with Y. M. C. A. and Charlottetown fireman in track and field meets. It will be remembered that he was one of the latter's hose and reel team that made a new world's record in the Tournament here in 1925. "Tiny" spent the past year years at Mt. Allison University, Sackville, where he received his degree of Bachelor of Arts last May, after a very colorful career there. During his four years of undergraduate life there he was a very prominent figure in campus activities. He served for four years as a member of the First Football Fifteen and a like period on the Mounties Track Field Squad, being Captain of the latter for two years. In his Senior year competing for his Alma Mater for the last time, he was successful in creating a new record in the Discus Throw at the Maritime Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet at Wolfville last May. Besides this he captained his class team to victory for three successive years besides being high individual point winner for the University for two years.

GRUNER-MULLALLY, NUPTIALS

The following wedding copied from the Montreal Star of Sept. 10th, will be of special interest here as Dr. Mullally referred to is a native of Souris where Miss Mullally has visited on several occasions. The Star also contained an exquisite picture of the happy young bride in her wedding dress.

The marriage of Jessie Rosalie, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Emmet J. Mullally, to Mr. Malcolm Hamilton Gruner, B.Sc., only surviving son of Dr. and Mrs. O. Cameron Gruner, of London, England, took place in St. Patrick's Church, at half-past nine o'clock this morning. Rev. Father Gerald MoShane, pastor of St. Patrick's, who married the bride's parents twenty-four years ago, celebrated mass and performed the marriage ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. Father Emmet Rogers, of New York, cousin of the bride. Miss Bessie Harpell, of Sen.ville, sang an Ave Maria during the ceremony she was accompanied by Dr. Balogh, organist of St. Patrick's. The church was artistically decorated with palms, purple asters, and vari-colored gladioli, the altar and sanctuary having large bouquets of flowers with a background of palms. Tall baskets of flowers decorated the main aisle of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding dress of Mechlin lace over chiffon, and flat crepe. The bodice was modelled in plain lines with V-shaped neck, the sleeves long and tight-fitting, the skirt extending into a long circular train; the veil, caught closely to the head, being of plain tulle. It was caught on one side by a spray of orange blossoms which had been worn by her mother at her wedding. The bride wore ivory crepe slippers and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. James McAshey, of Toronto, formerly of Montreal, wore a gown of peach colored taffeta, the skirt very full reaching to the ground, the jacket of the same material with a circular frill. The bridesmaids, the Misses Patricia and Miss Ellen Mullally, sisters of the bride, were dressed alike in peach colored taffeta, made long and full, with bolero jackets and elbow length sleeves. All three wore brown velvet hats and shoes to match. They carried brightly colored nosegays. Mr. John Charbonol, of Montreal, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Gordon M. Kelly and Mr. James Emmet Mullally, a brother of the bride.

THE WIFE SHIP WOMAN

You care to tell me just what you propose doing?" "I will work," she muttered, staring down at the ground and digging her slim fingers into the forest-mold. "Work is honorable, but in some English colonies slaves do the work, or indentured servants. Work is honorable for a wife, however." "I am not a wife, however." "You shall be if you care to say the word," I promptly declared. "Nay, do not be alarmed. I shall never bring this matter up again. I make you this offer to relieve your mind of any anxiety. As my wife you will not be questioned, nor will you have too labor with slaves indentured servants." Up came her head, her gaze haughtily returning mine. In a low even voice she coldly informed me: "When I found my faith at the brook, I also found some of my pride. Monsieur has made a great mistake. "I am afraid I have," I muttered, dazed by the unexpected outcome of what cool reason would tell me was an unwise honor.

GLEANINGS FROM TRYON

Mr. John A. Patterson, of Somerville, Mass., arrived in Tryon on Monday evening having returned home with friends. Her many friends in Tryon are delighted to see Mrs. Patterson again in her old home town, where she lived until two years ago, when they sold their farm in Tryon and moved to U. S. A. She plans returning to her home the middle of next week.

The School Fair, which was held in Tryon on Friday, Sept. 12th, in which the following schools, Tryon, North Tryon and Augustine Cove took part, proved to be a very successful one. A large number of people were in attendance to view the exhibits and enjoy the sports, which were managed in an efficient manner by "Dad" Lyman, of Tryon. The exhibits were up to their usual high standard, if not better than last year.

Mr. Charles Harvey and Master Lloyd, of Crapaud, motored to Summerside on Tuesday.

The reception following the marriage ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, 2021 Union avenue, the decorations being carried out in a profusion and variety of garden flowers.

THE WIFE SHIP WOMAN

But what the devil had pride to do with it? In a rush of memory I saw her standing wan and friendless on the sands of Ship Island. I remembered her misrepresentation of how she came to sail for Louisiana. I recalled my conviction that soft hands and poverty were a poor dowry for a girl to bring to one not assured as to her history. And I had actually offered her marriage under the spell of the morning and because of a vagrant impulse to complete her belief in her medicine—her faith. (To be Continued)
