—Frank Perry, who was the victim of an accident in the woods at Red Bank, passed through the city this morning en route to his home in Tignish, P. E. I. Mr. Perry was at work in the woods as a chopper for Murdock Sutherland, with head camp at Red Bank, near Newcastle. Yesterday afternoon in the act of felling a big birch, the axe glanced, and struck his foot between the toes. The axe tore its way about half way through the man's foot, and he was rendered almost unconscious by the loss of blood. The men immediately hitched up a team, and conveyed him to Newcastle, where Dr. Sproul, attended to his injuries. He was told that it would be at least six months before he would be able to walk without crutches, and the unfortunate man, very much disheartened, went home today. He is unmarried, and about 26 years of age.—Moncton Exc.

—The enterprise of the firm of R. T. Holman, Ltd., Summerside, is too well known in this Province to need further praise, but the latest addition to their already comprehensive catalogue cannot but be commended, as it covers ground that is especially interesting at this season of the year. One section covers fall and winter goods and gives a splendid idea of all the lines carried and is illustrated with photographs which tell exactly the style of the articles described and thus the mail order can be made just as well as if the shop was visited. The other section, devoted to groceries, is also most comprehensive. It includes everything imaginable from the smallest article to the largest, and from it can be ordered all the household requisites with the greatest ease and assurance. A section is also devoted to Christmas shopping and in it can be found many suggestions for this busy season which will make it well worth perusal. Those who do not receive this catalogue should drop the firm a card and secure one by return mail.

The deceased was a bright and promising young man, much thought of by all who knew him. Some eight years ago he took the Gov'r General's medal in the Summerside High School and later received a first class teacher's license from the Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown. He left for the west about five years ago and for a while he engaged in rteaching. He later took up the study of medicine and when near the road to success death overtook him. He was twenty-nine years of age. Besides the sorrowing father and mother, three brothers and two sisters are left to mourn. The Guardian joins with the many friends of the deceased and his family in extending sympathy in their hour of bereavement.—S.

WOMEN JURORS ARE NOW BARRED.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 25—Attorney General U. S. Webb today related that women cannot serve as jurors in this city, the question having been raised as a result of the success of the equal suffrage constitutional amendment.

"Under the common law," said Webb, a jury consists of twelve free and lawful men and under the same law women were not eligible to jury duty. I don't understand that the suffrage has effected the question of eligibility for jury service."

NOVELIST LOSES LIFE CARING FOR HER MOTHER

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The death from exhaustion of Miss Avis Smith Jackman, novelist and short story writer, was announced here today. She died late yesterday at her home on Madison Avenue, after having nursed her mother who is ill with pneumonia, day and night, until the crisis of the sickness was passed safely. Although Miss Jackman was a prolific writer, and wrote successful, once, she died penniless, and a charitable organization will have charge of the funeral, and take care of the mother and sister.

DUTIES ON COAL TO BE REIMPOSED.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24—With the settlement of the western coal strike the government has lost no time in again imposing the coal operators' protective tariff, which was remitted on July 31st last by the late government.

An extra of the Canada Gazette announces that the duties on coal entered for consumption in eastern British Columbia and the prarie provinces will be restored on December 6 next.

The fuel shortage in the west consequent upon the long duration of the strike has not yet been made up, and western members of parliament are complaining that the remission of the duties should have been continued for at least a month or so longer.
