Sheep Breeders' Attention

All applications for bonus on newly established sheep flocks must be presented to the Prince Edward Island Department of Agriculture on or before Saturday, November 21st. Forms may be received on application to the above Department.

In order to qualify, sheep must not have been kept on the farm during the past winter and up to the time the new flock unit purchase has been made this fall. At least five suitable breeding ewes or ewe lambs must be purchased.

P.E.I. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Hold C.G.I.T. Conference Over-Week-End

A very successful C.G.I.T. Conference was held at North Wiltshire over the week-end. It was sponsored by the Prince Edward Island Girl's Work Board under the direction of the President, Mrs. L. M. Murray, Hunter River.

The Conference opened on Friday evening with a banquet in the North Wiltshire Hall given by the ladies of the United Church. A sing-song followed led by Rev. L. M. Murray. Mrs. Murray acted as toastmistress. The toast to the King was honored by the singing of the National Anthem. A toast to the Church was proposed by Miss Jessie Leard, Tryon and after singing "The Church's One Foundation" was responded to by Rev. Ward MacLean, Tryon. A toast to the C.G.I.T. Movement was proposed by Mrs. Roy Vessey, Hampton and responded to by Mrs. I. Judson Levy, Charlottetown. The evening session was held in the United Church and presided over by the President, Mrs. L. M. Murray. A very fine worship service was led by girls of the Hampton and Victoria C.G.I.T. Groups. Mrs. Murray gave a very inspiring and challenging address, taking as her Theme, "I would be True."

On Saturday the opening worship service was conducted by Mrs. Levy. Something of the insignia, purpose and work of the C.G.I.T. Movement throughout Canada was explained to the girls. Literature in connection with the work was also on display.

The officers were elected by the girls as follows: President, Jean Duvar, Montague; Vice-President, Maylea Boswell, Victoria; Secretary, Madge Thomas, Victoria. A Resolutions Committee was composed of Frances Clow, Hampshire; Nellie Clemens, Montague; Elsie Casford, Charlottetown.

The girls were divided into four groups and had a period of Bible Study under the leadership of Mrs. Vessey, Mrs. Murray, Miss Leard and Mrs. Levy. On Saturday afternoon the girls enjoyed a hike, and then returned to the church. The reports of the study groups were given and the conference was brought to a close by a very impressive worship service, conducted by the leaders.

There were forty-one girls and four leaders registered from ten different centres. This was the first Conference of this kind to be held in Prince Edward Island for some years, and was considered very successful.

The Kirk Of St. James

Preaching Sunday morning from the Kirk pulpit in commemoration of the men of the congregation whose lives had been sacrificed in war, the Minister, Ft. Lieut. the Rev. T. H. Bussell Somers, took as his text Hebrews 11:16 'But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly; wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for He hath prepared for them a city" and said in part: "Our text really means 'God is very proud to be called their God" Sentence after sentence in this chapter brings almost a choking sob of emotion. None more than this sentence. God has eyes. He watches men as they journey through the earth. Some breathe only for the sake of breathing, giving the mystery of breath no second thought, until the blows are worn and breath fails; and some clutch at the prizes of earth as though earth were their only destiny; and some drive their fellows cruelly with a whip of swords. Then God is ashamed of His own name—like a father whose sons have made their home a byword and a scandal. We rail on God, when if we were wise and pitying, we would wonder how God can live in such deep agony. What does God think of a Quisling in Norway, a cheap 'ward-heeler' in some politics-ridden city or some cleric like Gerard Roussel. This latter lived in the age of Zwingli, but lacked courage to join the Reformation in which secretly he believed. Instead he cited all the adversaries, the bishops, the doctors, the universities, the populace, the parliament —and wrote: "What shall a little man do against so many lions?" God made that man in God's own image. What does God think of him? God is cut to the quick with shame: the family name is disgraced."

The Rotary Club Of Charlottetown

(By R. H. ROGERS, President)

Paul P. Harris, the beloved President Emeritus of our world wide organization, builded better and greater than he knew when in the spirit of friendliness and good fellowship he invited a few of his acquaintances to meet with him in a social get-together each week; for out of such a small beginning has grown the mighty movement which we know as Rotary International.

That was in February, 1905. The little company grew in numbers and became organized. Other clubs were formed upon the same pattern. Slowly at first, and then at a steadily accelerating rate, their numbers increased. Twelve years later there were over three hundred clubs in the United States and Canada; and in October, 1917, the three hundred and thirty-third was chartered in this city of Charlottetown. Today there are over 5000 clubs with about 210,000 members.

Tonight we celebrate the silver jubilee of our club. It may be of interest to relate a few facts connected with the institution and development of this the premier service club of the city.

Mr. W. Harry Tidmarsh was impressed with the need of an association for our young business men in which they might co-operate in efforts for community welfare, and obtain practice in public speaking. Hearing of the Rotary clubs, and thinking such an organization might afford the solution of his problem, he went to considerable trouble to obtain information by correspondence and visited Halifax to study the working of the Rotary Club there. Thoroughly satisfied with what he had learned he discussed the project of organizing a Rotary Club in Charlottetown with Messrs. W. A. Stewart, H. M. VanBuskirk and Walter S. Grant. They entered heartily into the plan; other citizens were interviewed, full information concerning the Rotary movement and its methods was obtained, the co-operation of Halifax Rotarians was given enthusiastically, and on the evening of September 6th, 1917, an informal dinner party was held at the Kozy Korner Tea Rooms, which resolved itself into a temporary association to apply for a charter as a Rotary Club. This meeting was addressed by two prominent Rotarians from Halifax, Dr. R. A. McRae, then governor, and Mr. C. J. Burchill, past governor, of the eighteenth International District. The Charlottetown men present, all of whom enthusiastically pledged their support, were as follows: W. H. Tidmarsh, Dr. A. B. Reid, E. G. Saunders, Arch Irwin, F. T. Watkis, A. A. Pomeroy, W. A. Stewart, J. A. Clark, Prof. J. E. McLarty, C. H. Chandler, G. S. Inman, J. O. Hyndman, Walter S. Grant, H. M. VanBuskirk, Dr. I. J. Yeo, J. A. Webster, J. R. Burnett, R. H. Jenkins, C. H. Black.

Second Meeting

A week later a second meeting was held. The report of the membership committee, adding the names of A. W. Hyndman and F. J. Nash to those previously mentioned, was approved; a constitution and bye-laws, based on the model set furnished by the International Association, were adopted; it was resolved to apply immediately for affiliation with the International Association of Rotary Clubs, and the following officers were elected: W. H. Tidmarsh, President, H. M. VanBuskirk, Vice-President, W. S. Grant, Secretary, W. A. Stewart, Treasurer, J. R. Burnett, A. A. Pomeroy and J. O. Hyndman, Directors, J. E. McLarty, Sergeant-at-Arms.

The first mid-day luncheon of the Club was held on September 20th. On Nov. 8th the institution meeting of the Rotary Club of Charlottetown, No. 333, was held. No less than fourteen members of the Halifax Club were present including District Governor Dr. D. A. McRae. The charter was formally presented. Rotarian Prof. H. L. Stewart of Halifax delivered an eloquent address on the principles of Rotary and the District Governor and several other visitors also spoke on phases of Rotary activity. Premier (now Mr. Justice) Arsenault, and the United States Consul, Mr. W. A. Pierce, made eloquent speeches, heartily endorsing the principles of Rotary.

From that date to this, Rotary Club No. 333 has carried on with unabated enthusiasm and with ever-growing consciousness of the great Rotary mission. Our club has always sent well-qualified representatives to speak and act for us at International Conventions and District Conferences and Assemblies. Members of this club have taken an active and influential part in the work of those higher Rotary bodies, with the result that they have been honoured by being called to exalted positions in the institution. Not less than four of our members have served as District Governor. As early as 1919 Rotarian the late George S. Inman was elected as Governor of the District. During his incumbency the Rotary Club of Moncton was constituted and a number of our members assisted in the inaugural ceremonies. In the same year out club acted for the first time as hosts to the District Conference which was very successfully carried out here in May, 1920.

In the year 1922 Rotarian Walter S. Grant, another charter member of this club, was chosen District Governor.

Later, in 1935 Rotarian Percy W. Turner and again in 1939, Rotarian Dr. J. A. Clark, held this high office. Mr. Turner and Dr. Clark have served on the Canadian Advisory Committee of Rotary International, the latter as Chairman. Dr. Clark acted as Chairman of the Agricultural Section of Vocational Craft Assemblies at the last two International Conventions and has been a member of the Election Arrangements Committee and the Nominating Committee for International President.

On two other occasions the District Conferences was held here, namely, in 1932 and 1939.

The membership of the club has usually numbered between fifty and sixty business and professional men of Charlottetown. A distinctive feature of Rotary is the principle of classification. The principle is that each craft or vocation,—business, professional, or institutional,—is represented in the club by one person only, who is required to be a leader in his vocation. There are a few slight modifications of this principle, but in the main it is strictly applied in the selection of members, these being admitted not upon their own application but by the invitation of the club. The club is therefore, as Rotarians are wont to express it, a cross-section of the business, professional and institutional life of the community. In Charlottetown, where the variety of business enterprise, especially in manufacturing, is somewhat limited, the classifications of potential Rotary membership are correspondingly few, and this fact has tended to keep our numbers down. At present, the membership is sixty-one. In recent years the policy has been to select young men; for though there is no age limit it is recognized that Rotary must be made up of men in the full tide of their careers.

At the weekly meetings of the club held at the Charlottetown Hotel on Mondays at one o'clock, luncheon is partaken of and matters of business are dealt with, here is much singing; grace before meat, sung by the members at the opening; a stanza of the National Anthem in honouring the toast to the King; "O Canada" at the close; and between courses several numbers conducted by an official song leader. After the luncheon there is an address of about half an hour. The club has been successful in securing the services of many excellent speakers including some of real eminence. Travellers, scholars, politicians, authors, clergymen, businessmen and others, visitors to our city, have brought a great variety of messages to the Rotary Club. Many members of the club as well as citizen non-members have also from time to time been heard in this popular forum. The wealth of information and inspiration thus brought to Rotarians inevitably exerts a broadening and illuminating influence, and is one of the chief values attached to membership. At times when a programme of special importance is being carried out, the members of the other service clubs are invited to attend. On several occasions in the past when large numbers of farmers foregathered in the city to take part in the activities of Farmers' Week, they were entertained at luncheon by the club, and these meetings proved exceedingly interesting and delightful to all present.

Socrates and Rotary

It was said of Socrates that he brought philosophy down from the sky to the earth, by transferring the emphasis from speculation about the universe, — what it was made of and how it came to exist, — to a critical examination of what was good and bad in human conduct. Rotary goes another step. It would make of ethics not only a theory but a procedure. Rotary is not interested in the speculations of the recluse. It seeks to establish amid the hurly burly of day by day living a directing principle which shall guide men's conduct. The great object of Rotary's existence is to promote the realization of the ideal of service. Early in its history it adopted the slogan "He profits most who serves best." Later, lest the mention of profit should be thought to import a mercenary motive, it gave precedence to the formula "Service before Self." The object of Rotary in its four main aspects is formally set forth as follows:

The objects of Rotary are to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service.
2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society.
3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life.
4. The advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service."

It would take too much space to record the numerous enterprises undertaken by the Rotary Club for the public benefit during the past twenty-five years. Merely to name but a few of these, one might mention a boys' camp conducted for several years, a bathing house for boys erected at Victoria Park, and more recently the promotion of the Air Cadet organization and financial aid to this corps and to that of the Sea Cadets. During several years a prize of $25. was given annually to encourage the study of elementary agriculture by boys and girls entering Prince of Wales College. For the past decade, however, he major undertaking of the club has been the annual Rotary Radio Auction whereby funds amounting to nearly $20,000. Have been raised for the support of the Red Cross work for crippled children. This effort has aided materially in financing the clinics conducted by Rotarian Dr. T. B. Acker of Halifax, and the treatment prescribed by him; and by these means a large number of children who without such help would have been doomed to lifelong incapacity or serious handicap, have had deformities and other defects corrected and have thus been enabled to live normal, healthy lives.

But it is not, by their joint action as a club that Rotarians render their greatest benefit to the community. The constant emphasis upon the Rotary ideal, the steady inculcation of the principles of service, inspire our members to be ever ready to help in good causes. Rotarians, therefore, may be found taking an active and a leading part in all kinds of beneficent work; in public office and on the executives or as active members of the Red Cross, Board of Trade, and various welfare organizations. Rotarians are seen, animated by the spirit of service and giving of their time, energy and ability for the good of others. And they have their reward. There is nothing finer than the friendship that grows and flourishes in the association of men who laugh and sing together at the lunch table, who experience the mental and spiritual uplift yielded by the Rotary programme and who join in common effort for unselfish ends.

Wheezing in the Chest Points to Bronchitis

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a dry, harsh, hacking cough accompanied by a rapid wheezing and tightness across the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning. This phlegm is at first of a light colour, but as the trouble progresses becomes yellowish or greenish.

You may find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, relieve the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and aid nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, about 3 times as much, 60c, at all drug counters.
