—IN NEW POSITION—Miss Ann F. Gavin, formerly of Tignish, P. E. I. and now of Albany, N. Y., who has been connected with the Yorkville Army Depot Infirmary for several months, has resigned her position there and has accepted a civil service appointment in the Department of Taxation and Finance of New York State as health nurse. Miss Gavin assumed her new duties Jan. 18th.

—James Craig, new Secretary for War, is the first regular civil servant to be shifted directly from a post in the permanent civil service establishment to ministerial office.

—He long has been known as the "man behind the scenes" in the War Ministry who could push urgent business to completion in record time.

—Born in 1890, Sir James' first important post was as private secretary to successive Chancellors of the Exchequer from 1921 until 1930, when he became chairman of the Board of Inland Revenue, a post he held for four years. Then he began his political career in 1931 when he became private secretary to the Postmaster-General. His military rank comes from a former appointment as commanding officer of the Dorset Heavy Brigade.

—Lord Wolmer, eldest son and heir of the 2nd Earl of De Borne, had been out of politics for some time before taking over the post of Economic Warfare. He served in various positions during the First Great War. In 1924 he was appointed Assistant Postmaster-General, which he held until 1929. He was elevated to the Peerage in 1940. Lord Wolmer is 55.

—Lord Portal, 57, is a businessman who has been interested in semi-public projects for many years. He has been trustee of Lord Nuffield's plan for assistance to special areas since 1936 and as chairman of the Coal Production Council since 1940. He was named to the Parliamentary Secretariat of the Ministry of Supply in 1940.

not have opposed the Japanese advance effectively, because of Japanese air superiority. This was among other things, he said, had prevented reinforcing General MacArthur's army on Bataan.

The President laid down "three high purposes" for Americans at home: "1. We shall not stop work for a single day. If any dispute arises we shall keep on working while the dispute is solved by mediation, conciliation or arbitration—until the war is won.

"2. We shall not demand special gains or special privileges or advantages for any one group or occupation.

"3. We shall give up conveniences and modify the routine of our lives if our country asks us to do so. We will do it cheerfully, remembering that the common enemy seeks to destroy every home and every freedom in every part of our land."

Scornfully, he pointed that Axis propaganda was aimed at setting the British nation with statements that "the British are finished"—"the Russians and Chinese are about to quit," that "Americans are soft and decadent, that they cannot and will not unite and work and fight." To this he added:

"From Berlin, Rome and Tokyo we have been described as a nation of weaklings—'playboys'—who would let the British soldiers, the Russian soldiers or Chinese soldiers do our fighting for us.

"Let them repeat that now! Let them tell that to General MacArthur and his men. Let them tell that to the sailors who today are hitting hard in the far waters of the Pacific. Let them tell that to the boys in the flying fortresses. Let them tell that to the Marines!"

13 were refrigerator cars, so urgently needed in this province for shipment of potatoes. These cars carried freight which had been transferred from ordinary box cars at Tormentine. Incoming freight included about eight carloads of coal. One hundred and sixty carloads of freight were waiting at Tormentine Saturday for transportation to this side.

The transportation committee of the Charlottetown Board of Trade met in special session yesterday to draft a resolution to forward to Prime Minister King backing up recent requests for immediate replacement of the S. S. "Charlottetown," which sank off the Nova Scotia coast on June 18, 1941, while enroute to dry dock.

Complete Confidence Essential To Victory

MONTREAL, Feb. 23.—(CP)—Major George Fielding Eliot, American military correspondent and commentator, told a luncheon gathering of the Canadian Club here today that the maintenance of a thorough understanding of the allotment of forces and materials to the various theatres of war and complete confidence among all the allied nations are essential to victory.

Mr. Eliot pointed out the tremendous difficulties of carrying out a common policy and strategy among nations scattered over the face of the earth because of the difference in language, ideals and forms of government.

In discussing the war to date, he said that to one section, particularly Britain and Russia, "main enemies were Germany, Italy, China, the Netherlands Indies, Australia and New Zealand the most dangerous foe was Japan.

He said that Canada and the United States belong in the middle, were in the position of having to participate in many decisions which affected the allotment of forces and materials.

Attitude of Provinces to Tax agreement

OTTAWA, Feb. 23.—(CP)—The agreement with Ontario under which the federal government will take over income and corporation tax fields for the duration of the war was considered by the House of Commons today.

Letters exchanged with representatives of the nine provinces were tabled by Finance Minister Isley at the request of J. A. Ross (Quebec). The actual draft agreements were not tabled.

The Maritime Provinces correspondence indicated their anxiety that standards be followed in the sittings of commissions examining their economic condition should be continued.

In recent correspondence with the Ontario government, Mr. Isley gave assurance that the question whether new Dominion legislation was necessary to make the tax agreement effective was being reviewed by the Justice Department.

The Dominion agreed to a preamble in the proposed agreement with Ontario to the effect that the province by signing the agreement should not be deemed to "have surrendered, abandoned or given over to the Dominion any of the powers, rights, privileges or authority vested in the province."

Premier Thane Campbell of Prince Edward Island said the tax agreement would be an early item of business before the Legislature and he hoped the Legislature would be in effect by the middle of March.

Premier Campbell said the amount payable to the province in lieu of corporation and income taxes should include the sum of $275,000, equal to the additional grants awarded the province following the Duncan and White Commissions.

The Dominion government, by letter, recognized this grant as a subsidy which would continue its payment after the tax agreement ends.

Mr. Isley assured Nova Scotia that the province would be paid along with the other provinces a job it would otherwise suffer under the proposed agreement. Subsidies would be continued after the tax agreement was in effect.

For New Brunswick, provision is being made for continuation after the agreement of the special annual grant of $90,000 which was paid by the Dominion over a period of years on recommendation of the Duncan and White Commissions.

Manitoba authorities inquired as to the possibility of provinces being given the option of entering into a further agreement on taxes after the war ends. A reply from the Dominion said such an option continued for the provinces which Mr. Isley in his budget speech when he said there was no intention of giving the Dominion to get the provinces out of income and corporation tax fields permanently.

Alberta was given assurance the agreement was only a wartime measure. In reply to an inquiry, the province was told the Dominion could not guarantee to vacate the gasoline and amusement tax fields after the war.
