The Rogue's Carol

Now Christmas is a-drawin' close
Lift up a joyful carol,
For them as wassalls wisely knows
The butter and the barrel;
So fast to Squier will us sing,
According to our habit,
(Though he g'ed I six weeks last Spring
For poachin of a rabbit).

And next to Major's for to go,
Attendin on the quality,
For he do like his glass, we know,
And is a friend to jollity;
The Major got no special use
For Churches nor for Chapels,
(But he'll maybe leave the padlock loose
Whurr he do store his apples).

Young Stuck-up Sam ain't long bin yurr;
He's called Frog Farm "The Cedars;"
But thurr they brews the best o' beer,
And they be all fine feeders;

So thither let us stretch our legs,
The Blessed Tidens bringin--
(And Joe mid find a good few eggs
While they do watch we singin).

School-teacher's sharp about the nose,
But us'll carrel to her;
She said our Gladys warn't no rose
And wished the fambly fewer;
The chille she never stirred her tongue
To those nor suchlike mockens.
(But watched out whurr the wash wur hung
And got herself they stockens).

Parson he call we "old in sin"
And "Ethiopian leopards,"
But us'll goo his gates within
And sing to him "Wild Shepherds."
For Merry Christmas will us keep
And unto-him we owe it
('Ooe feyther's stole the parson's sheep
And parson he don't know it).

Green Almonds

For the next few weeks, in big city markets, you will be able to get green almonds - the smart thing to use in salads, you know. They are best with fresh fruit salads such as peach salad with French dressing; orange salad, combination fruit salad; they also make a nice addition to chicken salad in which white grapes and celery are used.

Shopping For The Dining Room

Lest we forget certain P's and Q's in decoration in our zeal for bargain hunting during the great August home furnishing sales...

Curtains offer a splendid channel through which to make the dining-room an agreeable gathering place. Two windows nicely draped in good bristly-colored chintz or linen that is suitable in type for the furniture will go far toward creating a new feeling in the room.

For the simple dining-room with Early Colonial or French Provincial types of furniture there are innumerable small patterned chintzes with bristly small, reds and yellows in jolly combination. More elaborate floral chintzes with reds, yellows, blues and greens on backgrounds varying all the way from cream, ecru and linen tones that have more finished and subtler types of furniture. And for rooms that have heavy oak pieces there are excellent English, Spanish and Italian designs in lengths as well as in the inexpensive damasks.

Dining-room rugs are also of great consequence. In fact they seem to assume a special importance due largely to the area that instantly greets our eyes the moment we look at the dining-room table.

Among the simpler effects one of the nicest is the basket-woven block-pattern effect in linen. It wears well and has great individuality. The larger rag and hooked types are also good, provided they are not used with furniture that is too refined for their boldly blocked patterns.

As we go into furnishings with the gentler lines and more graceful contours, most decorators choose either the lightly patterned Oriental or its copy, or the plain chenilles and broadloom Wiltons in colors to harmonize with walls and curtains. The tendency is decidedly toward color and away from the indefiniteness of the mild taupes and grays.

GREEN-PLUS BROWN

Brown accessories are smart with a green evening gown. Select your velvet wrap, gloves, shoes and perhaps a bag in a soft, rich shade of brown and you'll be exceptionally chic.

U. S. Channels Carry Almost Half Of Grain

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 20. (By the Canadian Press) - Arguments in favor of the movement of Canadian export grain through Canadian channels and elimination of present traffic through Buffalo and United States seaboard ports were submitted to the royal commission on railways by E. J. Reynolds of Winnipeg.

In a lengthy analysis of grain movements to Atlantic ports, Mr. Reynolds says nearly half of the grain shipped East goes through United States channels with the result that about $35,000,000 a year is paid to United States interests for services that might be performed in Canada. As exhibits he attached to his memorandum a copy of a speech delivered recently in Winnipeg by Col. E. C. Phinney, chairman of the Halifax harbor commission and statistics of grain shipments compiled by the Lake Shippers Association.

Since 1918, according to his figures, 2,062,057,147 bushels of grain have been shipped through Canadian Atlantic outlets and 1,382,936,350 bushels through the United States. For the crop year 1930-31, the figures were 131,544,336 bushels through Canadian ports and 103,137,300 bushels through United States ports.

Kitchen Comments

A new thought for cold meat service is the following: Instead of making bread and butter sandwiches, slice meat loaf rather thinly and use it in place of slices of bread, placing between the meat sandwich a leaf of crisp lettuce and a layer of thousand island or Russian dressing, or one of the many good sandwich spreads. Arrange attractively on a platter and garnish with stuffed olives and parsley.

Covered molds with centre tubes are best for steaming breads and puddings. This prevents the sogging at the centre which is sometimes found when straight cylindrical molds are used.

To make a quick cream dressing without oil, for cucumbers, or cabbage salad, heat together 2 tablespoonfuls of mild vinegar and 1 teaspoonful of butter; season with pepper, salt and a speck of sugar. Cool slightly and beat it very slowly into thick sweet or sour cream.

For good and economical luncheon dishes, make paper thin French pancakes; butter each cake as made place a portion of plum or apricot jam in each, roll like a jelly roll, dust with powdered sugar and serve piping hot.

If you buy tinted dishcloths - a solid color like pale green, orange, yellow or rose, according to your decorative scheme - you will find that they look fresh and inviting much longer than the white or cream cloths. Never get orchid or blue however, as these colors look dingy when wet.

Very appetizing for the breakfast fruit is sliced orange meat and banana sugared with confectioner's sugar and served in the hollowed-out orange cup. Durt the top well with the sugar.

Judge - "Did you know the defendant, Rastus?" Rastus - "Ah had a logical acquaintance wid him, Judge." Judge - "What do you mean by a logical acquaintance?" Rastus - "Well, both of us belong to de same lodge."

7.00 to 8.30 p. m. - Rebekah League on 4 alleys.

A preacher and a lawyer were travelling together fell to discussing mistakes in speaking. "What do you do," asked the preacher, "if you have a slip of the tongue and say something that you didn't intend to say?" "That depends," replied the lawyer. "If it is a serious mistake I go back and correct it; if only a slight mistake I pass on and do not notice it. What do you do?" "I follow the same rule," replied the preacher. "For instance, last Sunday in the course of my sermon I intended to say that the devil was the father of liars but by the slip of the tongue I said that the devil was the father of lawyers."
