SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Aug. 1st, 1909. Close of Paul's Missionary Journey. Acts xviii:1-22. Golden Text.—In the world ye shall have tribulation; be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.— John xv:33. Verse 1.—What remarkable thing had immediately preceded Paul's start for Corinth? There is no record of a vision or any special Divine instruction, for Paul going to Corinth; but is a good man as much guided by God when he is not conscious of it, as when he is, and why? (This must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Old As You Feel. It's a simple matter of Stomach and Liver. Take Abbey's Effervescent Salt. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

answered in writing by members of the club.) Verses 2-3.—What was the attraction between Aquila and Paul? How do you account for it that there is any affinity between men of the same trade. Have labor men a perfect right to band themselves together, for mutual protection against undue demands of capital? Has capital a moral right to protect itself against labor? Have business men a right to protect themselves against undue competition?

Paul worked at his trade as a tent maker for a living, is there any suggestion in this that modern preachers should do a similar thing? A large proportion of the membership of the present day Christian Church, have the latent ability to preach; ought not this ability to be developed, thus giving to every local church several preachers, and then the work being divided between them, would be better done than at present, and each preacher make his own living?

Verse 4.—Is it the duty and privilege of every adult Christian to be engaged at least every Sunday, in some specific spiritual work? Why did Paul, in the beginning, in Corinth, confine his work to the Sabbath day and to the Jews? Verse 5-6.—What effect did the visit of Silas and Timothy have upon Paul?

If a good man is ever so much in earnest, may the visit of another earnest man intensify his spirit? When a man does his best in preaching, and fails to make converts, is he entitled to as much credit as if he had great success? Did Paul blame himself for his failure, and that the Jews resisted and blasphemed; and ought a man of God always take a similar position in like circumstances? Verse 7.—Has it ever been in the past, and is it to-day, sometimes necessary for a good man to leave the church, and start a meeting of his own? Verse 8.—Is belief in Jesus an intellectual effect, or is it spiritual and supernatural? Verse 9-11.—What method did God take in this instance to talk to Paul? Why is it that so few Christians have any experience of any special message from God? Do Christians speak as much as they ought for Christ today, and is there any fear of being hurt by speaking for him? Verse 12-17.—Can any man expect, even in these days, to be unflinchingly faithful to God, and to make some people angry? How do you estimate the character of this man, Gallio, and what is there in him worthy of imitation? Verse 18-22.—Sum up the effects of Paul's efforts as revealed in this lesson.

Lessons for Sunday, Aug. 8th, 1909. Paul's Instructions to the Thessalonians. 1 Thess. v. 12-24.

THE MORNING PAPER

The Morning Paper gives not only the housewife but every member of the family an opportunity to read it. The Morning Paper is read at the breakfast table, again at home at noon, on the trains, in the restaurants, in the doctor's offices, professional offices, clubs, hotels, cafes, barber shops. It is read by daylight everywhere you go by both employer and employee. It is a known fact that throughout the world, possibly with a half-dozen exceptions, the papers with editorial influence and national reputation are Morning Papers. With these facts in mind, the business man who is looking after the real money-penders of the family to interest in his goods will consult his best interests by placing his announcements where the women will read them.

Some Reasons Why It Makes the Best Advertising Medium. A woman's curiosity to know about society, marriages, births, deaths, forces her to read it. The Morning Paper is before her all day long, and it is when she is doing her household duties, arranging and improving the appearance of her home, that the missing and necessary articles of furniture, rugs, carpets, curtains or other necessities, show up the plainest, and there could be no more opportune time for a dealer to tell about the new designs, the new styles, and the bargains offered, for the day or week. In a majority of homes the newspaper it practically the bulk of the reading matter, and the long, all-day life from 5 a. m. to 10 p. m. of
