There was a large attendance at the Prince of Wales College on Thursday evening, on the occasion of the College Concert. There was a most enjoyable program and the debate was a feature of the evening and discovered some prominent speakers.

D. J. Cameron, Caledonia, left Thursday on the Murray Harbor train for his home. Mr. Cameron has been for some time in Falconwood Hospital and on the eve of his departure he was presented with an address, expressive of the good will and esteem in which he was held by his fellow-workers. The address was accompanied by an elegant toilet case. Although taken completely by surprise Mr. Cameron replied, touching upon pleasant memories during his connection with the institution and thanking them for their fraternal expression which would always be cherished amongst his dearest possession.

Sometime during Wednesday night some person unknown broke the large plate glass of Prowse Bros Ltd. Probably it was some man tempted by the handsome display of Easter millinery to get a hat for his wife. When he got inside he found the hats so bewildering beautiful he was unable to choose and when he looked at the price tickets and saw how cheap they were priced he decided it was needless to steal anyway he would be sure to be found out as the firm's millinery is in a class by itself and would be easily recognized, so he is going to bring his wife down and let her choose for herself.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride Howland, Maine, on Friday evening April 10th, when A. D. McLeod and Miss Lizzie McNevin, both formerly of Valleyfield West, Prince Edward Island, were united in holy matrimony by the Rev. Fred McNeill of Lincoln Maine. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, Gen'l manager of the Pulp Mill and his wife, had charge of the wedding, and at eight o'clock the wedding march was played by Mrs. Hooper, the young couple marching in attended by the bride's brother and sister. They stood under the arch and pledged loyalty "either to other" and in a few moments were declared to be "husband and wife." Then came the hearty congratulations and wishes for future success, after which an abundant supply of refreshments were passed around. The young men present did not forget to bring an extra supply of rice which for a time rained down freely on all present. Mr. McLeod and Miss McNevin were very popular young people and have won many friends since coming to Howland. All joins in wishing them a long, happy, and successful life.

Wild geese are very scarce on the North Side. They evidently haven't all come yet. The wintry weather has foreseen. The sports are anxiously awaiting some of the old time flocks.

A nice Easter gift is a box of chocolates. Lowney's sold by J. G. Jamieson are put up in dainty packages and harmonize nicely with the season's sentiments. Prices to suit everybody.

Dr. Gordon T. Alley, who has been spending the winter at the resorts on the East Coast and with friends in St. Augustine Florida left on April 9th for his home in Charlottetown, P. E. Island. Dr. Alley is delighted with St. Augustine and its environment and was loath to leave but has promised his friends to return again next season.

C. W. Patterson, jeweler on the corner of Great George and Grafton streets has an exceptionally pretty window this Easter. The idea is a windmill attached to a small building prettily done in red, white jeweled pins and gold chains form the windows, doors, etc. The windmill works automatically and was viewed by a large number of citizens.

Good Friday was ushered in with a wintry gale which blew from the north-west at times with a velocity of twenty-five miles an hour. The temperature went down to seventeen above zero and it was decidedly unpleasant out of doors exposed to the wind on Thursday night. Yesterday was pleasant, the sun being strong but it was cool in the shade and the wind was from the north.

The Klark-Urban Co., seems to have made a big hit in St. John The Telegraph of Jan. 7th said The Klark-Urban Co., opened their third week at the Opera House last night with a production of the western border drama Across the Desert, a play that has proved a success throughout the United States and Canada. That it is well liked here was attested by the fact that a large audience was in attendance for this, its third presentation in St. John. Eugene Powers, as Wamago, an Indian; Harry F. Vickery, as a strolling player, and C. Ed. Balfour, the Mexican handled difficult roles satisfactorily, as did Harry Lawrence in a Chinese part. The other characters were well played by H. Klark, Maisie Cecil, Frank Urban and Minnie Gordon. Karland the handcut king lived up to reputation and escaped from all sorts of handcuffs and shackles. He also escaped from a mail pouch which was locked by a committee, without breaking the seal. The company will open a five day engagement at the Opera House Tuesday April 21st.
