

Many There Be With Ear Open To G. O. P. Call

School Reports

(This is one of a Canadian Press series on U. S. election personalities and issues)

By H. M. PETERS Canadian Press Staff Writer NEW YORK, Feb. 16—(CP)—When Alf. M. Landon, the unsuccessful 1936 candidate, read himself out of consideration as a 1940 contender, the race for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States became wide open but with the names of three men most prominently mentioned.

Two of them, Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney, and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, already are actively campaigning throughout the country. The third, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, is in the "receptive" stage.

He recently stated he had "indicated my willingness to serve x x x but I shall not personally participate in any pre-convention campaign for delegates."

Half a dozen others have said their names may go before the national convention when it is summoned during the summer.

May Split N. Y. Group Frank Ganey, Rochester, N.Y., publisher, is one of these. His candidacy was expected in some quarters to lessen Dewey's chances.

Because between them they may split the important New York state delegation to the convention.

Then there are Senator Styles Bridges, New Hampshire; Governor James of Pennsylvania; Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, and several others who hope the call may come to them.

Many factors may change the Republican picture, observers in Washington believe. One of these is the type of candidate put up by the Democrats.

President Roosevelt seek a third term—or be drafted—the Republicans would have to consider carefully what type of candidate would have the best chance of victory against his personal prestige.

Because many Republicans believe that the successes scored in many key states in the 1938 Congressional elections has enhanced the party's chance, the fight for the nomination is expected to be one of the keenest in history.

Navy Makes Quick Pounce On Nazi Ship

(By Henry W. Bagley, Associated Press Staff Writer) RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 13—The story of the Royal Navy's quick pounce upon the richly-laden German freighter Wakama as she tried to slip through the South Atlantic blockade yesterday was told today by Rear-Admiral Sir Henry Harwood, commander of British forces in the South Atlantic.

After leaving Rio De Janeiro Sunday night the Wakama, he said, was sighted Monday. Sir Henry—who won his knighthood as commander of the British forces which trapped the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee—said stopping the Wakama was easy.

Sir Henry was in the vicinity at the time aboard the cruiser Hawkins. The cruisers Shropshire and Dorsetshire also were in the region, and one of them—Sir Henry would not say which—overhauled the Wakama.

"I didn't see the Wakama burning but I know she burned and sank because of a communication I received from the other cruiser," he said. "I understood they finished her off so she would not menace other shipping."

Someone Is Sure of Roosevelt's Prized Blessing

By H. M. PETERS Canadian Press Staff Writer NEW YORK, Feb. 14—(CP)—If President Roosevelt does not permit his name to go before the Democratic National Convention next summer a battle royal appears in sight for the nomination.

Most Washington observers expect the president in that event to throw the whole of his influence behind some Liberal whom he believes is ready and able to uphold the New Deal reform plan.

But whom is a question for which no positive answer has yet emerged. Many think Robert Jackson, staunch New Dealer and United States attorney general is the man in the presidential favor. Others who have been prominently mentioned at one time or another are Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administrator, Cordell Hull, secretary of State, Senator Albert Barkley and, until he went to the Supreme Court Bench, Frank Murphy, former attorney general.

McNutt and Hull

McNutt began campaigning a year but under a pledge to stand aside the president seeks the office, Hull, courtly and distinguished southerner who crowned years of effort with the momentary vice-presidential nomination, is believed to be one of the most formidable contestants.

One of the other side of the picture are the Democrats who will seek the nomination with or without the Roosevelt blessing. Standing out head and shoulders above this group at the moment is vice-president John Nance Garner of Texas.

Garner, who never has publicly criticized "the boss" has made it no secret to his friends that much of the administration program is not to his liking. He has formally opened his campaign. His representatives are seeking support in a score of states.

Other aspirants and "favorite sons" of their home states include William Bankhead of Alabama, speaker of the House of Representatives; Senator David Walsh, Massachusetts and Senator Bennett Champ Clark, Missouri.

Skiing Experts Arrive In Jasper

JASPER, Alta., Feb. 13—A group of Canada's top notch skiers including George Wepsala, of Vancouver, B. C., Canadian women's downhill and slalom champion; Art Coles, star runner, also from the coast; and Peter Valda, well-known professional of Vancouver, and Edmondson, Alta., have left Malene Lake in Jasper National Park following three weeks arduous practice for the approaching dominion championships.

Power snow, three feet deep on the bald hills overlooking the lake, provided their training grounds, seven hours a day on these lofty slopes, offering runs of more than two thousand feet, were varied with tours into Trapper's Creek and other of the high valleys under the leadership of Fred Brewster, pioneer Rocky Mountain guide and outfitter. The skiers pronounced themselves in first class shape for competition. They expressed the further hope that Maligne Lake, famous theatrical costumier as a summer fishing and scenic region will now, because of its excellent and accessible hill and mountain side soon be recognized as Canada's outstanding skiing territory.

ASK WHO STARTED PRO-NAZI PARODY LONDON, Feb. 15—(CP)—British authorities are investigating the source of a bitterly anti-Semitic parody on the hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers" circulated in London and among the troops, obviously by pro-German sources.

ASK WHO STARTED PRO-NAZI PARODY

While pretending to be aimed at Leslie Hore-Belisha, it clearly sought the undermining of the entire war effort. The Jews in former Secretary for War was referred to in the first stanza in this way: "Onward Conscript army you have sought to rear."

In a later stanza this German answer to Britain's anti-Nazi war effort is broadened out and revealed its real purpose in these words: "You must die for Poland, you must fight for Czechs."

You must die for Carol to save Lapusescu's neck; You must bring the German people the Jewish star; Onward to the slaughter, then, go cattle that you are."

FOURMAN DIES LONDON, (CP)—Four men of the Electric Club, Jack Harrison, 83, father of Phyllis and Dorothy Monaghan and Evelyn Harris, were killed here today in a "King of Bismarck" Harrison was an opinion that Maligne Lake, famous theatrical costumier
