"NOT CHANGED YOUR OIL YET?"

THEN how about a new winter oil that will give you from 40% to 50% easier starting and thus save battery wear—an oil that's free from gum forming substances? . . . Two new winter grades of Marvelube are now on sale. Here are tested, proven facts about them. They flow readily at away below zero. These new Marvelube winter grades are the lowest carbon producers on the market—bar none! That means a clean motor for you. . . . In spite of the fact that these oils flow freely at such low temperatures, they never lose their rich, oily body under extreme engine heat. Ordinary winter oils are thin enough to flow at low temperatures but break down under heat. Not so Marvelube. Protect your engine the sure way—change now to Marvelube.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. JAMES CHURCH

A special missionary service was held in St. James Church yesterday forenoon when Rev. Dr. Moorhead Legate preached in the interests of the Women's Missionary Society. He said that it was a matter for profound thankfulness that notwithstanding the depression through which the world had passed, the Presbyterian Church in Canada— noted for its missionary zeal like the Mother Presbyterian Church in Scotland, had not withdrawn a single one of its seventy-eight labourers in the mission fields of India, China, Manchuria and British Guiana. There was a large congregation which evidently was greatly impressed by the convincing eloquence of the preacher in his insistence upon the absolute necessity for the missionary spirit in the Church at large and the individual congregations in particular. He commended the W. M. S. of St. James for heading the Presbytery for three years in succession in the generosity of their contributions, and the Mission Band for its splendid annual support of contributions to missions for very many years.

At the evening service, Rev. Dr. Moorhead Legate lectured on "David's Model Man," giving a very fine exposition of what is known as the "Gentleman's Psalm," Ps XV.

ST. DUNSTAN'S BASILICA

The Masses at St. Dunstan's Basilica yesterday were celebrated as usual. At the Solemn Mass at 11 o'clock the celebrant was Rev. Dr. Gavan Monaghan. He was assisted by Rev. Fr. MacKenzie as Deacon and Rev. Fr. Dougan as sub-Deacon. The sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. McCordle. The children's Catechism was held at 2 o'clock, followed by Benediction. In the evening Vespers were chanted and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given by Father Dougan.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Yesterday at 8 o'clock the Rev. Canon Malone celebrated the Holy Communion. At the 11 o'clock sung Eucharist, there was a large congregation present. The Rev. Father Cotton, C.R., was celebrant. It being Thanksgiving Day at St. Peter's the Rev. Canon Malone preached from the text "What hast thou, that thou didst not receive," being a portion of the seventh verse of the fourth chapter of first Corinthians. At Evensong, Canon Malone officiated and preached from the 1st verse of the 107th Psalm, "O give thanks unto the Lord for He is gracious; and His mercy endureth forever."

The Prayer Book points out the following commemorations for this week: Yesterday, Hugh, Bishop of Lincoln in 1200; Today, Hilda, Abbess in 800; Wednesday, Edmund, King and martyr in 870; Friday, Cecilia, virgin and martyr in third century; Saturday, Clement, Bishop of Rome, martyr in 100.

High Mass. The Rector, Rev. H. I. Fleming, C.S.S.R., spoke at all the Masses with regard to the coming Mission.

Sunday School was held for all the children in the afternoon. Rev. Father O'Hara preached eloquently at the evening service, citing the need of praying for our dead, and the need of insuring our future happiness and providing for it now by prayer. Holy Name Vespers were recited by the members of the Society. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament concluded the services.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

The observance yesterday of the 71st anniversary of the opening of the Church for public worship to God was satisfactory in every detail. The weather being auspicious, the services were attended by large congregations, there was a choir of 41 voices and the sermons of Rev. W. R. Seelye of Saint John, N. B., our guest preacher, were inspiring and greatly appreciated. The opening invocation voiced the aspiration of the worshippers as they joined with the choir in singing "Early in the Morning Our Song Shall Rise to Thee," and then followed the first hymn, "New Every Morning is the Love, Our Wakening and Uprising Prove," and the acknowledgement in the first prayer "Thou hast watched our goings out and our coming in."

The Scripture lessons were the 19th Psalm and Hebrews 11, verses 17 to 40, the latter being an account of the fruits of faith in the fathers of old. The choir sang two anthems, the first one being sung here for the first time, "The Lord is Gracious" with Mrs. Roy Cudmore as soloist, the second was "Jerusalem, My Glorious Home," which has been sung at every anniversary service and which recalled to the older members fond memories of other days.

The sermon by Rev. Mr. Seelye was from Hebrews 11-40, "They without us should not be made perfect." The thought emphasized was that the fathers of old, the pioneers, the trail breakers, those who in the past have wrought valiantly and well—they and us linked together in the great movement for perfection. Progress does not just happen in our lives but it is the natural product of a clearly defined and well directed ideal or line of achievement. There are still heights to be scaled and achievements to be accomplished. We have had our visions in the past and the challenge comes to us today that by toleration and purity we may aid in solving the problems of our own day in the religious world, problems in our own country and problems throughout the world at large.

In an Anniversary service the musical program is an important feature and Professor Kendall is entitled to much credit for the excellence of the musical service of praise. In the evening Mr. Raoul Raymond gave a splendid rendition of the solo "O Lord Most Holy." In addition there were two anthems "Twilight and Dawn" in which Miss Alice Coffin and Mrs. W. G. Spencer were the soloists, also "Lift up Your Heads," which was received with a thrill of admiration.

Rev. J. W. Barbour conducted the devotional and other exercises whilst Rev. Mr. Seelye was again the preacher and spoke from the text in I. Timothy 3:15, "The church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth." An inspiring analysis of what the Church is standing for and an appeal to elevate Jesus in the essential elements of His life and character.

The sympathy of the congregation is extended to the relatives of Mrs. Thomas Pickard and Mr. Richard S. Farquharson whose passing occurred within the past ten days.

MEETING OF ST. James' Y.P.S. tonight, 8 o'clock. Interesting program.

ANSWER FALSE ALARM—The firemen answered a false alarm to a residence on King Square about one o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was a still alarm. Only the chemical engine responded.

PLAN ON attending St. Paul's tea and sale Thursday, Nov. 21st. L-2843.

LEFT FOR OTTAWA—Hon. J. P. McIntyre, Minister of Public Works, left Saturday for Toronto and Ottawa. In the Capital he will confer with authorities on official business connected with his Department, Mr. McIntyre said.

STORE ENTERED—The store of William Dougan on Queen Street, was entered some time Friday night and goods including cigarettes were stolen. Entrance was effected through a rear window by removing protecting bars. The Police are investigating the case. It was the first break for a number of months.

LEAVE FOR MAGDALEN ISLANDS—Staff Sergeant A. Howard, and special constable R. Leclair of the Mounted Police left for the Magdalen Islands the latter part of last week on official business. The Magdalen Islands come under the jurisdiction of this branch of the R. C. M. P. and the men here make regular routine trips there. There are no police stationed on the Islands.

PERSONALS
Mr. Leo Carragher, Charlottetown, spent the week end visiting relatives and friends in Green Bay and vicinity.

Mrs. L. J. McGinn of Fredericton, N.B., is visiting in Charlottetown, the guest of her sisters, Mrs. Dan Malone and Mrs. Frank Murray.

Mrs. George Tweedy left yesterday for Toronto contemplating an absence of three weeks.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The pulpit was occupied morning and evening by the Rev. O. N. Chipman, D. D., of Wolfville, N.S. The subject of the morning sermon was "The Guidance of God" based on the words of the 23rd Psalm, "He leadeth me." These are the words of one who saw new possibilities and believed they might become actualities. Seldom as we search our memories are we satisfied with our own guidance of life. Always as we look back we see so many places where more attention, more labour and study might have given us a better record. Our human guidance is just "not quite adequate." No man will wisely attempt the Alps without a guide, none should attempt life without God. Our waywardness, caprice, limited wisdom all hamper us. We are only safe in full commitment to the one infinite, kindly, utterly wise leader, God the pilot who knows the way. God wants us to trust him, whose promise is "I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye."

Dr. Chipman at the evening service delivered another very thoughtful and instructive sermon taking as his subject "God as a deliverer." The music of the day included Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Turn thy face from my sin" and "Saviour thy children keep."

SALVATION ARMY

Services at the Salvation Army barracks yesterday were conducted by Staff Captain A. A. Bracey of Toronto.

In the afternoon a special service was held, presided over by His Worship Mayor Kennedy. The Staff Captain was the speaker and from his wealth of experience and observation delivered a very interesting address.

The male octette composed of Messrs. Harry Craswell, Harry Yonson, Lyle Robson, Albert Dennis, Malcolm McKinnon, Brenton Hossatt, Peter Small and Gordon MacMillan rendered a pleasing selection.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mayor Kennedy, Rev. H. Pearce, Messrs. S. A. McLeod, and R. Holman for their presence and the male octette for its assistance.

Last night, Staff Captain Bracey again addressed an audience in the Citadel. She spoke on the words in Isaiah 6, 9 "Oh that thou wouldst rend the heavens."

During the day the Staff Captain addressed the young people's meetings.

point of view as vocal music which was brought in the 16th century, to its highest point of growth. The instrumentalists were under the necessity of developing an entirely new technique and of finding new forms and designs. Yet they must be admired for the splendid foundation that they laid, foundations upon which Bach, Beethoven and the rest built so gloriously later on. The following "songs of the day" were then sung:

- "It was a Lover and His Lass"—Morley—Serenaders.
- "So Sweet Is She"—words by Ben Jonson—Mrs. F. M. Nash.
- "Go To Bed Sweet Muse"—Robert Jones—Mrs. F. M. Nash.
- "Sweet Nymph Come To Thy Bed"—Serenaders.

Lover"—unaccompanied two part song—Serenaders.

"Gallardo" and "Pavane"—Wm. Byrd—two piano solos—Mrs. L. Dingwell.

"Since First I saw Your Face," "Autumn Song," "The Bailiff's Daughter"—Miss Gwyneth Fry.

Christopher Tye was one of the outstanding composers of the 16th century. His Mass for Six Voices is a splendid work, and after the appearance of the first English prayer book (1549) which necessitated the elimination of Latin music, Tye composed a setting for parts of the Acts of the Apostles. The English anthem dates from this period taking the place of the Latin motet.

Thomas Tallis and William Byrd the two who brought most to English music at that time, worked both for the English Liturgy and the Catholic Mass. Byrd who composed much secular as well as church music, is now recognized as one of the great composers of history and is regarded as the actual founder of the school of English Madrigal composers. His Lullaby (1581), sung by Mrs. Nash, was one of the first for solo voice with independent accompaniment.

Thomas Morley, Wilbye, John Dowland, Campion, Weelkes, Ford Kirby and Michael Este were all popular and important Madrigal and song writers of the period. Miss MacKenzie ended her paper by reading Byrd's introduction to his volume of "Psalms, Sonnets and Songs of Sadness and Piety." The introduction put forth many inducements towards singing, closing with the words— "I wish all men would learn to sing." The program continued with: "Come Lassies and Lads" and "Sleep Wayward Thoughts"—Miss G. Fry. Piano solos—"Giles Farnaby's Dream," "A Toy," "His Rest"—Mrs. Dingwell. Part chorus—"A Noel Carol"—"Now is the Month of May"—Serenaders. "Come Again"—Mrs. Nash. "Three Ravens"—Mrs. Nash and the Serenaders.

BIGGER TRADE IN LUMBER IS PREDICTED

OTTAWA, Nov. 17—The tariff concession in the Canadian-American trade treaty which is likely to lead to the largest volume of trade across the international border in the next few years is one relating to lumber, government officials said today.

The Canadian lumber industry was brought almost to its knees by the United States Revenue Act of 1932 which placed a tax of $3 per 1,000 board feet on all rough and dressed lumber. This was in addition to the ordinary duty of $1 per 1,000, making the combined impost $4. Before the 1932 Act Canada shipped millions of dollars worth of lumber across the border but since then the trade has been negligible.

The treaty cuts the combined duty and revenue tax from $4 to $2 per 1,000 board feet, a reduction of 50 per cent. On Douglas fir and western hemlock, two British Columbia products, a quota of 250,000,000 feet a year was applied, a quantity not likely to be exceeded in the near future. There was no quota limitation on any other species of Canadian lumber.

In addition to duty reductions the treaty guarantees free entry for the life of the agreement of logs, unmanufactured timber, pulpwood, railway ties, poles, pulp and newspaper paper. The treaty gives the lumbering industry a double break because it imports the Canadian tariff on imported machinery, particularly logging cars, cranes, blocks and tackle and certain types of wire rope. The rate on these articles was reduced from 20 to 15 per cent.
