F. G. Spencer Home And In Good Health

The following is taken from the Saint John Times-Star of Thursday, May 27th:

F. G. Spencer and Mrs. Spencer returned from New York and Atlantic City on today's Boston express. Following Mr. Spencer's treatment in a New York hospital he went to the coast resort for convalescences. His numerous friends will be glad to know he comes back to his family and business a well man again.

It was a happy coincidence that a group of Mr. Spencer's Maritime theatre managers were in Saint John attending the Paramount convention, and when he alighted from the train today he was greeted by them. They included, besides Mgr. A. A. Fielding of this city, J. Gilmour Armstrong, treasurer, and T. J. O'Rourke, the following managers from outside points: C. J. Gallagher, Charlottetown P. E. Island; Edgar Neal, Woodstock, N. B.; W. R. Cann, Yarmouth, N. S.; W. G. Gazely, Campbellton, N. B; Frank Audas, Amherst, N. S.; and G. N. Fielding, Kentville, N. S.

Besides these theatrical workers Mr. Spencer was welcomed by a number of relatives and close personal friends.

Needless to say that all Mr. Spencer's managers most heartily welcomed him back amongst them on this occasion, and were delighted to note that he looks in far better health, and enjoys greater vigor than he has for some years past.

Dramatic Film Story Presented With Great Cast

"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" IS DISTINCTLY WORTH WHILE

For a dramatic story, for a brilliant cast, for excellent direction, there is a decidedly worth while photoplay at the Prince Edward Theatre. It is "The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted", a Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen, picturized from the popular novel by Gertie Wentworth-James.

It is a story of a mother's sacrifice of her happiness, her husband and her reputation to save her son who has been convicted of manslaughter. Her husband's honor means more to him than his son, and the dramatic situations in which the mother finds herself compromised, as a result of scheming with her old-time sweetheart, lead up to an unexpected climax.

Irene Rich gives one of her very finest performances as the charming and self-sacrificing mother, playing with sympathy and understanding. Huntley Gordon makes a convincing district attorney, who puts honor above all else and makes John Mannering an impressive figure. John Harrow (as in "My Wife and I") plays the son of Miss Rich and Huntley Gordon, and pretty Elinor Fair is a vivacious young thing for whose crime Bob is almost punished.

June Marlowe is the lovely sweetheart who greets Bob with a wedding ring when he is released from prison, and Gertrude Astor appears as a scheming and beautiful woman of the world. Gayne Whitman plays the erstwhile sweetheart of Mrs Mannering, who deceives her and involves her in a frightful scandal. The remainder of the cast includes George Pearce, Edward Piel, George Kuwa, Wilfred Lucas, Don Alvarado and Jimmie Quinn.

An excellent scenic reel of Nova Scotia completes the program.

These medals are awarded at the end of twenty one year's continuous service with the Canadian militia and it is worth noting that both these young officers have been granted this honor in each case before they were thirty-two years of age, as they are entitled to recognition for two years service for every year they spent overseas. They are perhaps the youngest officers in Canada to receive this award.

—SERIOUS LOSS.—Mr. Ralph Darby, of St. Eleanors, lost a valuable mare on Tuesday by a very curious accident. Mr. Neil MacDougall, of Summerside, quite recently purchased the "Patricia Farm" on the Pope Road and his crop there is being put in this season by Mr. Darby, who was plowing with a double team when suddenly the mare dropped down a "cradle hill" on the highest part of the farm, the crust over which was evidently just thawing out. The animal dropped to its stomach and in the tangle up of the team the other horse kicked it in the chest, inflicting a very deep wound about a foot long. Mr. Darby quickly sought the services of Mr. Sydney Richardson, of St. Eleanors, the former owner of the mare, who very reluctantly but as an act of true mercy shot the animal to put it out of its misery.

Third Game of City League Tonight

At Victoria Park this evening at six o'clock, the third game of the City League schedule will be staged between the old time rivals, Anchors and Stars.

Last seasons games between these two teams are fresh in the memories of the baseball fans of this city and a repetition of the old games is expected in this evening's fixture.

Each team is anxious to top the League, and the winner of this game will reach the top of the ladder, so that good ball and air-tight fielding should be dealt out to the opposing moundsmen. They will need all the support possible, as some of the big guns with the wood intend to knock out the old pill for a bunch of bases that will place their team on easy street. Watch and see!

NEW ADDITION TO CH'TOWN'S MOTOR FLEET

"Beth" Owned by Mr. Ivan Reddin Arrived in Port Sunday Evening From Halifax — Trim Little Motor Yacht.

The "Beth," a new addition to Charlottetown's fleet of motor yachts recently purchased by Mr. Ivan Reddin from Mr. Walter Scott Davidson, arrived in port Sunday evening from Halifax under command of Capt. Roland Betts, R.N. V. R., and is at present lying at Buntain and Bell's wharf.

This trim little yacht is all that can be desired for her size and tonnage. She is an auxiliary cruiser of 15 tons with an overall of 44 feet and 11 foot beam. She is practically new being built in 1922 by Milton A. Sangster, New Harbor, Guysborough.

She is fitted with a 60 horse power Acadia two cylinder engine —said engine is a beauty.

A Guardian representative being shown through the well fitted cabins was much impressed with the interior generally. The cockpit or control station is a cabin in itself. A stairway leads to the engine room which is 8 feet with lots of room to spare on the starboard side where a nicely fitted galley meets the eye. At the head of the engine room a door leads to the main cabin or saloon 10 feet by 12. The saloon like the engine room is sheathed in B. C. douglas fir. To say that the cabin is built for comfort as well as service would be putting it mildly, as double berths, lockers, clothes closets, etc., are all neatly arranged.

One goes on further forward passing into the captain's stateroom, and again everything is as appropriate as the aforementioned cabin. In the bow an up-to-date lavatory with fresh running water completes everything below deck in a splendid and magnificent little cruiser. She is electric-lighted throughout.

On mounting the ladder aft one sees a spacious main or top deck forward of the control cock-pit where a "dingy is securely fastened down. Sea anchors, windless and sundry other equipment is also carried here.

Notwithstanding the space taken up by the above accommodation for forty or fifty people could be maintained for excursion or other parties.

She also carries a huge spread of canvas to use as the occasion arises.

Altogether the Beth is as trim as can be and capable of taking a party any distance, and needless to say Mr. Reddin is to be congratulated on his lucky purchase.

It may be remembered that this yacht visited Charlottetown two years ago during the Hector Celebration at Pictou, N. S. She was under command of her owner Mr. Walter Scott Davidson for whom she was built.

The Beth left Halifax last Thursday stopping a day at Owl's Head. She proceeded to Canso leaving there at 1 o'clock Sunday and arrived here Sunday evening at 5.30.

Besides Capt. Betts her crew comprised C. Clifford Chandler, chief engineer, Thomas Rogers, "chief cook," and "Billy" Murchison, "Pantry and pump boy." All enjoyed the trip immensely.
