know what it is all about."

After supper he went again to Aruman's hut. The chief heard him in silence and then refused his request.

"No. Bad devil there. One devil bad. You go. Maybe plenty devil—two, three devil. No. You, white woman stay. Keep tabu. Plenty spirit angry you go back where bad devil come."

And that was all Bill could get out of him. When he tried to plead with Aruman the chief said aloud, "Aruman has spoken," and sent him from the room. Bill went like a crestfallen child. There was nothing for it now but a permanent stay with Aruman, at least until the season of tabu was over, or the mysterious rescue plane came back.

It would come. Bill felt sure of that. But when? itAnd when it came would Aruman possibly think it came from the devil and refuse to let it land? Bill decided that his first task now was to persuade Aruman that the plane would come and that it would do his tribe no harm.

REV. JAMES ENDICOTT, D.D., LL.D.

Trinity United Church, Friday, Sept. 27

Among advocates of foreign missions, few who come to the Maritimes have qualifications similar to those of Rev. Dr. James Endicott.

A home missionary before becoming a foreign missionary, Dr. Endicott has never lost his touch with audiences of Canadian church people. His powerful presentations of the subject while on deputation work led, along with his undoubted ability as administrator, to his choice as secretary of foreign missions in the Methodist Church sixteen years ago.

Dr. Endicott was second Moderator of the United Church of Canada and during his term was sent to the various mission fields to bear greetings from the home church for the first time since the union took place in Canada. He returned with a story of gospel triumphs and clamant need in Asia and Africa.

Subsequently, Dr. Endicott went to Jerusalem to attend the International Missionary Council, an occasion which is coming to be regarded as a landmark in missionary history.

Whether speaking out of his intimate knowledge of China, gained through 20 years of service there, or drawing on his experiences as visitor to other fields, Dr. Endicott makes a vivid and impressive address.

Live Stock Notes

The Alberton Exhibition stands out this year for the wonderful improvement shown in the exhibits of live stock. The turn-out of sheep would do credit to any of the larger provincial fairs. In the classes for market lambs there were over one hundred head entered and shown. This lot was exceptional in type and proves the improvement which can be accomplished by the consistent use of registered Shropshire and Oxford rams.

No other industry shows such neglect in breeding operations than does the sheep industry. In too many cases our breeders make no attempt to improve their lambs to meet market demands. Little or no attention is given to the use of well bred, black faced rams. The result is that in every car of lambs marketed we find no approach to uniformity of type. Too many of our lambs are poorly finished, and are built too much along Holstein lines. The market does not like those leggy, narrow-bodied, open-framed lambs. In most cases this kind will not fatten till they are shearling. The time is not far distant when such off type lambs will be discounted in price. If our sheep breeders would use rams of the Shropshire, Oxford or Southdown breeds, we would soon have the market offering a premium for Prince Edward Island lambs. We should do everything possible to eliminate all white-faced sheep and by doing so we should be automatically improving the market qualities of our lambs. The ideal market lamb is one which will dress out a well-finished carcass of forty pounds. We find this perfection of type in the Southdowns and for this reason, this breed makes the best cross on ordinary farm ewes.

Our sheep breeders look too much to size in selecting a ram. They should look for a flock header with a low-set, compact body, and then size or weight will take care of itself. Invariably we find that sheep growers, who have crossed medium sized blocky rams with our leggy grade, or scrub ewe, have the most pounds of lamb in the fall. Let us have more of those lambs which look like seventy pounds, but weigh close to one hundred and less of those which look like one hundred and weigh twenty or more pounds less. A pile of bones and a bag of wool will not help to boost lamb consumption and prices.

MALPEQUE

The citizens of this community were saddened by the passing of Mrs. Robert Harding of Summerside and formerly a much-loved resident here. Mrs. Harding, nee Miss Minnie Bearisto, was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Bearisto of Spring Valley where she was born thirty-five years ago. Mrs. Harding contracted typhoid fever about two weeks ago and was taken to Prince County Hospital for treatment but being of a fragile constitution she succumbed to the disease, passing away on Thursday afternoon. The deceased was beloved by all who knew her as she was the possessor of a gentle, refined nature and her musical ability made her a helpful member of the community.

The deep sympathy of this community will go out to the sorrowing husband who will miss the companionship of a devoted wife and to the five young children namely:—James, Robert, Elden, Evelyn and Leslie who will be deprived of the loving care of a faithful, true mother. There are also left to mourn four sisters, Mrs Charlie Lockhart, Worcester, Mass. Mrs Millie MacDonald, Borden, Mrs. Parmeuns Phillips, Kensington, Mrs. William Brauder, Baltic. Three brothers, Mr. Preston Bearisto of Malpeque, Mr. Fred, Bearisto of Borden, and Mr. James Bearisto of Baltic.

The remains were brought to the home of Mr. Wm. Brauder where the funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rev. D. M. Grant, assisted by the Rev. Fredk. Williamson of Keir Memorial church and the Rev. J. P. C. Fraser of Summerside The address by Mr. Grant was based on the words "That I might finish my course with joy." At the close of the address the beautiful and appropriate hymn "Some day we will understand" was sung by Mr. Charles Woodside. The remains were laid to rest in Malpeque Cemetery. The pall bearers being as follows:— Messrs James, Leslie and Charlie Champion, James MacNeill Charles Woodside and Stanley Ramsay.

Mrs. Albert Simpson of Darnley returned to her home after a pleasant two weeks visit in St. Eleanors with her niece, Miss Sophie Simpson.

Mrs. Pope Beer and Mr. Reginald MacNutt of Charlottetown spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacNutt, Darnley.

Mr. Daniel Champion, son of the late Mr. James Champion of Darnley, has returned to his home in Monson, Maine, after a short visit with relatives here Mr. Champion has been a resident of Monson for twenty-seven years and is one of our successful Islanders abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowe, formerly of England and now of Hamilton, were waited on by the citizens of Hamilton on Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ramsay. Mr. F. J. Lockerby presided. Mr. Johnn Simpson read an address expressive of appreciation of Mr. Lowe and was in the form of a welcome to Mrs. Lowe who recently came to this place as a bride. A presentation accompanied the address and was made by Mr. Cedric Owen. The following is the address:—

To Charles and Mrs. Lowe:—

Deard Friends,

As you have recently entered life's closest and most sacred relationship—Marriage—we, the residents of Hamilton, have gathered here this evening to Convey to you our heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous voyage through life.

Friend Charlie, your sojourn among us since emigrating from England several years ago has been both pleasant and profitable. Your musical talents and faithful work as a member of Princetown United choir are much appreciated by all members and adherents of the congregation, as is also your willingness at all times to assist in the promotion of the religious and social life of the community—all of which proves you a worthy and valued citizen.

And, Mrs. Lowe, we welcome you as a sister, a daughter of the same British parentage as ourselves. We admire the spirit of courage, steadfastness, and faith which prompted you to leave home, friends and country, cross the Atlantic to distant Canada and resume life's duties cheerfully and bravely under altogether new and untried environment.

In token of our esteem and good will we wish to present you with this gift and hope that your sojourn in our land may be long and pleasant.

Signed on behalf of the citizens of Hamilton.—F. J. Lockerby, George Crozier, Leslie C. Ramsay, John Simpson, Cedric Owen D. A. Ramsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, made grateful acknowledgement of the kind thought expressed to them in the words of the address and by the gift.

Rev. D. M. Grant and Mr. John Simpson added their words of appreciation to what had been previously said.

An informal programme of music, games, etc., was entered into with zest, Mrs. Leslie Ramsay playing the accompaniment during the evening. A beautiful supper was served and before the company dispersed to their homes a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay for their hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. MacNutt, Summerside are spending a week at their former home in Darnley.

Miss Lila Mahar of Charlottetown is spending some time the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Donald Mahar, Darnley.

Mr. Keith MacGougan, formerly of this place and now of Montreal was a recent visitor in Malpeque.

Mrs. Major Taylor, Hamilton, has as her guest Miss Zilpha MacQuarrie.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R Gillis, Dr. E. H. and Mrs. Ramsay and Mrs. Mary D. Ramsay, were visitors at the "Bungalow" on Saturday.

Mr. Gregor MacNutt left on Friday for Montreal where he will enter McGill University.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramsay, and Mrs. Condon of Summerside were visitors here on Saturday.—M.

NETRAM OF INDIA HAS FINE CAREER

Trinity United Church, Friday, Sept. 27

Rev. John Wesley Richards Netram, of Central India, represents two of the streams which have flowed together to form the United Church of Canada, for his father was a convert of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission to Trinidad, who on return to India from Trinidad, became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church of India. The son's earlier years were spent in training with the Canadian Presbyterian Mission to Central India, and he is now a member of the Central India Mission of the United Church of Canada.

Rev. J. W. R. Netram, educator, writer and evangelist, was born at Pipal Thana in the province of Agra, March 20th, 1890, the fifth son of Rev. and Mrs. John Netram. He was educated at Lucknow high school and Malwa Theological Seminary. In 1912, he became general assistant to the pioneer missionary, Dr. J. Fraser Campbell, at Rutlam. There he also assisted in the teaching of new missionaries and in editing a Hindu journal for the Central India Church.

On March 11th, 1923, having completed the full theological course under the Canadian Mission at Indore, C. I., he was ordained to the Christian ministry by Malwa Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in India. Since the formation of the United Church of Northern India he has been clerk of the Gujarat, Rajputana and Central India, besides editing the Hindi Teachers' Journal.

In 1924, he was asked to the celebrated Dr. E. Stanley on his evangelistic tours throughout India. For a year and a half he leave from the Canadian while he fulfilled "this important task with great satisfaction Jones and great benefit to all says the Central India Torch his return the Mission found he had grown in spiritual and he was removed to Indore he has helped in the seminaries, carried on work among the cated classes, and, as opportunities offered, conducted special meetings both in our own mission and outside." The Torch adds good reports of his evangelistic in India have reached the from all sides.

For the past two years he has resented the Indian Church district in the councils of the sion, thus serving as counsellor missionaries and native alike in their most urgent problems.

Since coming to Canada early autumn, this visitor from India won the confidence of church for his character and for his messages. His English is terse clearly spoken and his thinking orous.
