

Few People Know How to Make Tea!

One is served "boiled" Tea, "second-hand" Tea, and flavoured water; rarely does one obtain that real Tea—tasty Tea, that has been called the "Nectar of the Gods."

The way to get it is to buy Lipton's Tea and follow these directions in making it:

- 1—Always use an earthenware or china teapot.
- 2—Thoroughly warm the teapot by rinsing with hot water.
- 3—Put enough tea into the pot to suit requirements. Two teaspoonsful of Lipton's is ample for five cups.
- 4—Always use freshly-drawn water, and have it briskly boiling when poured on the tea.
- 5—Allow the tea to stand not longer than five minutes.
- 6—Add cream and sugar to suit taste.

But be sure to get Lipton's, because it is the only GUARANTEED QUALITY TEA. Grown, blended, packed, and sold by the same firm.

No other firm can give this guarantee.

MAKE YOUR STORAGE PREPARATIONS

Plan for your winter storage of vegetables now: Remember that you did not plant your war garden merely for the amount of fresh vegetables you were going to have this summer, but for the continuous supply you hoped to have all the year round.

The vegetables you use next winter are going to be of the utmost importance in the conservation of meat and wheat. You will need all that you can dry or can or store. A woman's patriotism may be measured in those days by the state of her cellar, her pantries and her ice-box.

By the time the war gardens have ceased yielding up the good things of the earth every housekeeper should have well-stocked pantry shelves and a good supply of fresh winter vegetables stored in her cellar.

In the past there has been too much preventable wastage through lack of proper facilities. See that this does not happen again. Better spend a little money now in making proper preparations which will be of permanent value than allow any food to go to waste.

We must supplement our commercial stores of food more and more with home canned, dried and stored products, and it is to her women that Canada looks for this patriotic service.

"What's the income of that young man who wants to marry you?" "I really don't know, papa; but isn't it fully? Herbert asked me the very same question about you."

RUSSELITES FOUND GUILTY

NEW YORK, June 21.—Joseph F. Rutherford and seven other defendants, followers of the late "Pastor" Russell, were found guilty of conspiring to violate the espionage law by a jury in Federal Court tonight.

When the jury filed into the court room and the foreman announced that all the defendants had been found guilty on all four counts in the indictments against them, Judge Howe's comment was that the verdict was "thoroughly right." The convicted men will be sentenced tomorrow.

The maximum penalty which can be imposed on each defendant is forty years imprisonment. The four counts on which they were found guilty were conspiracy, insubordination, disloyalty and resistance of the selective draft act. Each count carries a maximum penalty of ten years, Judge Howe, in imposing sentence, can rule that they run separately or concurrently.

Beside Rutherford, the defendants were William E. van Amburg, Robert J. Martin, Fred H. Robinson, Geo. H. Fisher, Clayton J. Woodworth, A. Hugh McMillan and Giovanni De Cecca.

GERMANY IS WAR WEARY AND ILL-FED

AN ATLANTIC PORT, June 24.—In Germany, war-weary and ill-fed, is in a state of unrest so acute that talk of revolt against the Imperial Government is common among both the military and civilian populations, according to Americans who arrived tonight on a Norwegian liner, after long residence in Germany or adjacent neutral countries.

Officers and men, the voyagers said, told them of a sullenness which is widespread in the German army, predicting that it would reach the point where the troops would refuse to fight. "You see that I wear the coat of the Kaiser; I only wish that you could know the feeling that lies behind it, for we are not going to stand this forever, a German major told Miss Olga Wursburg, one of those recording her story on coming ashore. The conversation, she declared, took place in a hospital at Godesberg, Germany, where the officer talked freely to her, not suspecting that she was an American. Under the same conditions she declared a private soldier said to her:

"Some day we are all going to put down our arms. Why should we fight? Our officers now, instead of leading us, go behind us with their guns at our backs."
Miss Wursburg, daughter of Frederick Wursburg, a wealthy Grand Rapids merchant, born in Germany, and a naturalized American citizen, declared that the morale throughout Germany was poor, and the people near revolt. With her family, who returned with her, she has lived six years in Germany. She asserted that soldiers in hospitals convalesce very slowly, so poor is the food given them.

RUSSIANS ASK AMERICANS FOR ASSISTANCE

They Make an Earnest Plea for Intervention, Either Economic or Armed

LONDON, June 24.—An earnest plea for intervention in Russia, either economic or armed, has been sent to President Wilson, by a large group of Russians here.

The plea is set forth in a long cablegram delivered to the American Embassy for transmission to Washington. It is signed by Constantine Nabokoff, Charge d'Affaires at London; M. Stachovich, Ambassador to Spain, and many other prominent Russians. It is understood that a similar appeal will be made by the Russian Ambassador at Washington.

"As Allied troops have been and still are being sent to the French and Italian fronts," continues the appeal, "so it is now necessary to send Allied troops to Russia. The peace treaty of Brest-Litovsk is not recognized by the Allies or by the Russian State. The Russian people now, more than ever, understand that Germany is their worst enemy."

The signatories call attention to the important work once done in the war by Russia, but explain that now organization for a struggle against Germany is hopeless without outside aid. "The Allied troops should constitute a sound nucleus around which those Russian may assemble who desire, as far as they are able to help the Allies."

U-Boat Fail, Says Captain Persius

LONDON, June 22.—The German U-boats are unequal to the warfare against them, is the virtual admission of Captain Persius, says a Rotterdam despatch to the Daily Telegraph. Captain Persius writes:

"Every layman knows that U-boat losses are unfavorable owing to the continually increasing sharpness and effectiveness of the defence measures of the enemy, which perhaps will further increase as the war progresses. "It is scarcely to be denied that our enemies are both carrying on the war and living in the belief that it will be possible for them to defend themselves against submarine needs for a long time at any rate. From the beginning of the U-boat warfare it was a mistake, often committed amongst us, to underestimate the resources of our enemies."

German U-Crew Barbarity

LONDON, June 21.—A new and flagrant example of German submarine barbarity is reported by the newspapers.

A submarine first torpedoed without warning and then shelled a British steamer. When the officers and crew of the damaged vessel took to the boats they were ordered alongside the submarine and forced to go in its deck, the captain being taken below as a prisoner. As the steamer had not yet sank the captain ordered some of the British to row one of their two boats back to her with a German prize crew which rifled the steamer systematically and then sank her with three bombs.

After having been employed for nearly five hours in this work the British were given some provisions and cast adrift. The same treatment was dealt out to the others of the crew numbering 28.

Of the 28 men in the second boat only five survived until she was picked up four days later. The occupants of the first boat were picked up in very critical condition on the fifth day by an American steamer.

but several nights of mild frost last night culminated in a very severe frost, which has caused a feeling of consternation all around, about all the crops of beans being completely frozen, and in many cases the potatoes, too, are frozen, the house-tops at an early hour being white with rime frost. The language turned out by some of the amateur farmers can only be described as picturesque profanity, with allusions in various forms to His Satanic Majesty, the Kaiser's ally.
