BIG LEAGUES

Brooklyn Wins
 Brooklyn kept from dropping into a tie for fifth place with their hated Manhattan rivals, the Giants by scoring one in the ninth to beat the Cardinals, 8 to 7, at St. Louis. Two of the Robins and four by the Cardinals were the toll of twirlers used in the hectic fray, which was marked by 20 hits and five errors. Each gathered ten hits, while four errors by the St. Louis team helped along the visitors' cause. Only two games were scheduled in the National League.

American League
 The Athletics gained half a game on the American League leaders, the Yankees, this afternoon by taking two games from the Browns, 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. The Quaker City team would have gained more but for the fact that the New Yorkers gallantly came from behind in the ninth at the Stadium to score three runs and beat Detroit, 4 to 3.

Mackmen in Clean-up
 The double win for the Mackmen at Philadelphia gave them a clean-up in the series and made it 12 wins in the last 14 starts.

Summer Proving Good Season For Radio "DX"

CHICAGO, July 18.—Summer time, long classed as a period in which distance radio reception was a fact in name only, slowly is bringing about a change in opinion among listening experts. The present summer season, but a few weeks older, has been productive of much better reception than all last winter when night after night local stations were all that could be received with any satisfaction.

Sunspot Blanket Removed

Numerous theories have been advanced for the change. Among them was the statement that the diminishing of sunspots, so much in evidence last winter, has removed a magnetic blanket that tended to smother radio signals when coming from greater distance than 150 miles. Since the sun began its southward journey, a noticeable improvement in reception has been observed. Distance stations that could not be logged last winter, with no local transmitters in operation, can now be brought in with a powerful nearby station functioning. On local distant periods this class of reception equals if it does not surpass the so-called ideal conditions of the winter.

Less Static And "Fading"

Low powered transmitters, mainly operating on the lower wave-lengths where the inter-station interference is the greatest, are the most difficult to bring in last winter. Now they tumble in almost on top of one another. One of the greatest drawbacks to ideal summer reception is the increased amount of static, attributed largely to thunderstorms. While static is ever in evidence, both in winter and summer, it dies out enough between summer thunderstorms so as to leave many periods wherein conditions are as nearly ideal as could be hoped for. Another disturbance known as "fading," wherein the signals come and go with varying intensity, this summer has been less of a mar to reception than the fading of last winter.

BELIEVE AMERICAN INDIAN IMMUNE TO SCARLET FEVER

LAWRENCE, Kan., July 18.—The American Indian is naturally immune to scarlet fever, believes Dr. N. P. Sherwood of the University of Kansas, who has made an extensive study of the disease among Indians. Dr. Sherwood bases his conclusions on observations made at Haskell Institute here, on questionnaires sent to nearly 100 Indian agencies, and on the test-

60 Years in "Game" But Wooden Indian Plays On

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 18.—The "Iron Men" of baseball have their day in the sun, then pass with the years, but Rochester's historic "Wooden Man" remains ever in the game. For more than half a century the wooden statue of a baseball player has "played the game" in front of Rochester cigar stores. He has outlived the wooden Indians that once offered competition, and has outplayed the famous baseball character he is supposed to represent—A. G. Spalding.

No games have been called on account of inclement weather, so far as he is concerned, nor has the season ever closed. Winter and summer he has stood the test of time. But the heavy coating of paint is chipping away now, the white is faded and the mass of black hair is flecked with gray. For nearly sixty years the "Wooden Man" has stood poised in his present position.

Chicago Commuters Soon to Ride I. C. Electrics

CHICAGO, July 18.—The seventh anniversary of the time when Chicago first began to need suburban passenger train service will be celebrated July 19-24, when the Illinois Central, which ran the first suburban train in 1856, changes its lines for commuters.

Doyle and London Hold Strong Places With Boys

LONDON, July 18.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has a strong place in the affections of English boys. His "White Company," "Sherlock Holmes" and "Brigadier Gerard" are prime favorites with a majority of 12,500 English boys between fourteen and eighteen to whom the Y. M. C. A. sent questionnaires. The boys also liked Jack London's "White Fang" and "Pickwick Papers" and "Tom Brown's School-days."

Many discussed modern sex novels received few votes in the replies. British boys apparently incline to adventure, detective and sport stories in their preferences. In reply to queries as to what stories affected them most before they were fourteen, "Treasure Island," "Robinson Crusoe," "Kidnapped," "Swiss Family Robinson," "Kenilworth," "Westward Ho" and "Pilgrims Progress" were most frequently mentioned. Only twelve of the eighty-four physicians reported ever having found the disease among Indians, six were in doubt and sixty-six reported that they had never observed it among their patients.

Fishing Frolic Features Tarpon Club Tournament

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., July 18.—A fishing frolic is planned for the annual fishing tournament of the National Tarpon Club, which will bring anglers of national prominence to the Mississippi Coast on August 5-10.

The tournament this year will give members an opportunity to display their ability, and in the event of adverse weather conditions, will issue a few days of good fishing. No limit is set for "fish tales," but the club will keep accurate records.

Chicago Commuters Soon to Ride I. C. Electrics

CHICAGO, July 18.—The seventh anniversary of the time when Chicago first began to need suburban passenger train service will be celebrated July 19-24, when the Illinois Central, which ran the first suburban train in 1856, changes its lines for commuters.

The first train made three round trips daily to the "outlying village" of Hyde Park, six miles away, and on the first trip, the record was "nary a passenger" was carried. Now there are now 400 suburban trains a day.

The change to electrification marks the completion of an old contract between the Illinois Central and the city of Chicago. Seventy years ago the city urged the Illinois Central to build its roadbed along the outer edge of Michigan Boulevard, to keep Lake Michigan's stormy assaults from washing away the then budding residential section.

A generation later the city fathers were dicker with the Illinois Central to regain the immensely valuable lake front they had been anxious to give away. One of the provisions in the new contract was that the Illinois Central must electrify its downtown lines by January, 1927, and the job has been completed seven months ahead of schedule. Since the recapture of the lake front, the city has built a 300 acre park beyond the railroad by filling.
