here this evening to pay our tribute to you, our bishop, previous to your departure from our midst.

It was with mingled feelings that we heard the news of your promotion. We are indeed sorry to lose the leadership of such an able and wise Counsellor, but we are extremely grateful to think that your outstanding ability has been recognized and you have been rewarded with the important See of Kingston.

During your thirteen years as the Bishop of this Diocese, your work has been one of great achievement. Your splendid ability in administration has caused a remarkable improvement in all our parishes.

The institution of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine came during your regime. Your constant reminders to the various parishes of the importance of this matter showed your insistence that the Catholic child must be well grounded in its Catholic Faith.

The continued progress of that great educational centre Saint Dunstan's University, is we believe, one of your grandest deeds. Year by year you saw to it that your priests received the necessary Post Graduate work and to-day we are able to witness the results. Saint Dunstan's can boast of an excellent staff—a staff fully qualified in every department.

Under your guidance, we, your parishioners, saw the work of the Charlottetown Hospital carried on most efficiently. Your wise and able leadership inaugurated the Annual Bazaar, which has become immensely popular with our people, has brought about a substantial decrease in the Hospital debt, and which we all sincerely hope will be continued yearly, in support of that grand charitable Institution.

In reflection, it seems clear that your years in Charlottetown have indeed been fruitful. We have realized the great zeal with which you have gone about these outstanding works and we sincerely hope the cooperation you have received was what you had desired.

As we bid you good-bye, we pray that God will spare you for many years to continue your grand work on behalf of others. We know that the historic Archdiocese of Kingston will flourish under your leadership, as has our own diocese of Charlottetown.

We offer you—as a token of our love and respect—this gift which we hope you will cherish as a remembrance of our esteem for you, our Bishop.

Many Attend War Loan Meeting At Kensington Hall

King George Hall at Kensington was filled last night at a victory loan rally at which Mr. F. R. Nauss presided.

The speakers were Messrs. Morley M. Bell, Summerside, Allison McLean, Summerside and J. A. Thompson, Kensington.

Interesting motion pictures were shown by Miss Hilda Gillis. They were "Their 5th Christmas" and "War Department Report."

Several musical selections were also included on the program. Miss Peggy McQuaid and James Saunders were heard in a fine duet while Mr. Russel McKay rendered a solo. Mrs. McKay was accompanist for both numbers.

Mr. Bell in the course of his address told of the enormous increase in Canada's armed forces since the outbreak of war. The increase in personnel and equipment called for more and more money. To the person who says "I can't afford to buy victory bonds" the answer is "you can't afford not to buy bonds", Mr. Bell declared — K.

fering under the heavy attacks now being launched by the Allies.

"How people in Germany can stick it today without staging a revolution, I don't know". FO. Mullen told how even tiny children in England had learned to recognize German planes at night by the sound and run for cover when they came over on bombing raids. He thought the guns were worse than the bombs as far as children were concerned because they scared them more.

By comparison he said the present raids on Germany were to the London blitz "as the flames of hell compared with pale moonlight." And he added that "if the Nazi population is not crazy they must be close to it."

Loan Must Succeed

Quiet and sincere in his manner, FO. Mullen was deadly serious in his efforts to make all present feel the necessity for this loan being a particular success.

He told of personal experiences on bombing raids on enemy shipping and railroads. He felt that the latter were Hitler's weakest point because they were not kept supplied with equipment prior to the war. His expressed opinion was that after it was all over it would be found that the railroads would prove the number one cause of Germany's collapse.

FO. Mullen spoke following the dinner sandwiched in between two business meetings yesterday. Mr. N.W. Lowther, chairman for the evening, introduced the speaker and thanked him afterwards.

During the afternoon and evening sessions salesmen for the loan heard Messrs W.H.V. Dunbar, Provincial vice-chairman, explain procedure in connection with the sale and registering of bonds. Joint chairmen for the session were: Messrs. P.W. Turner and A F Campbell and other speakers heard by the Queen's and King's County salesmen were: Messrs. N. W. Lowther, P E. Holland and D M. Gass. In the evening special war pictures were shown by Mr. B. Graham Rogers.

Contributory Old age Pensions Plan to be Considered

LONDON Ont., April 20 --(CP)— The contributory old age pension plan being considered by the federal government will be discussed with the provinces, Revenue Minister Gibson said tonight.

In an address prepared for delivery before the eastern Ontario Liberal Association, Col. Gibson said the contributory plan, forecast in the speech from the throne, would replace the present system under which the dominion and provincial governments contribute to the payment of a "small allowance" to the aged who are "practically destitute."

It was assumed the contributory plan would be one of the things to be discussed at the forthcoming dominion-provincial conference for which no date has yet been set.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB.—From his experience as school inspector, trustee and business man, Mr. J. W. Boulter discussed the problem of "youth training in our time" before the Y's Men's Club last evening. He considered that present-day youth problems were more serious and difficult than those in the past due to failure to teach children obedience, reverence or self-denial and to provide them with sufficient outlets for their activities in work and play. Certain types of screen and radio programs were seen to be definitely harmful. The speaker said it was necessary to "prepare our children to properly develop and enjoy this land of plenty." This training should be begun in home, school and church at the earliest age rather than depending upon youth training plans when the children had developed, often inthe wrong direction. Early training should be founded on obedience, respect and self-denial and home influences should be developed and improved. Radio and screen programs which feature the killer, the gangster or other low characters should not be available for children's entertainment but special programs of service inspiration, stressing the better things of life should be made more easily available and more attractive. During the meeting Walter Cox presented the usual baby gift to Walter Burhoe. Two new members were inducted into the club in an impressive ceremony.

Youthful Ch'town Sailor Dies In Halifax Hospital

News was received in Charlottetown yesterday of the death in the Royal Canadian Naval Hospital at Halifax of Able Seaman John Francis Howatt. He was 19. His mother, Mrs. William Howatt resides on Alley Street. His father, a member of the Veterans Guard of Canada, is serving in the Dominion.

275 Attend War Loan Meeting At North Rustico

Father Douglas MacNeill said last night that at least two hundred and seventy five people attended the war loan meeting in the spacious hall at North Rustico. Father MacNeill acted as chairman and expressed his pleasure at such a large attendance which he said looked good for the success of the war loan in that district.

After the showing of a film depicting what had happened to Holland when it was invaded by Germany Lt. Frank Proude of the Royal Canadian Navy was introduced to the meeting. Lt. Proude has had four years active service over two of which were spent in convoy work in the North Atlantic. He described graphically what total war means in Great Britain which he visited six times during his convoy work. "Some things I have seen I can never forget such as wreckage of torpedoed merchant ships floating around in the dark with men clinging to anything they could get hold of, some of the sky battles over Britain, and some army manoeuvres the details of which I cannot divulge," said Lt. Proude. In concluding his fine address he said that the men overseas looked to the people at home more than ever now for support morally and financially and they would be eagerly watching the success of Canada's Sixth Victory Loan.

Mr. B. Graham Rogers was the next speaker and in his opening remarks delivered a message from Mr. James LePage who was unable to be present on account of the salesmens meeting in Charlottetown which he had to attend. Mr. Rogers expressed his regret that Mr. Alban Peters was unable to be present on account of family illness which he hoped was not of a serious nature. He then referred to the wonderful success which had been achieved in Rustico during the past seven years under the able and courageous guidance of Father MacNeill and that this same spirit in a broader way among the United Nations will mean certain victory provided each and every individual does his part man-fashion. He outlined the various methods of buying bonds and terms of payment. The Fishermen's Union in North Rustico now has two thousand dollars in Victory Bonds purchased in previous loans which is as asset of great value to them and if conditions permit it is to be hoped they will purchase more in the Sixth Victory Loan Drive. "There are 54 men from Rustico in the Armed Forces looking to you to back them up," said Mr. Rogers in his concluding remarks.

The balance of the War Loan films were then shown and the meeting closed with the singing of The National Anthem.

There is only one War Loan meeting to-night—Friday—and that is at Cardigan.

Badoglio Prepares To Form New Gov't

NAPLES, April 20—(AP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio indicated after conferences with leaders of the six Italian political parties today that most of the obstacles in the way of forming a united war government had been overcome.

He said he probably would have an announcement tomorrow afternoon and it was generally believed this announcement would be that a new cabinet was formed. Badoglio, however, did not specify that this was the expected development.

It was reliably reported tonight that the only party which had not fallen in line was the actionist. Actionists have held that Badoglio had been too closely affiliated with the fascists in the past to head the proposed "democratic and anti-fascist government."

TORONTO, April 18 — (CP)— Another step toward greater unity in the Baptist church was made today when representatives of the conventions of Ontario-Quebec, the Maritimes and Western Canada met here to consider unified Sunday School lessons and planning for Baptist religious education.

Formation of a Canadian committee on religious education to take in all three conventions of the church was decided upon. Chancellor J.G. Gilmour of McMaster University, Hamilton, presided at the meeting which continues until Wednesday.

Tribute Paid To W.-O. Dickie By Wing Commander

Details have now been received concerning the death overseas of Warrant Officer Robert James Dickie, R. C. A. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dickie, 273 Euston Street, City.

The following letter is self-explanatory:

"Dear Mrs. Dickie.

"You have been informed by the Air Ministry of the very sad loss of your son, Warrant Officer R. J. Dickie, who was serving with my squadron. I have waited to write to you so that I could enclose the grave number and photographs of the funeral service.

"Your son's funeral took place at the R. A. F. Regional Cemetery, Cambridge, at 11.00 in the morning of the 24th February, 1944. The service was held at the graveside and he was buried with other flying comrades. The coffin was covered with the Union Jack and the Last Post and Reveille were sounded at the end. The Squadron Commander, Flight Commander and other officers, senior N. C. O's and airmen attended the funeral.

"You will wish to know that all graves are taken care of by the Imperial War Graves Commission who have erected a temporary cross pending the provision of a permanent memorial. I am instructed to explain that the question of re-interment, if this were desired, could only be considered at the conclusion of hostilities. The Grave Number is D. 13712.

"Warrant Officer Dickie was taking part in an attack on Stuttgart on the night of 20/21st February, 1944, as Wireless Operator of the aircraft. He was flying with a most capable crew, but unfortunately when over the target their aircraft collided with another and sustained heavy damage. The aircraft succeeded in reaching base, but while attempting to land, the aircraft crashed and all the crew were killed. It makes it all the more sad that this should have happened after completing the task they set out to do and getting back so near to base. We must be thankful that he did not suffer at the end.

"Your son was making his thirty-seventh sortie, and during the time he was with us he proved himself to be very keen and efficient in his duties both in the air and on the ground. He will be greatly missed by us all.

"May I now express the deepest sympathy which all of us feel with you in the sad loss you have sustained. Some measure of compensation in your sorrow will be the thought that your son died bravely doing grand work with the Royal Air Force, on major operations against the common enemy.

(Signed)
"W. DUNNICLIFFE,
"Wing Commander Commanding."

A graduate of Prince Street School and a student at Prince of Wales College, Robert James Dickie was taking a business course when he enlisted in the R. C. A. F. on October 26, 1940. Prior to going overseas on Oct. 27, 1941, he had taken air-training courses at Brandon, Calgary and Regina, finishing up by graduating from the MacDonald Gunnery School in Manitoba. He was wounded in the famous first thousand-plane flight over Cologne in June, 1942.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother, John Thomas Dickie, at home; and three sisters, Aletha (Mrs. Leith Cameron of Cape Traverse), Marion (Mrs. Urban Waddell, Kinkora), and Devona (Mrs. William Ross, City). He was but a few months over twenty-two years of age when killed.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. NEWTON L. VESSEY

Her many friends in town and vicinity were shocked to learn of the sudden passing on September 8th of Mrs. Newton L. Vessey, after a short illness at the P. E. I. Hospital.

Mrs. Vessey, formerly Miss Lottie Crockett of Pleasant Grove, was the daughter of William Crockett and the late Maria Rodd. She lost her mother when quite a young girl, had with her father the care of the home and younger children. She assumed her duties with a poise and cheerfulness that helped her all through life. She was a faithful and consistant worker in her church at the Grove. A charter member of the Epworth League of that church, also an ardent worker in Division of Sons of Temperance that held meetings in York. In 1916 she married Newton L. Vessey. They lived for some years in Broadview, Sask., also in Los Angeles, California.

On account of her husband's health they moved back to the Island where they have since resided. Mrs. Vessey was endowed with a very retentive memory and could quote passages from the best authors and poets, dearly loved music, was a good conversationalist being well informed in the topics of the day, a genial hostess, always welcoming her friends in a pleasing happy manner. She bore her last illness with quiet courage very few realizing how sick she was.

Besides her sorrowing husband there are left to mourn her aged father and brother Melbourne of Charlottetown; one brother Walter and sister Madge (Mrs. Guy Henderson) an infant sister predeceased her, besides nephews and nieces and a number of relatives and friends who mourn her passing. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor the Rev. G. C. Webster who spoke words of comfort at the McLean Funeral Chapel also at the cemetery at York. 4-21-1i.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Gladys E. Burns, who departed this life on March 29, 1943.

No one knows how much I miss her,
No one knows the bitter pain
I have suffered since I lost her.
Life has never been the same.
Though her smile is gone forever,
And her hand I cannot touch,
I shall always cherish memories
Of the one I loved so much.
Friends may think I have forgotten
When they sometimes see me smile,
But they little know the heartache
That the smile hides all the while.
