J. L. Ellis was admitted to the firm in 1841, and the name changed to Tiffany, Young & Ellis. On Nov. 10, 1841, Mr. Tiffany was married, in that same year also Mr. Tiffany determined to import his goods from Europe direct.

As he decided that Mr. Young should go to Europe in search of novelties and to establish more intimate relations with transatlantic houses. An important result of his trip was the acquisition to the regular stock of the firm of a line of French imitation jewelry.

Gradually the stock became more elegant and costly, and occasionally a diamond might be seen. It was about this time that the firm began to manufacture gold jewelry.

A larger store was taken in 1872 at No 271 Broadway, one block above the old location. The course of trade was fast making uptown and Mr. Tiffany was not slow to see it.

During the troublesome times of 1848 in Paris diamonds declined in value about 50 per cent, and Mr. Tiffany decided to invest largely in the gems, which they had begun to import extensively. Mr. Young and the firm's diamond clerk, Mr. Banks, set out for Paris in 1848. When they reached Paris they were regarded with suspicion and were arrested.

NANAIMO, April 12—Nanaimo is now practically free from any contagion and any quarantines hitherto existing is to be raised today. The city schools are to be re-opened today, and all public places will be thrown open to the public to-morrow.

The local health officer and authorities since that time have used every effort to stamp out the contagion and their efforts have been so successful, that the town is now practically clear of contagion, there having been no new cases developed within the past ten days, and the few yet remaining, it is expected, will be clear in a day or so.

A NEGRO MAN IN WOMAN'S GARB

BROOKLYN, April 12—A tall, cavily built person who was dressed in a superb fitting Directors long black cloth coat, with buttons being of the latest spring style and a brown skirt of ankle length, who happened to be straggling along Greene avenue, St. Grand, recently attracted the attention of Officer Swenson of the Chasson avenue precinct.

As he turned to look again Officer Swenson rubbed his eyes, and he had doubts. Then he decided to take action, and he arrested the individual who gave a pedigree as follows: William Fraser, colored, 22 years old, of 5 Lexington avenue. Fraser was taken to the station house where he explained that he was the victim of medicine and if his story is to be believed, he was an "awful example."

TEACHERS SHOULD BE MORE CAREFUL

MONTREAL, April 12—An inquest was held on Saturday afternoon on the remains of a young boy named Gabriel Picotte, of this city, who had been apparently as a result of a blow given him by his teacher at L'Ecole St. Pierre, a school conducted by the Marist brothers. The evidence showed that young Picotte had been attending school and about a month ago was corrected by a teacher, Emil Bernard, who struck him over the head with a wooden pointer.

Medical evidence showed that the boy had been suffering from tuberculosis, which had been aggravated by the blow he received and that as a result the meningitis had been set up. The medical evidence showed however that the boy had been suffering from tuberculosis for some time, and that there was no certainty that his death had been caused by the blow, which it was stated had been given inadvertently.
