THE EXPANSION POLICY

Much importance is attached to the meeting of the Australian Loan Council, which opened its meeting on May 27. The State Governments have adopted works programmes, mainly for the benefit of the unemployed, much more extensive than those undertaken previously. The Loan Council consists of representatives of the six State Governments and the Federal or Commonwealth Government. It fixes the borrowing powers of each Government, and raises the money. No Government can apply to the money market without the Council's approval. This is the result of the most recent amendment to the Commonwealth constitution.

At the New South Wales, Victorian and Queensland State elections held during the last few weeks the desirability of more Government enterprise was generally approved. At the beginning of the financial year 1930-31, it was expected that the aggregate deficits of all the Governments would amount to nearly 40 millions (Australian currency, 25 per cent. off sterling). For the financial year which closes on 30th June, 1935, it is estimated that the total deficits will amount to only 4 millions. It is well to remember that about 8 millions in year is paid from the revenue to a sinking fund for the liquidation of the public debt. These payments were maintained throughout the most adverse years. There has been a great reduction in the number of unemployed, and affairs generally are more prosperous. When the scheme for tidying up the depression, known as the "Premier's Plan" was first enforced, it was promised that as soon as the Budgets permitted, progress would be stimulated by greater public expenditures. That time, it is believed, has been reached.

Australia has financed herself throughout the bad years and it will continue to do so. The question concerns the limitations of the local money market. The State Governments asked the Loan Council for 33 millions, as compared with 22 millions last year, and another 10 millions has to be raised for the expenditure over several years on local rehabilitation. The loan of 15 millions floated earlier in the year at 3 per cent. was successful, but was not accepted as readily as was expected. During the last few years there have been large surplus funds for investment, and money became cheap, but the increasing demands for capital—due to mining and general industrial use—have checked the supply. Interest rates on loans upon real estate fell from 6-1-2 to 7-1-2 per cent. down to from 4-1-2 to 4-1-2 per cent. Low rates still rule, but the National Bank points out in its May review that the downward trend, for the time at least, has been arrested.

The Loan Council agreed to borrow 30 millions in 1935-36, including 25 millions for public works. The first loan—12-1-2 millions at probably 3-3-8 per cent.—will be floated within the next few weeks.

WOMEN LAWYERS MAKE AMAZING ASSERTION

LOS ANGELES, July 20—Charges that many women school teachers throughout the United States are divorcing their husbands to hold their jobs were made by several speakers at the closing session of the National Association of Women Lawyers.

Percilla Randolph, Los Angeles, newly-elected president of the association, said yesterday in California many teachers conceal their marriages, while others obtain divorces to escape discrimination against married women.

"An appalling number of women teachers come to Nevada for convenient divorces," said Pelice Cohn, the only woman lawyer in the state of Nevada. "Five came in on the day I left Reno. Four of them told me they wanted such divorces. Most of them intend, at some time, to remarry their divorced husbands."

Rosalind Goodrich Bates, of Los Angeles, urged the women lawyers to work not only for uniform divorce laws in the United States, but also for divorce by mutual consent.

Rita Callway, of Arkansas, upheld the "painless divorce" of her State, saying while the law is liberal, the courts are zealous in protecting the rights and welfare of minor children.

The convention went on record against minimum wage and minimum hour laws for women on the ground they are a basis for sex discrimination "which is rampant throughout the United States, as well as abroad."

The delegates demanded in a resolution that equal rights be granted men and women, through constitutional amendment and international treaty.

Put Golden Voice On Talking Clock

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, July 20—The young woman who is now hailed as "The Golden Voice" of the telephone system, was judged by John Masefield, poet laureate and Miss Sybil Thorneike, listening for two hours to a great variety of voices.

The golden voice will be worked pretty hard before it has completed its task of making records on sound films to be used on the "talking clocks" that are to be installed in centres outside London, where she has finished Miss Cain will be glad to know that she herself will not have to tell anxious subscribers the exact time. For this they will have to be satisfied with a "canned" voice.

The price of Miss Cain's victory was the ordeal of being confronted by a room full of journalists, press photographers and men making talking films in the presence of the judges, who included Mrs. Atkinson of Burley-in-Wharfedale, henceforth to be known because of her unflattering courtesy at the telephone as the perfect telephone subscriber.

It was curious to see all the blaze and dash directed on a girl who spends her working hours in the obscurity of a telephone exchange and who is only known to her business world by her voice. In her free time she often takes part in private theatricals, a leading part one imagines, but in spite of that her voice fulfilled the requirement of being "without any trace of the theatrical."

The test passage she read from "L'Allegro" gave every opportunity to show the fullness of her vowels, and Mr. Masefield said afterwards that she was right in reading as she did without emphasis, knowing that the words themselves were enough. He said that Miss Cain had a sense of beauty, rhythm and justice. Miss Thorneike expressed her admiration, but admitted that, unlike the telephone authorities, she liked to hear a voice with the rich accents of the North, and said she would love to hear a Scottish voice tell her the time.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
VACATION PICTURES

Land or sea offers unlimited opportunities for snapshotting.

WITH the arrival of a really warm summer weather, beautiful trees and flowers, we begin to think in earnest about outdoor life and vacations. I suppose one could go on a vacation without a camera but that would be like trying to sail a boat without a rudder. To say the least it would seem that something important was missing.

When planning a vacation you should look forward to the snapshots you are going to get, for on your return to home and work, and in later years when your trips become fond memories, you can allow your vacations over and over again. Snapshots pay dividends on your vacation investments in the returned pleasure long after your return.

There is one important thing to keep in mind in vacation snapshotting and that is the variety of light conditions you may encounter in your travels. Picture taking might well be classed in four groups, according to the exposure they need, and by adopting as a standard exposure for each group, one that is intermediate between the shortest and longest that will make a satisfactory exposure, there will be only four exposures to consider and these can be memorized.

These four groups are as follows: Number one—Marine and beach scenes and extreme distant landscapes. Number two—Ordinary landscapes showing the sky with the principal subject of your picture in the foreground. Number three—Nearby portraits in the open shade

... by that I mean not under trees or the roof of a porch and last—shaded nearby scenes.

These four groups, or classes, just about cover the different types of pictures you will want to take on your vacation. With modern-day film and cameras, exposure problems have been greatly simplified but it is still necessary to use a little good judgment and not expect the impossible from your camera.

There are many types of cameras to meet every requirement of the photographer, whether he is an amateur or a professional, but no camera is capable of taking all types of pictures under all conditions. It is true that some cameras are more versatile than others. One may have an extremely fast lens which permits the taking of snapshots under adverse lighting conditions and if it also has a fast shutter you can take pictures of subjects moving at extreme speeds. Other cameras have lenses and shutters of various speeds to take pictures—and good ones—within certain limits and conditions.

Almost every dealer in cameras and photographic supplies has printed outdoor exposure tables giving details of exposures, etc., in the four classes mentioned above. Ask your dealer for one of them and go forth with your camera and take the kind of pictures you'll be proud to show your friends.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.

Full-time Work for Unemployed

More loan funds are asked for in order that the State Governments may enable the unemployed to earn more money. In Victoria, for instance, married unemployed were guaranteed the right to earn from 1 pound to 2 pounds 10 shillings per week according to the size of the family. The new Country Party Government, kept in office by Labor, proposes to allow each unemployed man to earn the basic wage, of about 64 per cent. There is a strong public opinion against what is called "the Cole"—the payment of maintenance money for which no work is done. Because of the new policy, Victoria submitted to the Loan Council proposals for a public works policy costing 5-1-2 millions, instead of three millions as formerly.

CONTROL OF BUSINESS

In different Australian States, bills have been passed, or are being passed, creating boards or committees to control the marketing of primary products. Control extends to the regulation of supplies and prices. Victoria already has boards controlling butter, milk, and dried fruits. The new Country Party Government has presented a measure for extending the system in that State to any other rural product whatsoever. Before the appointment of the board, which is to consist of two representatives of the producers and one representative of the Government or public—at least 55 per cent. of producers in the industry must notify their approval.

FEDERAL MARKETING BOARDS

Federal action is contemplated. Controlled production and marketing in the dairy and meat industries, with the co-operation of the State Governments, was proposed by the Commonwealth Government in an agenda which it submitted to the meeting of the Australian Agricultural Council, in Canberra, on May 27.

The Commonwealth Government's plans aim generally at complete organization of the primary industries to meet changed conditions.

WORLD'S POULTRY CONGRESS

The World's Poultry Congress which is to be held in Berlin, Germany, in 1936 will open on July 24. Instead of July 31, as was originally decided upon. The reason for the change of date is to avoid the clash with the opening of the Olympic Games, which are also being held in Berlin next summer.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS
(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
HAMILTON, July 19—An appeal for funds for the new Reconstruction Party headed by Hon. H. H. Stevens, was made from the platform in Hamilton Technical School tonight before Mr. Stevens spoke.

L. M. Davis, of Toronto, made the appeal.

"We want Hon. H. H. Stevens, to go to Ottawa with a party that is untrammeled," said Mr. Davis in emphasizing that "no strings can be attached" to the contributions.

WORCESTER, South Africa, July 18—(C.P.)—Suggestion that a human skeleton be hung at a prominent corner in the town as a warning to reckless drivers was made at the town council meeting.

Variety In Feeding Stuffs

Canadian live stock and poultry feeders have a wide range of commercial mixed feeds from which to select their requirements. For the year ended September 30, 1934, there were 1,301 brands of mixed feeds registered under the Feeding Stuffs Act administered by the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Poultry feeds are much more numerous than feeds for other classes of stock and account for 935 brands, or 72 per cent. of the total. Dairy feeds follow with 129 brands, calf meals with 64, and hog feeds with 43.

The increased production of high protein or protein and mineral mixtures to supplement and balance rather than to replace farm grown feeds has been a notable development in recent years. A few years ago such preparations were rare, while in the year under review they amounted to 108 brands. This trend is in keeping with the teachings of agricultural leaders and recognizes the farmers' need to balance rations with the minimum cash outlay for purchased feeds.

In addition to these mixed feeds there were also registered some 278 brands of single feed materials such as tankage, meat scrap, fish meal, powdered milk and buttermilk, gluten feed, hominy feed, brewers' and distillers' dried grains, etc.

GOLF

Every summer a number of men enquire from us as to the desirability or otherwise of golf. Although many women are devotees of the game, they do not seem to worry, to the same extent as do the men, about golf as a form of exercise.

Most men seem to think it either necessary or desirable for them to indulge in some form of strenuous exercise. In many cases their pride prompts them to show that they are as active as they were ten or twenty years ago in general, and to play with much more gracefulness than do men.

There is nothing peculiar about golf, excepting to those who do not play. It is a form of recreation which brings the individual to walk in the open air, to relax, to enjoy the company of others, and to gain personal satisfaction through improving his skill at the game.

There are some however, who play at golf without deriving any relaxation or satisfaction. They are angry with themselves and irritated with everyone else. They are a stroke above the average spoils the day for them, interferes with their sleep and makes them generally unwell.

Whether it be a question of golf, bridge or any other form of recreation, it is best to give it up if it is found to control the player; it then ceases to be recreation.

A fairly safe guide, but not an absolutely reliable one, is that exercise which can be taken in comfort after the age of forty, is, in all cases, desirable to have a health examination at intervals in order to receive personal guidance in this important matter of suitable exercise.

Many men worry about their hearts. One type of man goes on playing strenuously as if to prove thereby that his heart is all right;

New System Of Identification Important

From information received by the Live Stock Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, the importance to swine breeders of the new regulations recently enacted under the Pedigree Act, whereby all pigs born in Canada since January 1, 1935, must be identified either by tags or by ear tags before the pigs are eight weeks old, and before weaning, are not being fully appreciated.

The new system requires that if a breeder decides to tattoo his pigs, the identifying tags shall be allotted by the Canadian Live Stock Records, Ottawa, and if he favours the use of tags, then these must also be ordered through the same organization. Not until the proper identification of the pigs has been made will the official registration be recorded. Moreover, the export of pure bred pigs to the United States cannot be made without this identification. This system, if properly followed, provides a distinct and positive identification for every registered pig in Canada. The advantage to the purchaser is that a definite link is established with the pedigree certificates of the pigs.

With the keen demand at present for pure bred pigs, compliance with this new method of identification makes it possible to sell pure bred swine as registered stock without difficulty.

Johnny had used some unparliamentary language, much to his mother's distress, when he said, "Johnny" she cried, "do stop using such dreadful expressions. I can't imagine where you pick them up."

"Well, mother, replied Johnny, Shakespeare uses them."

"Then don't play with him again, commanded his mother; he's not a fit companion for you, I'm sure."

UNIMPRESSED

Mother believed in appealing to her children rather than punishing them. One day when Tommy had been particularly fractious she said, "If you are going to be naughty, Tommy, you'll make mother poorly, and she'll die and be taken to the cemetery."

OUR SUBSIDY CLAIMS TREATED AS JOKE BY LIBERAL POLITICIANS

On Jan. 21, 1930, while Premier Saunders was in Ottawa presenting a "memorial of claim" for some four hundred thousand dollars annual subsidy, Mr. W. M. Lea, as Acting Premier, PUBLISHED OVER HIS NAME IN THE PATRIOT NEWSPAPER A STATEMENT OF CLAIM FOR $3,372,165 additional annual subsidy, plus $200,000 "cash subsidy."

On the same evening, the Charlottetown Board of Trade at the suggestion of Senator Hughes, adopted a resolution urging the appointment of a Royal Commission to adjudicate on the subsidy claims questions. Senator J. E. Sinclair, who was present, objected on the ground that a Commission was not necessary and might do harm. He stated that our case was then before the Dominion Government and "was well advanced", and that we might expect a settlement "shortly". Furthermore, he contended that any Commission would mean a year's delay "and Prince Edward Island could not afford such delay."

On Jan. 25, 1930, Premier Saunders returned from Ottawa and in an interview with the Patriot newspaper expressed agreement with everything Senator Sinclair had said, adding that he was surprised that anyone would advocate a Royal Commission in view of the progress the Federal Government was making in the matter. He announced that he had filed "a special memorial" at Ottawa setting forth the Province's claims in lieu of public lands in the light of the settlement of the Manitoba case; that "an audit board of expert accountants" had been "appointed to make FINAL ADJUSTMENT OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND SUBSIDY CLAIMS."

This statement, transmitted by the Patriot editor to the Canadian Press, received wide publicity in the Maritimes and its reaction may be judged from the following statement in a Halifax Newspaper of January 29, 1930:

"These announcements from Charlottetown have left the impression that Prince Edward Island claims are to be dealt with first and specially and that the Premier of the Island was able to make arrangements of this kind. This impression is incorrect. It appears however, to be the fact that the Premier of Prince Edward Island was a party to a conference regarding this vitally important matter to which the Premiers of the other two Maritime Provinces were not invited, and of which they were not advised. THIS IS REGARDED BY THOSE AWARE OF THE CIRCUMSTANCES AS DISTINCTLY UNFORTUNATE AND LIABLE TO LEAVE THE FURTHER IMPRESSION THAT THERE IS SOME BREAK IN THE MARITIME FRONT."

It was then revealed that the "board of experts" WAS MERELY THE DOMINION BOARD OF AUDIT, WITH NO JURISDICTION TO MAKE FINAL ASSESSMENT OF ANY SUBSIDY CLAIMS. But the effect of the mischievous Liberal propaganda may be judged from the Board's own report, dated October 8, 1930, from which we quote:

"The Board have been somewhat handicapped in these investigations by the early impression of the Province of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick that the Board of Audit were to be final arbitrators. FINAL AND COMPLETE NEGOTIATIONS MUST BE CONDUCTED DIRECTLY between the Provincial Governments and the Dominion Government. . . . The Board DO NOT FEEL THAT THEY ARE IN A POSITION TO ADVISE FINALLY AS TO AN EQUITABLE REASSESSMENT OF THE SUBSIDIES OF THE THREE MARITIME PROVINCES before a complete investigation is made into the various forms of taxation which prevail throughout Canada."

It was before this Board—incompetent, on its own admission, to make any authoritative recommendation—that Mr. Lea presented his "ideal budget", asking for a subsidy increase of $438,000. He obtained nothing, of course, NOR WAS IT UNTIL THE MACMILLAN AND GOVERNMENT TOOK THE MATTER IN HAND, AND BY CO-OPERATION WITH THE OTHER MARITIME PROVINCES, obtained, first the appointment of the White Commission with Chief Justice Matheson as Maritime representative, and subsequently a claims recognition for this Province to the amount of THREE MILLION DOLLARS or an annual subsidy increase over the Duncan award of $150,000.

USED TO IT

Looking round the drawing-room Mrs. Hostess realized that many of her guests' dresses were extremely revealing.

She turned to the clergyman on the settle beside her—I am afraid, she said, that some of the ladies' dresses are rather décolleté.

"Oh, I don't mind a bit, was the reply. You see, I've been 10 years in Africa—among the heathen, you know.
