The motorbus stopped and the conductor looked earnestly up the steps, but no one descended and at last he staked up impatiently.

"Ere, you," he said to a man on top "don't you want Westminster Abbey?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Well," retorted the conductor "come down for it. I can't bring it on the bus for you."

WAR ORDERS TO CANADA

AGGREGATE $200,000,000

Enormous Business Brought to this Country Through the Persistence of the Government.

Great Credit due to Sir George Perley, Acting High Commissioner in London.

Orders for munitions and equipment for war aggregating $200,000,000 have been placed in Canada by Great Britain and the Allied Powers through the medium of the Canadian Government and its assistance and advice to Canadian manufacturers. The Shell Commission created by the Government in the early stages of the war have made possible Canada's participation in munition supplies to the extent of $150,000,000. The tremendous business brought to this country was never realized until the following statement of it in detail was issued by Hon. Senator Loughheed, acting Minister of Militia:—

cheese; 20,446 tons flour; 78,968 pounds fowl; 177,236 tons oats; 4,636,332 pounds of preserved meats; 3,120,000 pounds of dried vegetables; 2,000,000 pairs of great coats; 1,000,000 pairs of trousers; 25,000 coats; sheepskin linings; 512,000 yards white flannel; 1,000,000 cap comforters; 1,040,000 cardigans; 100,000 cholera belts; 500,000 cotton drawers; 150,000 fingerless gloves; 800,000 pairs woolen mitts; 200,000 pairs leather mitts; 950,000 pairs worsted socks; 25,000 pairs lumbermen's socks; 50,000 pairs long socks; 200,000 woolen undershirts; 20,000 pairs rubber boots; 1,086,500 flannel shirts; 100 pair shoe packs; 200 tons brass strips; 259 travelling kitchens; 2,000 wagons; 50,000 horse collars.

SIR GEO. PERLEY'S WORK.

Since the early weeks of the war the Government has made active and persistent efforts to obtain on behalf of the Canadian producers and manufacturers a reasonable proportion of orders for munitions of war, stores, and foodstuffs which are necessary for maintaining the military operations of Great Britain and her allies. Repeatedly and insistently the representatives of Canada, the ability and desire of her manufacturers and producers to supply needed articles, have been brought to the attention of the British and Allied Governments both through the Colonial Secretary and through Sir George Perley, acting High Commissioner in London. The Government has been urged on His Majesty's behalf to supply the British Government to furnish a share of the enormous quantities of war supplies needed.

HUGE RUSSIAN ORDER

An order from the Russian Government for shells obtained by private interests has been allotted to a considerable extent in Canada. Payments to Canadian manufacturers on account of this order will, it is stated, probably reach from seven to ten million dollars.

There have also been obtained large orders for making explosives for the purpose. It is anticipated that the shell committee will shortly issue a statement setting forth the amount of orders placed in Canada for the manufacture of empty shells and of mixed ammunition.

Canada is capable of turning out empty shells in very large numbers by means of the organization which has been established through the efforts of the shell committee during the past nine months. In the meantime, however, the situation in Great Britain has changed and the industries of that country are in a position to turn out empty shells as rapidly as they can be converted into the fixed ammunition necessary for use at the front.

PUSHED CANADA'S CLAIMS

The correspondence on the subject has assumed large proportions and is of a varied character. While the Government has declined to make representations on behalf of any middleman, it has constantly maintained the policy of placing before the British Government all possible information as to the products and manufacturers of all kinds obtainable in Canada which might be utilized or required for war purposes. The British Government has been repeatedly requested from time to time to bring this information to the attention of the Allied Governments.

LIBERTY ABUSED

Sir,—Many are asking what we are fighting about. The Chicago Daily News went to the core of the matter when it said that Great Britain is fighting for "the principle—the fruits of the principle—the liberty of the individual, against the despotism of the State."

To us British subjects who have never known anything else but individual freedom it is difficult to conceive what the despotism of the State which Germany wishes to impose could mean. We forget, or do not know, at what a price this precious boon, which many of us are sadly abusing, this precious liberty was bought by our forefathers and transmitted to us as their most precious legacy. We forget their hard lot and the blood and tears that they shed for our freedom as a prescriptive right, and we are apt to stand up and challenge the right of anyone who dares to interfere with us or hinder us in doing what we wish.

This is right and it is the basic principle of British freedom and it is upon this principle that Britain stands or falls. In order that Britain will stand we must use wisely that freedom that she has given us and if we fail in our duty to her now in this crisis she will surely fall before the onslaught of Germany, who will then impose upon us a despotism.

It is a well established fact that lack of use or the unwise use of anything will cause it to wither and die. This is true in things physical as well as in things moral. If we have an unused organ it atrophies and loses its use. If we do not use our mental powers we lose them. It is equally true if we do not use our freedom. If we abuse it we will surely lose it. As the Jewish nation failed in their duty towards the Gentiles—and through their failure lost their high position and it was given to another, so will our freedom be taken from us if we do not do our duty.

It is painful and humiliating to read that in Montreal officers who had returned from the front were hissed, stoned and rotten egged, by a number of irresponsible, as they attempted to address a meeting to secure recruits for the war. When individual freedom goes to these extremes and is so perverted it is high time to deprive such people of a boon they abuse so grossly. Such people do not deserve the freedom they enjoy. They howled down and ill-used those who were only asking them to use their freedom that that freedom might be preserved. Montreal has sent many good men to the front to lay down their lives for the liberty which those irresponsible so vitely abused.

In our own recruiting campaign we people do not seem to be awake to the fact that it is only by the proper use of our freedom that we can preserve it. It is a hard choice that is laid upon us, but we must do our duty. We must place our lives in the balance. We must make our choice willingly. We must do it now. Individual liberty is worth it. I am, sir,
Charlottetown.

ALEXANDER ROSS.

IMPROVED ATLANTIC SERVICE

In February last representations were placed before the Admiralty as to the inadequacy of transportation facilities across the Atlantic, as that condition prevented our producers and manufacturers from availing themselves of opportunities which might otherwise be open. As a result of these efforts eighteen steamers were detailed by the Admiralty for the purpose of transporting across the Atlantic supplies purchased in Canada for the British and Allied Governments.

Sir George Perley, Acting High Commissioner, has been continually engaged in assisting in these matters, and the success which has attended them is in no small degree owing to his energy and activity. That such efforts on behalf of the Government have not been unavailing will be realized from the following incomplete list of orders placed in Canada by the British and Allied Governments:

ORDERS PLACED BY THE BRITISH.

10,000 sets saddlery, 3,500 sets artillery harness, 13,500 saddle blankets, 10,000 sets saddles, 10,000 saddle blankets, 2,500 pairs wire traces, 200 miles cable, 301 tons copper rod, 17,500 sets artillery harness, 15,000 double sets artillery harness, 17,500 saddle blankets, 107,206 gross tons oats, 89,344 gross tons hay.

ORDERS PLACED BY THE FRENCH.

458,200 army blankets, 15,000 complete sets saddlery, 15,000 saddle blankets, 5,000 complete sets saddlery, 5,000 saddle blankets, 20,000 sets artillery harness, 20,000 long driving whips, 10,000 eit nummahs, 20,000 saddle blankets.

ORDERS PLACED BY THE RUSSIANS.

20,000 sets saddlery.

ADDITIONAL WAR SUPPLIES

The above list may be supplemented by the following list sent out by the Colonial Office and showing other orders placed for the British Government in Canada:—

170 tons acetons; 1,000,000 Ross bayonets and scabbards; 1,900 tons cordite; 4,500,000 fuses; 16,500 tons sulphuric acid; 100,000 Ross rifles; 125,000 lb. and high explosive shells; 125,000 eighteen P.R. shrapnel shells; 78,000 sets accoutrements; 42,367 ammunition boxes; 25,000 bandoliers; 150,000 brass brushes; 200,000 shaving brushes; 5,000,000 pounds para-nic candles; 257,700 mess tins; 287,000 pick axes; 50,000 picketing posts; 200,000 picketing pegs; 120,000 shovels; 108,000 fir sleepers; 3,000 aluminium stock pots; 45,900 doses tetanus antitoxine; 3,000 crossing timber; 500,000 water bottles; 11,624,924

TURKISH VIEW OF SITUATION IN PENINSULA

CONSTANTINOPLE, via London, July 23.—There has been no change in the situation on the Gallipoli front, in the past week. Both the Allies and the Turks have confined their efforts to desultory small arms fire and sapping operations. The weather has been excessively warm.

The Turks are concentrating many new troops near the Gallipoli theatre. After surmounting many difficulties they now have placed in successful operation, plants for the manufacture of ammunition of heavy artillery. The output of these factories it is asserted is several thousand shells a day.

There is but slight foundation for reports of famine and epidemics of disease in Constantinople. The city is well provided with moderately cheap food. There have been no disturbances in the streets, and no cases of cholera have been reported.

would be acceptable in the United States and would remove a serious cause of friction.

"Along our present lines," the Times continues, "we are heading straight for a very sharp difference of opinion with the citizens and Government of the United States. Such a disturbance of American sentiment cannot be to our interest. It means that the United States may be hampered and weakened in dealing with other issues from other quarters. It means while the war lasts an accumulation of diplomatic friction and when the war is ended an aftermath of resentment and the presentation of a great bill for damages."
