WEDDING BELLS—At the United Church parsonage, Cornwall, on Thursday at 7.30 p.m., Oct. 26th, by Rev. D. K. Ross, B.A., Neil Daniel Livingston of New Dominion, to Florence MacKenzie, daughter of Alexander MacKenzie of Long Creek. The bride and groom were ably supported by Miss Margaret Taylor and Mr. Campbell MacPhee and a group of friends and relatives were also in attendance. The bride is a graduate nurse of P. E. I. Hospital and is well and favourably known by a large number of people in this Province. The Guardian wishes the happy couple every success as they begin life together. Mr. Livingston has a farm near Afton Hall, New Dominion, where they will reside.

RECEIVES INVITATION FROM DUBLIN MAYOR—The following clipping is from the St. Paul Dispatch, Oct. 24. The young man referred to is a former student of St. Dunstan's University, a brother of Mrs. John A. Griffith, 44 Weymouth St., a son of the postmaster at Bedford Station. He was born at "Flinty Cove," a farm quite near Bedford. A letter and a souvenir pictorial edition of the thirty-first Eucharistic Congress in Dublin, Ireland, in 1932, has been received by Robert Emmett Byrne at 249 Selby avenue, from A. F. Byrne, lord mayor of Dublin. Mr. Byrne, who is Canadian director of the Cosmopolitan Club of St. Paul, wrote to the lord mayor, commenting on the fact that both, being of the same name, and Mr. Byrne's parents being born in Ireland, undoubtedly a relationship existed between them. In the lord mayor's letter he expressed a wish that the St. Paul resident visit him some time and that "cede mille falte," which is Gaelic for "one hundred thousand welcomes," will be extended to him from the Irish people.

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER—Mrs. Preston Senter was hostess at a delightfully unique shower Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Mary Florence MacKenzie, R. N. The guest of honor was escorted to a decorated chair above which hung a beautiful white bridal veil from which floated streamers of the same chaste colour. The Misses Mildred Thompson and Ella Simpson, dressed as medical doctors, and Miss Helen Wood in the garb of a nurse on duty arrived on the scene apparently equipped to perform an operation. The "op," however, was a very pleasant and surprisng affair which resulted in three three masquerading classmates of the "patient" assisting her in the unwrapping of many lovely gifts, and in the reading of the humorous and affectionate verses accompanying the various presents. The rooms were attractively decorated with beautiful fall flowers. After the bride-to-be was profusely showered with confetti and the very best of wishes, a dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the classmates of Miss MacKenzie.

HOOPS AND CANVAS MADE SEA SERPENT
SILVER LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 29—The reported appearance of a "sea serpent" off the Pacific coast recalls how in 1855 five fishermen in a boat here were amazed one evening to see a sinuous body, spotted green and yellow, writhing on the lake. An ugly head appeared, and thrust its mouth eight feet into the air. Before the frightened anglers reached shore, the monster was gone. Their story drew thousands during the summer.

In 1857 a hotel burned. In the wreckage was found a maze of wire hoops and a long canvas case, painted green and yellow. The proprietor later admitted the "serpent" was a publicity hoax. It had been hidden on the lake bottom and inflated at the proper time by men on shore with a hidden bellows. When they let the air out, the serpent sank.

Mrs. Ben Acorn has returned from a visit to Boston and Detroit.

LONDON, Oct. 28—(G.P.)—The Empire capital will have a big sport centre when the plans for the transforming of the Empire Stadium, Wembley, are carried out. A new building is to be erected to contain a large swimming pool and a great boxing arena, which could also be used for ice hockey and other sporting contests. There will be accommodation for 8,000 spectators round the swimming pool and 12,000 in the boxing hall.

It is hoped the buildings will be ready for use next July, and the swimming pool will be what the Empire Games, which are to be decided in this country next year.

Made In Canada

With regard to the recent marketing regulations in France, the word "Canada," in the case of Canadian goods, must be used without abbreviation and should not be accompanied by the name of a city or province. For instance, phrases such as "Product of Canadian Industry" or "Made in Toronto, Can." should not be used.

Widespread Labor Trouble In Cuba

Fears Held For Safety Of American Sugar Mgr.

(By Edmund A. Chester)
 (Associated Press Staff Writer)
HAVANA, Oct. 28—(A.P.)—Fears were expressed for the life of an American manager of a sugar mill in Oriente Province tonight as reports told of widespread labor trouble in many sections of Cuba.

REFUSES HELP OFFER
 C. M. Hervis, Manager of the Alto Cedro Sugar Mill, near Anitilla, was still a prisoner of workers there and reliable reports said the situation was "menacing and disquieting." Hervis had declined offers of soldiers to attempt a rescue, fearing the attempt would result in a fight between workers and soldiers.

Around World In Three And Half Days In 'Plane Is Aim Of Griffin

Will Refuel Machine In The Air And Get Sleep The Use Of An Automatic Pilot.

GREENSBORO, N.C., Oct. 28—A non-stop solo airplane flight around the world in three and a half days is planned by Capt. Bennett Griffin.

Griffin said army and navy officials were co-operating with him in construction of a plane to make the non-stop attempt, probably next May or June.

With Jimmy Mattern, the Oklahoma City flyer was forced down in a Russian peat bog while attempting a round-the-world flight in 1932.

In order to reduce the record time of five and a half days by Wiley Post, Griffin said he planned to refuel in the air by using a fuel-injection automatic pilot.

"I expect to maintain a speed of between 250 and 300 miles an hour," he asserted. "I expect to explain now being built," Griffin said. "Something new will be of use in long distance flights—will be a long distance motor, in case he is forced down on water."

TOWN MAYOR FIRES CONDEMNED HOUSES

DUDLEY, England, Oct. 28—(G.P.)—A ter a condemned "bungalow town" at Dudley had been set on fire by the Mayor the fire brigade had to save from the flames the fence of a school. Twenty bungalows were burned down and about 80 remain to be destroyed.

Quite a civic event was made of the round of destruction. The bungalows had been thoroughly well soaked with petrol, and as the Mayor, (Alderman J. H. Molyneux) and the chairman of the Housing Committee entered, each with flaming torches, members and officials of the Council cheered lustily.

But the civic dignitaries were forced to beat an undignified retreat as the flames roared in response the colony was an inferno, and the flames could be seen for miles around. Motorists passing on the main Birmingham road left their cars to watch the blaze. The crowd were the former tenants of the bungalows, who have been given accommodation elsewhere.

Believe At Plan To Tempt Willingdoms Son

LONDON—Police today started an investigation into what they described as an undoubted attempt on the life of the Viscount Raton, only son of Earl Willingdom, former Governor of India, and former Governor of Canada.

Police were called last night by Miss Dorota Flatau, a neighbour of the Viscount, encountered a man she said was an "Indian" approaching on the flat roof outside his apartment. She said the man carried an 18-inch curved knife and that when she threw a flowerpot at him he fled. Authorities recovered the knife and a piece of lead pipe the intruder threw at Miss Flatau.

The Viscount, who was said to be going to India next Monday, was not at home when the incident occurred.

The Smallest Man In World

The most amazing man in the world—a man who might have stepped straight out of a page from "Gulliver's Travels," is Harold Pyott of Stockport, and he is the smallest known man on earth. It is possible even, that he is the smallest human being ever known to live, for he is only 23 inches high and weighs 24 lbs. And he is 45 years of age. The most famous midget was of course, General Tom Thumb, of Barnum fame, but Mr. Pyott can concede him 12 inches in a height contest.

He is so small that, incredible as it seems, he only reaches to the arm of an average arm chair.

He is perfectly formed little man, with a small grey mustache and a treble voice, and is a trifle bigger than a doll. When I shook hands with him I had to bend right down as if I were going to pick up something from the floor. Mr. Pyott was called for the Army three times during the Great War, because of his age, but the authorities had rather a shock when they saw him!

A year or two ago the Prince of Wales saw Mr. Pyott, and was much amused at this story.

When I asked him what regiment he would have liked to have joined, Mr. Pyott smiled and said, "The Bantams." He is a cheerful little chap, and never worries about being so tiny. He has to have all his clothes made specially for him, of course, but his food is normal, and up to a few years ago he used to smoke. Mr. Pyott sometimes climbs onto his cousin's hand, and stands in the palm of it, and then gets down and sits in a top hat.

Chilled Exports Time Limit

The handling of chilled poultry for export is an operation in which nothing must be left to chance and, in the light of experience of Canada's highly successful export of chilled turkeys to Great Britain last Christmas, much valuable information has been gained in regard to this. Mr. W. A. Wilson, Animal Products Trade Commissioner for Canada in Great Britain, says:

"The time limit between killing in Canada and delivery in London, England, does not leave much leeway for mistakes in the temperatures employed for cooling before packing and while in transit; especially since there is the possibility of mild Christmas weather, and knowing that chilled poultry will not retain their bloom if they have to be put into the freezer in order to prevent spoilage. They should, therefore, arrive in London about a week, or not earlier than ten days before Christmas, and possessing a margin of safety for keeping their fresh appearance that will permit their exposure for sale, first wholesale, and then retail, the same as the best home or imported turkeys. The question of condensation and, in time, that musty smell are danger signals."

HOLLYWOOD, October 29—Police reported Robert Manell, Jr., 21-year-old son of the late Robert B. Manell, Shakespearean actor, shot and killed himself early today in the apartment occupied by himself and his mother, known on the stage as Genevieve Hamper.

The suicide, for which friends told police the motive apparently was discouragement over his career as an actor, took place on the eve of his mother's return to the stage. Miss Hamper was to appear in the role of Portia tomorrow night at a Los Angeles theatre.

The youth had accompanied his mother to a rehearsal and they returned to their apartment late last night. Several hours later, Miss Hamper was awakened by a revolver shot and found her son dead.

"Yes, sah, long ago, boss." "Wasn't I to get one-fourth for the rent?" "Yes, sah, but dere wa'n't no fo' th. Dere was jes' three loads an' Ah s'posed dey was mine," said Sam triumphantly.
