ABBAY, CRANE

Three Noted Painters, Resident in London Signally Honored by the Munich Academy of Fine Arts.

Edwin Austin Abbey, Walter Crane and John Singer Sargent, who have just been signally honored by membership in the Royal Munich Academy of Fine Arts, are three of the most prominent painters of Europe. One of them was born in the United States. Mr. Sargent, although of American parentage, is really a product of the aesthetic culture of Europe, and was, in fact, born in the art-aden atmosphere of Italy herself. He has won nearly every honor in the gift of the British world of art.

Mr. Abbey is more directly the product of American art on its own soil. Born in Philadelphia, he earned for himself a considerable reputation before going to live permanently in London in 1878. At that time he was 26 years old, and since then he has been made a member of the Royal Academy and of the Royal Institute, and his work has attracted attention in all parts of the world.

Mr. Crane is perhaps the most celebrated of the three. He has won an important place as a painter in water colors, and many of his pictures are well known to the general public through their familiar reproductions.

"KING ALFRED."

Picture and Sketch of the Fastest Cruiser in the World.

The King Alfred, one of the costliest war ships in the British navy, and also the largest cruiser in the world, was launched with success on Oct. 28 at Barrow-in-Furness, where the keel was laid down early this year. The King Alfred, it is expected, will not only be the largest but the fleetest cruiser afloat. She will cost, when completed, £1,011,- 759, and something of her great size may be gathered when it is said that she is 500 feet long and 71 feet in the beam. Four funnels will rise from midships, and the cruiser will be able to develop a speed of at least 23 knots. Her armor was made by Krupp, and the armament in her main battery will be two 9.2-inch and 16 6-inch guns. The machinery, when complete, will weigh 2,500 tons. Navy men do not like the tremendous length of the new cruiser.

with indifferent success, and Carr, who was looking for a lightweight jockey, contracted with him for two years on a chance. Carr has first call on Wonderly's services and Haggin gets only second call. Wonderly was brought north, but did not rise well enough in the early part of the year to attract any attention. Within the last two months, however, he has had mounts on some good horses in the East, including some from the Whitney stable, and has won some good races. Wonderly can ride at 97 of 98 pounds.
