KILLED IN ACTION

Lieut. W. J. Nelson Gill was the only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gill of Pleasant Grove. He went overseas with the 1st Canadian Division as a Staff Sergeant under Colonel Mercier of Toronto. He went over to France early in January 1915, and served in different divisions until the spring 1917. He came back to England and took training in machine gun work. He qualified as lieutenant and went back to France that same fall and was on active service until the end came on Sept. 2nd.

He has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal and the Military Medal. He is survived by his two sisters, Mrs. Milton F. Vessey, Little York and Mrs. (Serg.) J. F. Grainger, Sydney Mines, N. S.

Lieut. Gill was a soldier from the time he was old enough to enlist. He held a lieutenant's commission in the 82nd A. L. I. and was an active member of the York Rifle Club. His death at the early age of thirty-four is the loss of a brave soldier to the Empire.

The following letters of sympathy have been received: The King commands me to assure you of the true sympathy of His Majesty and The Queen in your sorrow.

DERBY Secretary of State for War. Government House, Ottawa, 13th Sept. 8918.

Madam.—As you are reported by the Militia Department to be the next of kin to the late Lieut. William James Nelson Gill I am commanded by His Excellency the Governor General to say with what deep regret both he and Her Excellency the Duchess of Devonshire have heard of the loss you and the Dominion have sustained by the death of Lieutenant Gill in the service of his country. Their Excellencies deeply sympathize with you in your sorrow. I am Yours very truly, H. G. HENDERSON, Lieut. Col. Governor General's Secretary.

Madam.—My colleagues and I send our deepest sympathy in the great bereavement you have sustained in the death of Lieut. Gill. We all felt proud of his advancement to a commission whilst on service, and deeply regret that he should have been taken away so early in his military career. Please accept our sincere condolences. I have the honor to be, madam, Your obedient servant, CHARLES F. WINTER, Col. O. C. C. M. S. C. France, 17, 9-18

Dear Friends.—I know you will be surprised to hear from me but I feel I must give the parieurs of poor Nelson's death and to convey to you, his sisters, my deepest sympathy. Nelson and I were in the same unit and we were together more or less all the time. He was always very cheery and a very conscientious worker. As we were both Spud Islanders, naturally, we were very clannish. He was killed instantly by a piece of shell shortly after the show started on the 2nd inst. Less than a minute before we had been talking, and you can imagine how it took the heart out of me for the day. He was a good officer and was loved by his men, anyone of whom would have died for him at any time. He has gone to his reward and what is our great loss is his great gain. He was buried close to where he fell, in a British cemetery east of Hancourt, close to the Arras-Cambrai Road. I was not present at the funeral for I was constantly on the go for three days in the same battle. Again I wish to give you my sympathy in this your great hour of sorrow. Sincerely, LIEUT. WYLLIE ALLEN France, 8th, Sept. 1918.

Dear Madam.—I wish to extend to you the deepest sympathy of myself, officers and men of this

Madam.—As the officer commanding the corps of Military Staff Clerks, to which your late brother, Lieut. Gill formerly belonged before going overseas, I desire to express to you the heartfelt sympathy and condolence with you in your bereavement, of myself and all the members of the Corps at Headquarters who knew your brother when here formerly.

We all felt proud of his advancement to a commission whilst on service, and deeply regret that he should have been taken away so early in his military career. Please accept our sincere condolences.

Dear Madam.—I wish to extend to you the deepest sympathy of myself, officers and men of this battalion on the loss of your brother, James Nelson Gill.

He was killed instantly on the 2nd September near the village of Vis-en-Artois by a shell which exploded less than ten yards from him.

This war is very cruel in its toll of human life, always taking the best. Your brother has left a vacant place that cannot be filled. In addition to being very conscientious, he was extremely popular among both the officers and men of the battalion.

If there is anything I can do to help in any way, I will be very pleased to offer my services.

Yours sincerely, M. A. SCOTT, Lieut. Col. O. C. 4th Batt., Can. M. G. Corps.

Dear Madam.—I am afraid I cannot express myself as well as I would like, to show my sympathy with you in the loss of your brother Lieut. Gill, but would like you to know how much he was appreciated by all his fellow officers and the men under his command. His men being at all times, both in and out of action his first thought, he was naturally much loved by them. Under fire he was exceptionally cool and deliberate in his actions, and was killed while assembling his men immediately prior to an attack which we made recently on one of our strongest positions. He was buried on the battle-field where he fell which has now become a Military Cemetery and will be reserved as such for all time.

I personally miss him very much indeed as his fine character was a great help to myself as well as his fellow officers.

If I can be of any assistance to you in giving further information, please do not hesitate to call upon me. Yours sincerely, L. C. SUTTON, Major

Dear Madam.—You will, no doubt, ere this have been advised by the war office of the death of your brother, Lieut. Gill. Will you allow me at this time to offer you my very deepest sympathy in your great bereavement. How great your sorrow is I can in some measure understand as I had come to know your brother very well in the past seven months, and had known him long enough to learn to love him. He joined my company on first coming to France as a Machine gun officer. He may have written you of his visit to Oxford on his leave this summer, and of his meeting my wife and little boy there.—Mrs. Logan shares my own grief at the loss of one whom we both loved; he was so very true and genuine and conscientious in things.

Nelson was attached to my battery for the operation in the course of which he met his death on the 2nd of this month at about 8 p. m. we were together travelling towards the front line. I was stopped by an officer who asked me certain directions and Nelson walked on about ten yards and waited for me. A shell burst quite close to him while he stood there, and he was killed instantly. He is buried close to where he fell, and a cross is erected over his grave.

The map location is France, sheet 51.B. O 23 d 3.7. He is about three hundred yards along the Arras-Cambrai Road, on the left, across the Senoe River from Vis-en-Artois. We mourn him as a brave soldier and a loving, faithful comrade. Again with deepest sympathy Yours very sincerely, H. F. LOGAN, O.C.B. Battery, 4th Batt. C. M. G. Co.

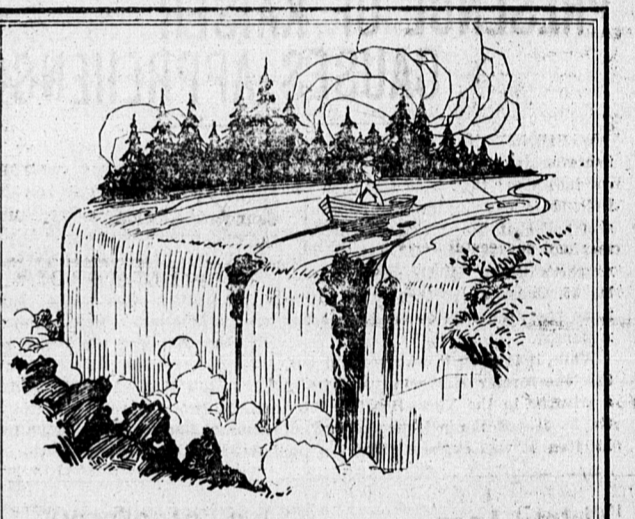

LETTER OF SYMPATHY

Dear Madam: A few days ago I learned, with great regret, of the death of your brother by making the supreme sacrifice in the sacred cause of Liberty and Freedom. I have only been a Rector of Emmanuel a little over six months and therefore was not personally acquainted with Lieut. Gill, but I have heard very many nice things about him, of his deep interest in the choir and church, of the way in which he endeared himself to our people, also I have learned with interest of his rapid promotion from the ranks as a tribute to his efficiency and good conduct. I hasten therefore to express to you the heartfelt condolence and sympathy of the congregation of Emmanuel and to assure you of our earnest prayers on your behalf that you may be sustained by Divine Grace in your bereavement and be enabled to look forward to gladness of the Resurrection Day. Yours in deepest sympathy (REV.) C. E. WINCOTT, Rector of Emmanuel Church

Thirty Feet of Danger

The intestinal canal is an important part of every individual, important every inch of its thirty feet.

The upper portion of it is intended for the digestion of food and absorption of its useful portions. But the lower part is concerned with the elimination of waste materials.

It is, in other words, the great sewer of the body. The more food eaten the greater the waste. If a sewer becomes clogged up, its contents stagnate and become more and more dangerous.

Constipation means more than failure to evacuate the bowels regularly and thoroughly. It means stagnation, increased fermentation, putrefaction and germ action. Increased amounts of irritating and poisonous substances are formed. Absorption of these into the blood follows. Self-poisoning results.

Danger, disorder, disease, or even death follows. Pills, purgative mineral waters, castor oil, salts, etc., do not cure constipation or prevent its consequences. They make it worse because they do not only irritate the bowels, but they "wear out" in effect and so must be taken in increasing doses, making constipation a habit.

But the Nujol Treatment for constipation overcomes constipation by helping Nature re-establish easy, daily, thorough bowel evacuations as "regular as clockwork."

Nujol prevents stagnation and self-poisoning. Nujol forms no habit, except a natural, healthy habit. After Nujol has trained the bowels to act, it can be dispensed with.
