AT ROTARY—Yesterday at the Rotary luncheon, the speaker was Rev. T. A. Wilson, of Covehead, who gave a very interesting address on "Occultism," which he defined as a religious philosophy, or more accurately a philosophical religion. Rotarian H. A. Scarth presided. Miss Lillian Earle, pianist, was heartily welcomed back after her illness. The musical program included vocal solos by Mrs. Francis J. Burns, of Boston, who was encored.

DEATHS

MCDONALD—At Bristol on Feb. 3, 1932, Alfred Augustine McDonald, age 29 days, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. McDonald.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of John Macdonald, Wainsee, who passed peacefully away February 4th, 1931.

Oh! how lonely is the home, where once you used to dwell, but God has called you to a higher home.

To be forever with the blest.

Thou hast left behind you sweet memories, that shall always linger around our hearts.

Entwined with the love that oft times brings the tears.

Not one knows how much we miss you, But alas we hope, some day, sometime to meet again on yonder shore where partings are no more.

Inserted by Wife and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of ROBERT H. BARRETT Who departed this life February 5th, 1932.

A beautiful star shines over the grave Of one we loved Who could not stay.

A mournful sigh, a silent tear Brings back his memory ever dear.

Inserted by his Wife and Sons.

MAY USE SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION ONLY—As reported in yesterday's Guardian, a test is being made this week of the facilities at Prince Street and Queen Square Schools to accommodate the Prince of Wales College students. If the accommodation proves satisfactory this temporary arrangement may be continued without having resort to the additional expense of equipping the Sunday school rooms of St. Paul's, Trinity United, and Zion churches with desks, etc. The offer of the use of these and other church school rooms is much appreciated by the education officials, but it is hoped they will not be required in view of the accommodation at Prince Street and Queen Square Schools.

THE ISLAND'S LOSS—The Province of Prince Edward Island deserves the sympathy of all her sister-provinces. Today succeeding closely upon the fire which destroyed the greater part of the institution used for the treatment of nervous diseases in the Island Province, fire has wiped out Prince of Wales College and the included Provincial Normal School. A loss of a quarter of a million dollars is estimated with insurance to an amount of $160,000. The loss will be a severe blow to the educational system of Prince Edward Island. Having experienced the dislocation of education caused by the burning of a Normal School New Brunswick can sympathize. The Island no doubt will proceed at once toward the erection of a new college building, but time must elapse and the present academic year cannot help but suffer. The late Sir William Macdonald of Montreal, well known throughout the Dominion for his benefactions connected with education, made it possible some twenty-five years ago for large extensions to Prince of Wales College to be made, and the original building was quite modern dating from 1900. All has been swept away according to press despatches. There is one consolation, however, Prince Edward Island in rebuilding will be in position to incorporate all the latest improvements in school-buildings and in educational facilities. The temporary inconvenience will be a matter of regret but should pass with the present year.—Frederick Gleason.

Japanese halted. But the British were left in a difficult situation, for on one side of them were the Chinese and on the other were the Japanese.

The Japanese coordinated their land and sea forces in their big push on the Woosung forts. The high points of this advance was the occupation by the Japanese assaulters of a part of Woosung village. This was accomplished by Japanese troops operating from the land side. The bluejackets and soldiers totalled about 3,000. While no authentic figures on the Chinese strength in that sector have been made public, estimates were that about 1,000 were in the line.

The 1,000 did an efficient job. When the Japanese tried to extend their occupation of the village, the Chinese first stopped them and then pushed them back. The Japanese fell back to positions along the western bank of Woosung Creek. Between them and the forests that were their objective were the creek and Woosung village. For seven hours the village was battered by guns aboard the nine Japanese destroyers, in the Whangpoo, some of which were

SUMMERSIDE TOWN COUNCIL

The Summerside Town Council held their last meeting before the civic election in the council chamber last night. Mayor Lidstone who had held office for the past four years presided and gave his closing address. He will not offer for reelection this year. After the minutes of previous meetings had been read bills were passed. Town pig bills $3946.08, unpaid bills $161.83. The resignation of Councillor MacNeill from the Council was tendered and accepted with regrets. It was passed by a standing vote that a telegram of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Moell from the council expressing sincere regret at her husband's illness. Motions passed included the following: That portion of a building on the town wharf be rented to J. L. Straight for one year at $18.00, he to carry insurance in favor of the town of $600. The following officials were appointed for the civic election: West Ward returning officer Gabriel MacDonald, Joseph Gallant, poll clerk, James Perry, doorkeeper. Central Ward—Returning officer F. J. E. Wright, poll clerk L. A. Moore, doorkeeper John L. Arsenault. East Ward: Returning officer W. W. Murtart, poll clerk Stanley Dawson, doorkeeper Peter Kenny.

The different reports for the month were received and filed. Councillor Phillips retiring chairman of streets committee which position he has held for seven consecutive years gave a short review of the work accomplished during the year and also the improvements to the streets during his regime. Many miles of permanent streets and sidewalks have been constructed and the approaches to the town vastly improved. Three new storm sewers have been laid. The tractor purchased has saved many dollars in the preparation of streets for concrete.

Councillor Schurman, retiring chairman of light committee reported the satisfactory progress of the electric light plant which has shown a large surplus this year and a steady increase in revenue which in a large measure is due to the efficient staff. In speaking for the finance committee he felt that the work of permanent streets could be carried on out of ordinary revenue. The Mayor in his address gave a short review of the work accomplished.

The finance committee which was handled by Hon. Leonard MacNeill until his election to the Provincial Government has since been in the hands of Councillor Schurman and Councillor Strong, who have carried out their duties with much credit. The street committee in charge of Councillor Phillips have built some fine pavements and has extended and rebuilt other streets this year to a degree unknown before in the history of the town. One reason for this progress was the purchase of a modern heavy tractor and grader. The police department under Councillor Strong has been efficiently and im-blackened by powder from stem to stern. Officers intimated that they would wait for reinforcements before essaying another attack. Japanese planes dropped over-head, occasionally dropping bombs. It was a cold and dreary day, and over the village and the ocean hung clouds of smoke and fog. Meanwhile Japanese six-inch guns thundered away in another attempt to break down Chinese resistance in Chapel. Japanese headquarters intimated that within a short time another major attack would be launched.

Military and naval men here agreed that the size of Chapel, together with its difficulties of terrain, made the Japanese task doubly hard, and that the attackers would not be able to clear out the Chinese unless they increased their man power. Foreign residents of the settlement strongly protested to Edwin S. Cunningham, United States Consul General, against Japanese aeroplane activity over the foreign area.

In reply to a communication from Mr. Cunningham on the subject of the municipal police, Japanese Consul General Karimatsu Mural said the Japanese naval authorities did not intend to interfere with the functioning of the municipal force, which has jurisdiction over the international settlement. The Japanese were ready, the Consul General said, to cooperate with the police and to render assistance in maintaining order.

partially administered and the result will compare favorably with previous years. Light and power committee under Councillor Schurman is a shining example of what can be done by a municipality owned and operated plant conducted by the people for the people. Property and fire committee in charge of Councillor Kelly has been carefully handled. The firemen have done excellent work in fighting fires and looking after their equipment. The contribution by the firemen of $550 for the purchase of a new motor ladder truck is to be commended. Assessment schools and parks commission in charge of Councillor Grady is very satisfactory. The assessments are well paid up. The schools and parks have been well looked after. The progress of Summerside in the last seven or eight years during which I have held office at different times has been very marked and with careful government that progress should continue. The men at the head of our business enterprises are energetic and deserve the support of the town and county. A united front will make for the advancement of Summerside. In closing I wish to thank the Councillors for their kind remarks to me tonight and to thank them for their help and cooperation at all times. Also to the citizens of Summerside for their confidence in me and to the town officials and the press for their support. Signed, Winslow J. Lidstone, Mayor.

General Report of Summerside Electric Light and Power Station for 1931

The following interesting report was submitted by Mr. T. H. S. Jackson, Chief Engineer at the Town Council meeting last night:

Genlemen,—The particulars of the annual output of the Station, consumption of fuel and lubricating oils, etc., were submitted at the January meeting. Coun. Schurman, Chairman of the light committee at a recent meeting explained the various items added to the equipment of the Station and the resultant economies.

The pistons of No. 1 engine have been pulled and cleaned twice this year and found in good condition. There is no indication of defect, the engine running smoothly and the power output all that was guaranteed.

No. 2 engine is in much about the same condition as last year and capable of a sustained load of about 95 K. W.

No. 3 engine is in slightly better running condition owing to the installation of two double seal rings to each piston.

A test extending over a number of days in the summer showed that by operating these two engines in parallel for an additional eight hours per day, to take the day load, the fuel economy dropped from about 10.5 K. W. hours per gallon to 7.3 K. W. hours. Assuming that these engines are capable of 7 K. W. hours per gallon, then the Fairbanks Morse gives at least 12.14 per gallon.

Secondary Lines

The secondary lines of Water, Central, part of Spring, part of Notre Dame, Ottawa and Poplar streets have been reconstructed during the past year with heavy copper, greatly improving the service rendered and reducing the line losses with a consequent increase in revenue.

These sections comprise a distance of about 8,000 feet. 50 defective poles were renewed. The building operations on Willow Avenue necessitated the construction of a new line about 600 feet long.

The cost per K. W. hour at the switchboard for the past year is $2.51; the cost delivered to the customer is $4.44; the total cost averaged $3.15. Line losses 17.8% of the amount put on the lines. The energy generated at the station is accounted for as follows:

Station Lighting	23,751
Station Power	23,316
Water Pump (town)	107,602
Street Lights	65,224
Estimated Losses 3%	6,595

Total accounted for in station 226,490

In Station	226,490
Commercial Light	163,540
Power	133,141
Domestic Light	126,830
Park and String	15,000
Trans losses	18,000
Line losses	77,359

Total output 760,360

The regulation re conduit services is being well received and both customers and contractors are giving willing co-operation.

At present we have six customers using electric cooking ranges and they are very well satisfied with the cost and the class of service which they receive.

Annual Gyro-Gyrette Party

The annual Gyro-Gyrette Supper Party staged by the Gyro Club was held last evening in the Canadian National Hotel and was a huge success.

Nearly one hundred couples were in attendance. Dancing novelties and cards occupied the evening. A buffet supper was served.

Music was supplied by the Canadian National Hotel Orchestra under the direction of Miss Kathleen Hornby. The ballroom was beautifully decorated with many varied lighting effects. Mr. W. A. Gaudet was chairman of the committee in charge.

Last evening's entertainment was preparatory to the convention of Gyro District 6, including the Maritime Provinces, which is to be held in this City in September next.

JOHN MAURICE CLARKIN

The funeral takes place on Wednesday of John Maurice Clarkin, twenty-three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Clarkin of this city, who passed away at Tulsa, Oklahoma, on February 3rd. The remains were accompanied home last night by Mr. Clarkin who had gone to visit his son in his last illness.

Maurice was well known among the younger generation of Charlottetown. After a distinguished primary school career at Queen Square School he entered Prince of Wales College with a standing of first in the city and second in the Province, and continued his studies successfully until his health began to decline.

While serving as senior clerk in the Bank of Nova Scotia at Moncton, he contracted a cold, which later developed into a serious illness during the latter part of April, 1930.

Some months spent in R'verglade, N. B. Sanatorium failed to help his condition and he returned home in July. His response to kind and attentive home nursing was so pronounced that, at his own request, he was taken to Albuquerque, New Mexico, for treatment. This climate seemed to be just what was needed in his case, and a marked improvement was noticed in his condition from the beginning.

After remaining with him five months his mother returned home, leaving Maurice in the care of a skilled specialist, who assured her that her son was on the road to recovery.

His cure was even speedier than anticipated and in December last, the disease was checked. The symptoms had practically all cleared up and his family were looking forward with pleasure, in having him back in May.

Early in January a slight kidney condition developed which was not considered serious, but which failed to yield to dieting or any treatment possible in Albuquerque. He had made light of this sickness in his home letters, so that his wife, arriving on the 26th of January, announcing the necessity for special medical attention, and the need of coming nearer east to Oklahoma for that purpose, was something of a shock to his family, although no danger was anticipated at that time.

A wire from his uncle, Bishop Kelly, arriving on the evening of January 31st, announced his critical condition and the fact that Maurice had been prepared for death that day.

The next morning his father left for Tulsa, Oklahoma, hoping to reach his bedside before the end but he passed away quietly a few

He understood, proceeded Mr. Juthrie, that Mr. Gordon had subsequently made a partial withdrawal of his statements, but such withdrawal referred only to the Prime Minister's sister and her husband, W. D. Herridge. It did not affect the reflection upon the Prime Minister. A committee would give Mr. Gordon an opportunity to state whether or not he had made the charges alleged, and what basis existed for them.
