McKenna-Johnston

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Malachy's church, Kinkora, at 8:30 A.M. on Wednesday July 23rd by Rt. Rev. J.A. Murphy, when Zita Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Johnston was united in marriage to John Cedric McKenna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Swthen McKenna, Fernwood.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a sash of blue and white. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo. The wedding party consisted of the bride, bridegroom, best man, maid of honor, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearers, and a priest. The ceremony was held in a beautiful setting, and the reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding was a most successful and joyous occasion.

My Land—My Home!

By "John of The Lilacs" P. E. I.
Cherished homeland crowned with goodness,
There indeed with kindness blessed;
Home within the Isle of grandeur—
Nursed upon the ocean's breast—
"This I love"—this crescent Island—
Wondrous land—this place called home!

On the mighty chart of nature,
God with wondrous vision planned
That which ever draws nostalgic
Sons—towards their native land.

PATTERN OF THREE

By Mary Hastings Bradley
The driver stopped before the great doors of Notre Dame and Ewe got out there but did not go in; instead, she walked to the little park at the other end where working people were sitting on benches and a few children in black saten were bouncing balls. The sun was low now and the air, yet bright, had the indefinable softness of that hour. She sat down on a bench and looked up at the amazing contrast of black and white upon the stones of the building, the work of age and scouring wind, and told herself that she was perfectly all right and unaffected since it was still in her to note and to enjoy these things.

It was a narrow little house on a side street off the avenue, a little house that by dint of white paint and jade green trim and window boxes achieved a difference from the other little houses that were boarding houses and run-down homes. The white paint and jade green trim and the window boxes all appeared after the Richard Kendalls moved in that summer of thirty-three; the Kendalls moved in because the property belonged to Dick and was tenanted and it was more sensible to occupy it than to pay rent elsewhere. Money was a factor in the life of the Richard Kendalls.

HE'D LIKE TO KNOW YOU Personally
The service you receive from your bank is rendered so quietly and efficiently that the human values behind it may not have occurred to you.

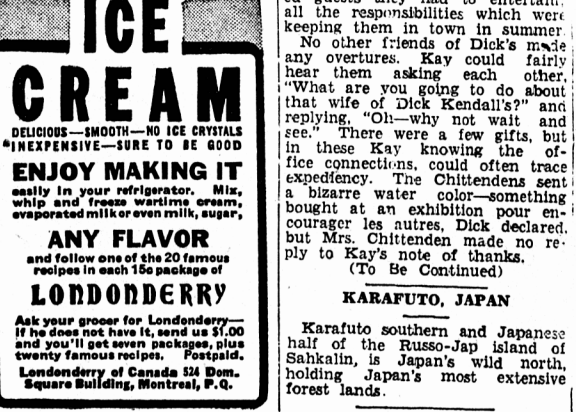

Think, for instance, of the confidence you rest in your branch bank manager, perhaps without even knowing him well personally. You ought to know him better. By depositing your money in his branch, you made him and his staff the custodians of your account and the transactions relating to it. You hold him in high trust, knowing that your private affairs will be kept private.

You will find your bank manager a trained man who has come up through the ranks, and who will be glad to discuss your financial needs with you and to inform you as to the appropriate service his bank can render.

Should you desire a personal loan to meet some unexpected expense, talk it over with him. You can depend on receiving courteous, understanding and friendly consideration. Small loans are just one of the services your bank provides. You may be surprised to learn of many other services available for your use.
