Maine Potato Planting Late

ROULTON, Me., July 10.-Retarded by almost daily showers and heavy rains, farmers of Aroostook County, the world's greatest potato garden, have just finished planting their 1935 crop. This year's planting was late in the beginning because of lingering snows, and the unusual wetness of this season has put the farmer still more weeks behind in his work. Planting generally begins in May and is over by the 1st of June.

Relief Camp Strikers On Trial

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) July 9.-A trial of two score relief camp strikers, citizen-sympathizers and others got underway today, the aftermath of either the strike's attempt to break the police blockade around Regina June 27, or the fatal Dominion Day street riot.

The cases were heard in both Regina city police court and Royal Canadian Mounted Police court. A 15 year old boy from the Crow's Nest Pass district of British Columbia was committed for trial by jury next September after a lengthy hearing before Magistrate R. E. Turnbull. He was charged under section 98 of the Criminal Code.

When noon adjournment was taken, Magistrate Turnbull had a word of warning for T. H. Newlove, chief defence counsel, to pass on to his clients. A few minutes previously they had created a disturbance in their cells below the courtroom yelling "we want to eat! we want to eat!"

Wise Conservation Saves Salmon Runs

Restrictions on fishing in the past few years, combined with fish conservation laws, have had the effect of checking diminution of Sockeye salmon runs in the Barclay Sound area on the west coast of Vancouver Island and restoring them to their former size at least.

No doubt it is annoying to fishermen some times when they find made laws or regulations interfering with their exploitation of resources created by Nature, but wise conservation pays. Better to restrict exploitation for a time and thus preserve for the future than allow natural source of wealth to be wiped out. The Barclay Sound men had proof of the wisdom of conservation effort last year when their catch of Sockeye was half as large again as it had been in the broad year, four years before.

Figures given in an official report to the department by its British Columbia headquarters tell what happened. In 1928 the Barclay Sound fishermen landed less than 47,000 Sockeye. By 1933 their catch had risen to 60,000, in round figures. Last year there was another increase and the number of fish taken was 75,000. Whether the supply of fish has been made actually bigger than it was before the special conservation steps were taken remains to be gauged in the future but the department's chief officer on the Pacific coast, citing the catch figures points out that "the runs have been restored to their original size at least."

RALBIGH, N.C., July 10.-With 312 cases of infantile paralysis reported in North Carolina this year - most of them since May 1 - steps were taken today to prevent the spread of the disease.

South Lake School Examination

The closing exercises of South Lake School were held in the new school on the evening of Friday, June 29th. The large and commodious building was taxed to capacity with a large audience of ratepayers and visitors. The examination of this large ungraded school was necessarily long and embraced a great many subjects but was rendered pleasant by the interposition of a very enjoyable program.

The pupils were examined in the following subjects: Reading, writing, arithmetic, Latin, French, algebra, geometry, grammar, spelling, history, geography. They acquitted themselves of these subjects admirably, amply attesting to their assiduous application to their studies, and the untiring efforts of Mr. DeRoche, the teacher during the past year.

The program opened with the singing of the chorus "O Canada," by the school and audience. Essay on Canada, read by Vernon Fraser. Solo, "The Red River Valley" Master John H. F. DeRoche. Solo, "When the Roses Bloom Again," Miss Inez Rose. Recitation, "Down on the Farm," Alvin MacDonald. Recitation "The Unexpected," Annie Rose. Solo, "The Mississippi Valley," Genevieve Fisher. Recitation, "He Didn't Think," Ronald MacDonald. Solo, "Cross Eyed Sue," Chase McCoy. Recitation, "The Boy Who Didn't Pass," Little Francis Gillis. Dialogue, "There's a Doubt," Adele MacDonald and Genevieve Fisher. Duet, "When Ye Gang Awa' Jamie," Miss Inez Rose and John H. F. DeRoche. Recitation, "Maidie Jane," Frances MacDonald. Dialogue, "Home and Sweet Home," Misses Inez Rose and Eileen MacDonald. Dialogue, "A Pain in the Side," Misses Ellen Fisher, Adele MacDonald and Inez Rose.

Mrs. J. H. DeRoche was accompanied for the evening. The following reading cards were handed out by the teacher to the pupils and are here inserted according to order of merit: Grade IX to X: Inez Rose, Ellen Fisher, Adele MacDonald and Eileen MacDonald, equal. Daniel MacDonald. Grade V to VI: John H. F. DeRoche, Vernon Fraser, Charles McCoy and Ronald MacDonald (equal). Annie Rose, Dorothy Ford, Kimble MacDonald, Edward MacDonald.

Grade IV: Genevieve Fisher, Lilian Ford, Walter MacNeil, Alvin MacDonald, Daniel Gillis, Herbert Fraser, Carl MacMillan. Grade III: Pat DeRoche, Mary L. MacDonald, Daniel MacDonald, Joseph MacDonald. Grade II: Francis Gillis, D. J. Montgomery, Frances Ford, Teresa MacDonald, Margaret MacDonald. A very appropriate feature of the program was an address read and presentation made by the pupils and ratepayers of South Lake School to the teacher, Mr. J. H. DeRoche. The address was read by Miss Inez Rose and the presentation made by Miss Ellen Fisher. Following is the address:

Dear Teacher: Today marks the last day of the school year and brings to a successful close this year's work in South Lake School under your expert guidance. During your incumbency you have ever zealously and conscientiously striven to live up to your obligations and maintain a high standard of education in the student group under your distinguished tutelage.

The extent to which you have succeeded in this regard is unmistakably evident in the splendid showing made by your pupils in this and also in previous examinations. We are entirely conscious of the trials and difficulties of your chosen profession especially in a large ungraded school such as ours and we wish to assure you of our heartiest congratulations in your work.

Canada, the Land We Love

Signed on behalf of the pupils and ratepayers of South Lake School. Essay read by Vernon Fraser of Grade V: "CANADA, THE LAND WE LOVE" We have just listened to the inspiring words and entrancing melody of "O Canada," our National Anthem, written by the renowned poet Lord Tennyson, which fill us with pride and make us rejoice that we are sons and daughters of this fair Dominion, a favored part of the Great Commonwealth of Nations - the British Empire. O Canada! Our home and native land, True patriot love in all thy sons command. With glowing hearts we see thee rise, The true North, strong and free; And stand on guard, O Canada, We stand on guard for thee, O Canada! Glorious and free! O Canada! We stand on guard for thee. O Canada! We stand on guard for thee.

Our immense country swept on the East by the mighty Atlantic, extends West to the calm Pacific from the unknown wastes of the North to the United States on the South, an extension of thousands of miles of rich meadows, dense forest lands, valuable mineral areas and great prairies, all diversified by lordly rivers, seas, bays and mighty lakes. Canada comprises nine provinces with a central capital, Ottawa, and has a Governor General residing there who represents his Glorious Majesty King George V, our beloved King.

I shall begin with the smallest of these provinces, our dear little Prince Edward Island, which we all love so much. It is one of the most fertile spots on good old Mother Earth and is admired by the many tourists that visit us. Our Province is famous for the quality of the potatoes we grow and is the home of the fox-farming industry.

We may not be rich but are happy and contented. In the words of the immortal Longfellow's "Evangeline," "Here the richest is poor and the poorest is rich." Across the Northumberland Strait is our sister province, Nova Scotia, with its capital, Halifax, situated on one of the best harbors in the world, open for shipping all the year round. Nova Scotia has rich agricultural lands, valuable bituminous coal mines and rich deposits of salt, gypsum and gold. It ranks second among the provinces in its fisheries.

The Annapolis Valley is famed for its apple production and the beautiful scenery of the Bras d'Or lakes and rich deposits of salt, gypsum and gold. It ranks second among the provinces in its fisheries. The Annapolis Valley is famed for its apple production and the beautiful scenery of the Bras d'Or lakes and rich deposits of salt, gypsum and gold. It ranks second among the provinces in its fisheries.

Next we go to New Brunswick, noted for lumbering, farming and its fisheries. Its beautiful capital, Fredericton, is situated on the Saint John River eighty-five miles from its mouth, Saint John City, and rich in its history of the early explorers, Cartier, Champlain, Maisse, Frontenac and many others. The river Saint Lawrence the most important river in Canada flows entirely through the province, and on it is situated Quebec, the capital. This was in early times the great stronghold of Canada and was taken by General Wolfe from General Montcalm in seventeen hundred and fifty nine, and four years later by the Treaty of Paris Canada was ceded to England.

Montreal with its population of a million souls is also on the Saint Lawrence, and is Canada's most important seaport, the farthest inland seaport in the world. Quebec is rich in farm lands, lumber lands, mining, fishing, and is a great manufacturing Province. Her people are happy and contented, and are as loyal to our king as any of his subjects.

We now go to Ontario, the most important province in the Dominion, with its rich farm lands, model farms, mines, lumber lands and manufactures. The Great Lakes, Ontario, Erie, Huron, Superior, wash her shores and provide a water route along with the river, Saint Lawrence, to ship our wheat out of Canada overseas. Toronto the Beautiful! Its capital is situated on Lake Ontario and here the greatest exhibition in the world is held, annually. Now to Manitoba with its capital, Winnipeg, Saskatchewan with its capital, Regina, and Alberta with its capital, Edmonton. The great Prairie Provinces, the granaries of the Old World with their immense fields of golden wheat noted as being among the greatest wheat growing areas in the world. Crossing the picturesque Rocky Mountains to British Columbia with its lovely climate, its rich fruit areas and forests. From British Columbia we get the well known Douglas Fir and the Fraser River gives us the finest salmon in the world. Time does not permit me to speak of any further but we thank God we have such a country, for here we enjoy such laws, have religious and educational freedom, and with an objective in view can rise to any position in the land. Canada! Maple land! Land of great mountains, Lake and an ever-living Land, twist the seal! Grant us, God, hearts that are large as our heritage, Spirits as free as the breeze! Last born of Nations! the offspring of freedom! Help us, prairies, thick forests, red gold, God grant us wisdom to value our birthright. Courage to guard what we hold. At the conclusion of the examination, Mr. Elvin Fisher favoured the audience with a recitation of the vocal numbers, "Annie Laurie" and "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." Mr. Fisher, who is always in favour on such occasions, delivered these numbers in his usual fine voice. An elocution of no mean order was heard in a comic recitation of the vocal numbers, "Annie Laurie" and "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." Sent to Gallows For Minor Crime

MONTREAL, July 9. - (C.P.) - Hanging was the punishment imposed in some cases of blasphemy, shop-lifting, cattle-rustling and forgery in Canada a century ago and whipping was a common deterrent according to a report on crime compiled by Rev. J. Douglas Borthwick, one-time civil and military chaplain of Montreal. A copy of the report was brought to light recently.

Between 1812 and 1840 no less than 54 hangings took place in Montreal. Only seven were for cases of murder, the remaining 47 for other offences. Twelve were hanged in Montreal East for treason in the rebellion of 1837. Subjects of other executions included 13 cattle thieves, 12 burglars, one robber, two shoplifters, a forger, two blasphemers and two guilty of rape.

The report of Mr. Borthwick, who was 50 years in office, shows that during the same years 238 criminals condemned to a similar fate escaped the gallows through reprieves. In the succeeding years, 1840 to 1908, only 15 murderers were hanged in this district. Twenty others sentenced to death in addition to one thief and two house-breakers, secured reprieves.

The cat-o-nine-tails was an important part in punishment in those days. In 1759 a soldier named Wallahouser received 500 lashes for disobedience of orders, and an additional 300 lashes and a fine for selling liquor contrary to orders. The theft of two pieces of ribbons for 22 cents by another individual brought 10 lashes, while in the same year Thomas Shepherd was given 500 lashes for stealing a keg of rum. His comrades got 200 lashes for helping him steal the keg and drink its contents.

Judging from the report, the whip hardly ever cooled off. A pot shot at a deer and a pigeon in 1763 drew a punishment of 500 lashes. In another case a horse driver was whipped the same number of times for drinking an officer's liquor. In 1779 a corporal received 500 lashes and three others 1,000 lashes each for rioting.

Incidentally the report recalls the Montreal jail built in 1783 was financed from the proceeds of a public lottery.

FUNERAL FRIDAY OF JAMES P. LYDIARD

Former Councilman Conducted Meat Market for Many Years (Laconia, N.H., Evening Citizen, July 2) James Pope Lydiard of 276 Mechanic street, one of the best known meat market men in New England, died last night at the Laconia hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Lydiard was born in Summerside, Prince Edward Island, Oct. 6, 1870, the son of Edward Langley and Wilhelmina (McKay) Lydiard. Mr. Lydiard went with his wife to Eoon as a young man and came here from Concord in 1909. For many years he operated a meat market. He was a member of Mount Lebanon lodge, A. F. and A. M. and was a past noble grand of Winnepesaukee lodge and a past chief patron of Laconia encampment, I.O.O.F. For several years he was warden of St. James' church. Mr. Lydiard also served as a councilman from Ward 4 from 1929 to 1931.

The survivors are the widow, Mrs. Margaret E. Lydiard; two sons, Capt. Edward L. Lydiard of this city and James P. Lydiard Jr. of New York City; four grandchildren; two brothers, T. Edward of California and William C. of Hartford, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Vartanian of Boston.

The funeral of James P. Lydiard, for many years a meat market man in this city, was held this afternoon at two at St. James' church following prayers at the home on Mechanic street. Rev. Harrison A. Brann officiated.

Among those who are here for the services are William C. Lydiard, Mr. Lydiard's brother; William Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Lydiard, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lydiard, all of Hartford; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Polard, Mrs. Florence Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Ritchie, Mrs. Florence Ritchie, Mrs. Bruce Sanborn, all of Bridgeport, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kirkpatrick of Boston and Mrs. Mary Ashe of New York City.

L. H. Wilkinson was in charge of funeral arrangements. A number of city officials attended. The services of Mr. Lydiard's service as councilman. A Masonic delegation included Charles Knowles, Raymond B. Lakeman, Ed Quinby, Major Pierce Hartford, and Councilman George Stafford.

September 23rd Likely Date of General Elections

OTTAWA, July 9.-(OP)-Sept. 25 has been picked by political observers in Ottawa as the most likely date for the General Elections. No more definite indication has come from the Government than Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's statement in the House last week that it would be as soon as necessary preliminaries were completed.

Since 1925 the Dominion Elections Act has provided that general elections must be held on Mondays. It is generally understood that printing of the election lists will not be completed until some time in August. This is one of the chief "preliminaries" referred to by the Prime Minister. There are some millions of names and all the printing is being done in Ottawa. The revised lists have not yet reached the printing Bureau here.

Barring possibility of voting on or before August 26, the last Monday in that month, it is not considered possible or likely that the elections could be held until September 23. The first Monday in September is Labor Day and while General Elections could not be held on a statutory Holiday it is equally considered unlikely that nominations would be held on such a day.

Nominations precede voting by one week in most constituencies and in some of the more isolated ridings they take place on the second Monday preceding election day. That would remove September 9, and September 16, leaving September 23 the first logical date of balloting is to take place in September.

Very few Conservative candidates have yet taken the field and the general understanding is that campaigning will not be in full swing until August.

17-YEAR OLD GIRL KILLS "PEEPING TOM" LOS ANGELES, July 10.-A 17-year-old girl early today shot and killed a 15-year-old alleged "Peeping Tom."

The dead youth was identified by police as Glen Drewory. Police Chief Harold Atkinson of Huntington Park said Miss Catherine Parks, dancing student and recent graduate of Hollywood High School, admitted shooting the youth when she saw the form of what appeared to be a man standing outside her bathroom window.
