The services in Zion Church yesterday were of exceptional interest. At the morning service another member was received on profession of faith making a total of ninety-nine received during the past week. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed and three hundred and fifteen communicants were present. The membership of the congregation now numbers four hundred and fifty. The marriage took place on Wednesday night at the Methodist Parsonage, Upper Prince Street, by Rev Wm Harrison, of James S. Farquharson, Bunbury, to Miss Martha Anstie Smith of this City. Miss Smith, who returned from Boston Wednesday evening, is a very popular lady, and was a valued clerk, in W. F. Hutcherson's Jewelry Store, before going abroad. Rev W. McLeod while laboring in Bloomfield, O'Leary, West Cape and the Bras from 20th to 29th though the roads were worse than in Hampton, succeeded in travelling one hundred and twenty five miles visiting twenty five families and conducting twelve services. From folk of all denominations, many of whom he knew while stationed there in vicinity of three years previous to Fall of '95, the welcome given afforded a new remainder and proof of the fact that "Your labor is not in vain in the Lord" and that "Whosoever a man soweth that shall he reap." The folk of the Baptist Church opened their Houses of God and invited him to speak the Word of Life and came in large numbers on a week night, while one of their most diligent men made a new appointment in Cape Wolfe and drove him twenty-four miles to enable him to do his good work.

Government pond was the scene of a little excitement on Saturday when one of the young men, who was endeavoring to partake of his share of the season's skating broke through. He had on an overcoat and he managed to get rid of this by throwing it to a young fellow who happened to be near. This chap also broke through in his efforts to secure the coat, but he did not encounter very much difficulty in scrambling out. The party who had broken through at first had a much more strenuous time in his efforts to reach shore, he having to break the ice all the way to the bank. Another young man who happened to be near at hand assisted him to safety, made for the bank to give the other fellow a hand out. He also went under and was thoroughly soaked. The unlucky trio lost no time in making for their respective homes. Jack Frost does not always securely bridge over ponds or rivers the first time he attempts the contract.

The December number of the University Magazine was issued on Friday. It contains 13 articles which occupy 170 pages. Professor John Macraigh opens the number with a brilliant paper on Pads in Modern Education. A vigorous polemic on the Jewish School Question by Mr De Sola comes second. Miss Wales has a searching criticism of country life. The verse is by Frederick George Scott, Edward William Thomson and A. L. Fraser. French readers are appealed to by Henri Lebeau with an article upon Eugene Le Roy. Mr Hamilton completes his series of three articles on the Canadian Navy, though the title now appears as Canadian Coast Defence. Other articles are the Aftermath of Puritanism by E. M. Harding; The Philosophy of our Political Parties, by Maurice Hutton; Early Transportation in Canada by George V. Cousins; and An United Empire by H. G. C. Don. The number closes with an article by C. A. Brockwell, on The Bible and the Critic. An arrangement has been effected by which the business management of the Magazine will be undertaken by Morang & Co., Limited, of Toronto.
