MOUNT ALBION SCHOOL

The semi-annual examination of Mount Albion school was held on Tuesday, June 29. A large number of pupils and visitors were present. The children were examined in the different subjects by their teacher, and several of the visitors present, and answered all questions promptly and accurately.

After the examination a short program was given by the pupils and prizes were distributed by the teacher. Miss Lona Jenkins then read an address, and Miss Marion Stewart on behalf of the school presented the teacher with a beautiful present. After some closing remarks by the visitors present the Women's Institute of the district treated the children to fruit and candy. The following is the address: Miss Margaret McKinnon, Mount Albion.

Dear Teacher,—As this is the closing of the year's work under your guidance as our teacher, we feel we would be ungrateful to let this opportunity pass without showing in our own small degree our appreciation of your valuable services to us during the past year. Although you have been with us only one year, by your diligent attention to your duties at all times and by your kind sympathetic manner and good estimable sociability and character you have shown to us a standard of living which if we follow to duty and the love you have a slight idea of rectitude. We owe duties of the teacher in our country schools, and also of our disobedience and ungratefulness and the very many to please throughout the district, yet by your strict attention to duty and the love you have for the teaching profession and without any partiality at all you have won by your kind precept and manner the highest respect of everyone. Kindly accept this small remembrance, and we hope that your holidays may be enjoyable ones and that you may return to resume your duties as our teacher for another year. (Signed) Your Pupils, Mt. Albion School.

EFFECT OF BAKED EGGS ON CONSUMPTION

Every time a consumer gets a bad egg or an egg of poor quality the consumption of eggs in that consumer's household is apt to be lessened, says the Honourable W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, in a statement on the egg industry. He declares that the loss of eggs is a serious matter where customers had been lost and the sale of eggs curtailed on the entire market without the producer realizing why it has happened. Too often producers are not aware of the many causes that bring about deterioration in eggs. They are inclined to believe that because their eggs are newly gathered and they must be fresh and of good quality, forgetting that freshly gathered and freshly laid are not necessarily synonymous, that rotten nests may contain fresh eggs and badly incubated eggs in the same gathering. Again the kind of feed given to hens has a great effect on the eggs, while the opposite is true when hens are obliged to pick up their living in the barnyard water.

night with His Worship the Mayor, Councillors McNally, Johnston, Schurman and Grady attending. Reports of the various committees were submitted and passed. Some discussion, took place re the concrete street work being held up in account lack of gravel. The town has been getting its gravel supply from Sussex and the Council decided to try two cars of gravel from Oxford. Upon motion it was decided to order two hundred feet of fire hose for the Fire Department. The matter of extending the electric light to St. Eleonors was left over till Monday night next, when a special meeting will be held.

Annual Picnic

Ayrshire Breeders' Association

The annual out-door gathering of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Prince Edward Island was held yesterday afternoon on the beautiful grounds of the Experimental Station at Charlottetown, and was attended by a large number of farmers and their families, who greatly enjoyed the pleasant outing. After a splendid meal served on tables spread under the beech grove, interesting addresses were given by a number of speakers, including Mr. James Eaton, the President and chairman, Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of Experimental farms, Ottawa; Mr. C. C. Archibald, Live-stock Promoter, Truro; Prof. J. A. Clark, Mr. Walter Shaw, Mr. C. R. Smallwood, Secretary of the Provincial Exhibition, Mr. W. G. Gibson, Secretary of the Holstein Breeder's Association.

An exhibition in judging was then given by members of the Boys' Clubs, under the supervision of Mr. Archibald and Mr. Shaw and it is interesting to note that although many of these boys were very young, they were successful in a large percentage of cases in placing the animals they were judging, in exactly the same order as they were afterwards placed by an older competent judge. Mr. Walter Shaw, in pointing out the points by which the Ayrshire cattle were judged, referred to the fact that although the boys had only recently organized, and were still new to the work they had already attained proficiency. Judging was the most important branch of the work fostered by the Boys' Clubs, and would be of great value in later years.

Prof. Clark, in his remarks, spoke briefly of crop rotations, and referred to the benefits and faults of the different rotations. Some such as the four year rotation gave good results in production, but robbed the soil. Others, like the seven year rotation had been regarded with disfavor for a long time, but in practice actually proved to be very beneficial.

Prof. Clark also referred to the growing of alfalfa, and its advantages and disadvantages. He said the time was coming when it would be produced here.

Dr. Archibald spoke mainly along dairying lines, and remarked on the similarity of this country, as a profitable dairying country, to Denmark in Denmark, owing to less available food, the industry could not be run quite so economically as it could here, but Denmark had prospered in a remarkable manner because of wonderful organization. The speaker said he was glad to see the farmers of this country making splendid progress along organization lines, and especially in the organization of boys clubs. With the proper stimulus, and a good stock foundation, there should be no reason why in time Prince Edward Island should not be as famous for its dairying industry as Denmark was today.

Mr. Walter Shaw spoke of the success that had attended the organization of the Boys' Clubs, and of the splendid work this branch of live stock activity was doing. The speaker also gave some good advice in regard to the forming of a dairy herd, and the culling of scrub stock. He emphasized the importance of looking after dairy stock properly, especially young growing animals, so that they might not become stunted or otherwise impaired in growth.

Mr. C. R. Smallwood spoke of the advantage of exhibitions to farmers, and referred to the splendid showing made every year at the Provincial Exhibition by the breeders of Ayrshire cattle. He laid stress on the ruling made by the directors this year that only registered stock would be allowed to enter the exhibition classes, and that every exhibitor would have to have his animals in the exhibition stalls from the time the show opened until it closed. These regulations, said the speaker, were made only in self defense, because the directors got no federal grants for prize money unless the cattle winning the prizes were registered, and the great object of any exhibition was educational, not money-making, so that it did not fully serve its purpose unless the exhibits were on show the whole time. The speaker also mentioned that great improvement had been made in all the live stock classes in recent years.

Mr. C. C. Archibald spoke along the lines of community breeding, and referred to the great advantage it was to Island breeders in having the Province a Restricted Area. This was an ideal that the raisers of live stock could live up to only by co-operation. The three rules by which every breeder should abide were "breed, feed and weed," and he would place the emphasis on the weeding. Some, however, were not culling as they should. The standards of Ayrshire stock would never be elevated by any farmer culling his herd by selling his scrubs to his neighbors.

Mr. W. G. Gibson said that there were many points in live stock raising that had not yet been learned but there were opportunities open to the boys of the Boys' Clubs that no farm boy had ever known before. They were profiting from the results of many years labors in the live stock breeding.

At the conclusion of these addresses a vote of thanks was extended to the different speakers, and was moved by Mr. Fred MacRae and seconded by Mr. Burgess Newson.
