—BUSINESS CHANGES — The soft drink of Morrison Bros., which is composed of James and George Morrison have taken over the building on Water Street, east, Summerside which formerly belonged to their father the late James A. In later years he had given up the produce business and devoted his time exclusively to the buying and selling of fish. Previous that time the building had been the old Clay school, which some of Summerside's older residents attended. The building has been raised and placed on a cement foundation and an additional section has been built to it. P. E. I. Plans For Physical Fitness Program Reviewed

"If we fed our children as carefully as we feed our cattle, we should not be long in getting somewhere," said Major Ian Eisenhardt in address before the Rotary Club at its weekly dinner in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

The movement on the part of the Dominion Government to make physical fitness a matter of national concern was prompted by the revealing facts displayed by physical examinations under the National Selective Service Mobilization regulations, Major Eisenhardt said. Out of 1,064,000 men examined, 264,000 or 24 8 per cent were physically unfit. And just in case anyone might jump to the conclusion that this high percentage of unfit physical manhood was owing to the inclusion of urban figures, Major Eisenhardt stated that the Canadian farming population is 30 per cent physically unfit and the American farming population even worse off in this respect.

The plan for Prince Edward Island, said the Major, is the same as for the other provinces. Here, a trained instructor, under the supervision of Mr Lloyd Shaw, director of education, will train young men and women in the various provincial centres to act as a nucleus in developing a province - wide "physically fit consciousness" among the younger generation.

The idea behind the program is diametrically opposed to the spirit of professional rivalry which inspires the Olympic games, Major Eisenhardt said. The motive is not to develop a half dozen super athletes in Canada but, through physical fitness, to give health and strength to every child in Canada.

To this end, the application of the truths of scientific nutrition must be the first consideration. No matter what physical exercise a child is given, that child cannot possibly attain strength and a finely formed body without the proper food, the Major stated.

Small Federal Grant

Unfortunately, the Dominion Government has only voted $250,000 this year to be spent by the Provinces in the physical fitness movement. Even when its condition has been complied with, that each province match the Dominion's contribution dollar for dollar this province will have only $3600 to spend. It is not more than a small fraction of what the province needs, Major Eisenhardt said, but it is a beginning and he felt sure the amount would increase rapidly as the great importance of the program became more fully realized.

Colonel K. S. Rogers conveyed the thanks of the Rotary Club to the speaker for his address and expressed the hope that the agitation for physical fitness would become more clamorous as time went on.

Premier J. Walter Jones followed Col. Rogers and intimated that much more money would be expended on this program of physical fitness as its benefits became more widely recognized.

Major Eisenhardt, who is National Director of Physical Fitness for Canada as well as Chairman of the National Council of Physical Education, will address an audience in the Legislative Chambers this evening at 8 o'clock.

Claudette, Goddard And Lake Co-Star In New Thrill Film

—A picture that is heralded everywhere it plays as one of the greatest ever to come out of Hollywood, is Paramount's "So Proudly We Hail".

Claudette Colbert, Paulette Goddard and Veronica Lake are costarred, supported by George Reeves, Barbara Britton, Walter Abel and Sonny Tufts.

"So Proudly We Hail," produced and directed by Mark Sandrich, is thet story of a handful of American nurses, their lives and their loves under the terrific fire of Bataan and Corregidor. It's an original story, written by Allan Scott, based on what was told by the nurses who were flown out of that holocaust to the safety of Australia and thence to the United States.

All in all, reports have it that "So Proudly We Hail" stands out as a turly great picture and one that is rich in stars, in story and in exciting entertainment. So be sure to put it down on your movie calendar as a film to see. You'll never forget it.

Debate On Family Allowances Resumed

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, July 31—(CP)—Progressive Conservative party members repeated today in the Commons their request for a court decision on the constitutionality of the family allowances bill, but Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Justice Minister St. Laurent reasserted their belief that there was nothing unconstitutional in the measure.

J. G. Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre), Hon. R. B. Hanson (PC-York-Sunbury), Grote Stirling (PC-Yale) and other Progressive Conservative members urged that the matter be submitted to the courts immediately for a ruling because in their opinion the bill was an invasion of provincial rights.

Mr. King and Mr. St. Laurent argued that the payment of allowances out of public funds in respect of every child under 16 in Canada was within the powers of Parliament.

"There is no doubt in the world about the constitutionality of this legislation and the government was careful to have an opinion from the law officers of the Crown to the effect that it is intra vires of this Parliament before introducing the legislation," said Mr. King.

Mr. St. Laurent said he could find nothing in the bill which invaded any jurisdiction given to the provinces. He read an opinion on family allowances given in 1930 by Stuart Edwards, then Deputy Minister of Justice.

Mr. Edwards had said the question of legislative jurisdiction, as between the Dominion and the Provinces, did not arise in the case where the federal government decided to enact a voluntary system of family allowances.

Study of the family allowances bill, which would provide allowances ranging from $5 for a child under six to $8 for a child between 13 and 16 was resumed after the House had disposed of two other measures.

Given third reading was a bill providing the machinery to keep floor prices under farm products during the transition from war to peace. Also adopted was a measure setting up a government insurance scheme for veterans of this war.

Maj. Reid Writes From Sorrento

An interesting letter has been received from Major W.W. Reid, Charlottetown, who is with the Irish Regiment of Canada in Italy. In his letter, dated July 18, Maj. Reid writes in part:

"Was discharged from Hospital July 4 and now on my last week of convalescence at British Red Cross Convalescent Home, Sorrento. It is a beautiful spot. Imagine thousands of people paid a lot of money to holiday here in peace time. The drive from here to Salerno along the coast is about the most scenic drive in the world. There is lots of sunshine and good food. We can swim and sail to our hearts' content and we have two movies each week and an opera every second week. 'Rigoletto' is on this Friday evening. We can look from our window right across the Bay of Naples and Naples itself; then, to the right, old Vesuvius smokes away lazily ,and to the left just off the point you can see Capri We went to Capri by sailboat about ten days ago. The Blue Grotto was well worth seeing but after the drive along the coast from Sorrento to Salerno, we found the island itself a bit disappointing."

Maj. Reid writes that he had Lieut. Gordon Hyde in to visit him in hospital.

P.E.I. Hospitality Returned in Kind By Birmingham Folk

An interesting communication has been received from Mr. J. M. Beddoes, of Birmingham, Eng., who writes that his son Michael, served two and three-quarter years with the Royal Air Force in Prince Edward Island and was "always enthusiastic about the friendly treatment and hospitality he received." "Strict rationing," Mr. Beddoes adds, "often limits private hospitality here much more than we wish, but that collective welcome is not lacking may be judged from the enclosed extracts from Birmingham papers."

The extracts include a letter from a Canadian soldier, expressing "sincere appreciation of the kindness shown by the people in and about Birmingham towards me, and towards many other Canadian soldiers whose good fortune it was to have been stationed in the Midlands at some time during these past few years. The Birmingham people have been unstinting in their generosity and friendship, and it is something that I, for one, will never forget. The Birmingham Hospitality Committee is a model of efficiency, and it has done and is doing a splendid piece of work."

Mr. Beddoes explains that the Provost of Birmingham, Mr. J. R. Richards, retired to a small corner of the Provost House so that the remainder of the mansion might be available as a Services Club.

He writes with special appreciation of the hospitality shown his son here by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carr, R. R. No. 6, Charlottetown, whom he designates "star artists as foster parents to British lads."

Sympathy Expressed

The following letter received by Mr. Lawson Douglas, Mount Stewart, speaks for itself:

Headquarters, Third Regiment
First Special Service Force
APO 4094, c|o Postmaster
New York City, New York,
14 June, 1944.

Mr. Lawson Douglas, Mount Stewart, Prince Edward Island, Canada. My Dear Mr. Douglas:

The First Special Service Force, under the Fifth Army, has been active against the Germans on the Italian front.

The Third Regiment has taken part in these operations. The initiative and courage of the individual soldier has made it one of the greatest fighting units, with accomplishments beyond all expectations.

It is to this success, and the hope for future success, that you have fallen heir, by having made the supreme sacrifice asked of a family during time of War.

To you goes my deepest sympathy and what comfort and consolation may come from knowing your son was a brave boy. He died the bravest of soldiers. In giving his life for his country, he asked no favors; only a chance to fight our enemy.

His courage and bravery have brought credit and honor to his organization and country, and may inspire the greatest of pride and satisfaction in the hearts of his loved ones.

Our countries and people will ever be indebted to those whose sacrifice is never ending—in the loss of their loved ones.

My heart is filled with sorrow. In behalf of your son's Regiment, comrades, and myself—his Regimental Commander, I extend my deepest sympathy.

Sincerely:
EDWIN A. WALKER,
Colonel, 1st Sp. Sv. Force,
Commanding.

Plan Big Liquor Production In U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 31 — (AP) — In the 31 days beginning tomorrow, United States distillers expect to produce about as much whisky and gin as are ordinarily made in a full year.

This is possible, liquor sources said today because distillers will be on a 24 - hour basis and their facilities have been vastly expanded by their war production of alcohol.

In normal times they operated only a few months of the year.

MRS. CHARLES MUTCH

The District of Cherry Valley and vicinity suffered the loss of one of its oldest and most highly esteemed citizens in the passing away on July 23rd, of Mrs. Charles Mutch. She had been ill only a short time and until quite recently had been able to be up with the family and to talk to her friends in her usual bright and happy manner. For the last week or two she had with her besides the family members usually at home, three daughters visiting her two from Saskatoon and one from Washington. This added greatly to her good cheer.

Mrs. Mutch was born at Millview, her parents being the late George and Susanne Jenkins. She would have been eighty nine years of age on July 27th. She married sixty-six years ago. Her husband predeceased her about twenty years ago. She was a woman not only respected by all who knew her but beloved by very many friends, as well as by her devoted family of sons and daughters and by grandchildren ,nephews and nieces. She took a keen interest to the last in many matters of public concern, including the work of the Red Cross and the Church.

The funeral service was held at the home. It was conducted by her pastor, Rev. A S Weir. There was a very large attendance of friends from many places. She will be greatly missed and her name will long be kindly remembered by the community.

She leaves to mourn their loss a family of three sons and four daughters, and one sister, Mrs. F. S. MacPhail, of Nobleboro, Maine. The sons are: Harry and Robert in Saskatchewan, and William J. at home. The daughters are: Lila at home, Mollie in Washington, Mrs. L.D. Peterkin and Mrs. Alexander Wood, both in Saskatoon. A sister, Mrs. Benjamin Mutch, two years her senior passed away last January.

ANTHONY MARTIN

In sad and loving memory of our dear son Anthony, who passed away on August 1st, 1942.

Just two years ago, dear Anthony
Tho to us it seems much more
You were called up home to heaven
Where pains and sickness are no more.

God did call you dear Anthony
To that land of peace and rest
But you'll never be forgotten
By the ones who love you best.

Friends may think you are forgotten
That the wound is surely healed
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.

The days are sad without you
And nothing seems just right
A face we dearly loved has gone
A heart so kind and bright.

Our lips cannot speak how we love you
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
Only God knows how we miss you
As we tread along life's way.

Lovingly Remembered by Father and Mother.
