

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

TUESDAY DECEMBER 7, 1909.

AN EXCLUSIVE RIGHT OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Each of the two Houses of the British Parliament has certain powers and rights which the other House does not possess.

The Commons have the exclusive right to impose taxes and vote money for the public service. The Lords cannot even make an alteration in a bill of supply, except to correct a clerical error.

The exclusive right of the Commons as above defined is indisputable, but the claim is now set up by the Lords for the first time in hundreds of years.

If the Lords are permitted to reject one tax bill, they may reject and destroy any and all tax bills.

The British people will settle this question as they have settled many difficult questions before.

Mr Warburton's argument for restoring our lost representation in the Commons at Ottawa reads well.

CONSUMPTIVES should try Allen's Lung Balsam; it can be had of any Druggist.

Remember there is 10 to 15 per cent off any suit or overcoat made to order at James Callaghan's.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' SWEATERS big and very little, not so big and not so little—just the thing for brisk mornings.

Even those for small children have engaging little pockets into which a purse may be tucked.

On receipt of one dollar we will mail to any address in North America one stem wind Ingersoll Ltd. Guaranteed Watch.

Cloth Overshoes and Felt Boots

For comfort on a cold day there is nothing that so completely fills the bill as a pair of CLOTH RUBBERS or FELT SHOES.

They keep the feet warm and dry and give the wearer that sort of satisfactory feeling that promotes good humor.

We have Cloth Rubbers and Felt shoes in all styles, for everybody from Baby to Grandpa and Grandma.

They keep the feet warm and dry and give the wearer that sort of satisfactory feeling that promotes good humor.

We have Cloth Rubbers and Felt shoes in all styles, for everybody from Baby to Grandpa and Grandma.

They keep the feet warm and dry and give the wearer that sort of satisfactory feeling that promotes good humor.

We have Cloth Rubbers and Felt shoes in all styles, for everybody from Baby to Grandpa and Grandma.

They keep the feet warm and dry and give the wearer that sort of satisfactory feeling that promotes good humor.

We have Cloth Rubbers and Felt shoes in all styles, for everybody from Baby to Grandpa and Grandma.

twentieth century the people shall decide that "government of the people, by the people and for the people," long enjoyed, shall now perish in the land.

THE NAVAL POLICY DICTATED FROM QUEBEC.

Beyond question the naval policy of Canada if not dictated from Quebec, is at least a concession to the sentiment of the French Canadian people.

They are loyal to Canada and to British rule in Canada, as their forefathers have from time to time demonstrated.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

It is not to be expected that they would fully share the sentiment of imperialism, the love for and the delight in the far-flung Empire whose vast expanse and growing greatness is cherished by those Canadians who are of British speech and lineage.

what many believe to be a great imperial crisis and what is certainly a most important new departure in our public policy, it is, we think regrettable that the advanced step should be one inspired by Quebec rather than by the English-speaking Provinces.

We believe and we are assuming, what it might be difficult to prove off-hand, that a majority of the people of Canada would favor a direct contribution toward the construction of battleships for the British navy, rather than to begin the construction of a navy for Canada.

Under Sir Wilfrid Laurier's leadership the liberal party, in all the Provinces defers to Quebec. And not the Liberal party alone, for Mr. Borden the Opposition leader, doubtless foresaw that if he were to oppose the Government's plan with the proposal for a direct contribution he most forfeit any prospect he might otherwise have of any considerable support from Quebec at the next general election, and in the meantime lose the assistance of the handful of Conservatives from that Province who now follow his standard.

If we are correct in making this assumption, the policy of entering upon the construction of a navy is a compromise, to which both parties are committed, for party reasons and not from patriotic motives. And it follows that if we are to enter upon the creation of a navy under such an exigency, the development of the navy and its use for the defence of the Mother Country or the Empire hereafter will be subject to the gravest limitations and trammels.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

what many believe to be a great imperial crisis and what is certainly a most important new departure in our public policy, it is, we think regrettable that the advanced step should be one inspired by Quebec rather than by the English-speaking Provinces.

We believe and we are assuming, what it might be difficult to prove off-hand, that a majority of the people of Canada would favor a direct contribution toward the construction of battleships for the British navy, rather than to begin the construction of a navy for Canada.

Under Sir Wilfrid Laurier's leadership the liberal party, in all the Provinces defers to Quebec. And not the Liberal party alone, for Mr. Borden the Opposition leader, doubtless foresaw that if he were to oppose the Government's plan with the proposal for a direct contribution he most forfeit any prospect he might otherwise have of any considerable support from Quebec at the next general election, and in the meantime lose the assistance of the handful of Conservatives from that Province who now follow his standard.

If we are correct in making this assumption, the policy of entering upon the construction of a navy is a compromise, to which both parties are committed, for party reasons and not from patriotic motives. And it follows that if we are to enter upon the creation of a navy under such an exigency, the development of the navy and its use for the defence of the Mother Country or the Empire hereafter will be subject to the gravest limitations and trammels.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

The English-speaking majority have only themselves to blame, if they permit a minority to dictate the public policy of the country. Almost an considerable minority in the country would we presume, impose their policy upon the majority if they could. At present Quebec holds the leadership of the Government and the Opposition leader enjoys the distinction of greater timidity, and a greater readiness to compromise than any of his unsalaried predecessors in that office.

FIG PILLS ARE WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD

What is wealth without health. You may have all the gold possible, but without you have your health you are the most miserable person living. Fig Pills will give you health and wealth. Rheumatism, kidney and liver trouble, backache, indigestion and constipation can be cured with Fig Pills. 25c a box at Hughes.

Beer @ Weeks

Christmas Sweepers

If you haven't already a sweeper be sure to put one on the Xmas list. Our new Xmas sweepers are beauties, and they only cost $2.75, 3.00, 3.50, or 4.00 according to the finish.

Beer @ Weeks

Xmas Furniture

We've made preparations for the biggest Xmas trade on record. See our elegant lines of Desks, Parlor Tables, Music Cabinets, Odd Chairs. You'll find our variety by long odds the largest--and our prices right.

Beer @ Weeks

New Fancy Huckes

We're showing a fine range of these beautiful damask huckes. They're woven wonderfully fine--are every thread pure linen--and make elegant Xmas Gifts. Patterns--Fleur de lis, Ivy leaf, Rose bud, Pansy etc. Plain huck linens at 15c, 20c, 25c and 38c. Plain art linens at 34c, 38c, 44c, 52.

Japanese Hand-made Linens

Now is the time to select from our elegant stock of hand made linens. New designs are in--ready for you--priced wonderfully low. Every bit of the work is done by hand, and wonderfully well done, too. Tray cloths, Centerpieces, Shams, Scarves, Handkerchiefs, Cushions. Just the thing to send to friends abroad--wont break in the mails--costs little to send.

Beer @ Weeks

Beer @ Weeks

Beer @ Weeks

Beer @ Weeks

Beer @ Weeks

Beer @ Weeks

Usable Gifts

Our holiday stock is made up almost entirely of articles of utility. We have an unusually fine showing of such goods this season--goods selected with particular care. For your own satisfaction we would urge early buying.

J.G. Jamieson, DRUGGIST

The Ideal Gift

for a lady is one of our 14k pearl set bracelets or a plain gold one. We certainly have a very handsome line of gold Bracelets and we will be pleased to have you see them. We will engrave these to your order.

G.H. Taylor, Jeweler

Just Received

in 1 lb, 1-2 lb, and bulk.

Rockwood Chocolates

E. J. DesRoches Sunnyside.

HANDKERCHIEF SALE NOW GOING ON--SEE OUR BIG ADS FOR SPECIAL PRICES. MOORE & McLEOD. 12-6dtf.

Life soap is delightfully refreshing for bath and toilet. For washing underclothing it is unequalled. Cleanses and purifies.

We have a splendid showing of new goods suitable for Xmas gifts. Dainty pieces of jewelry, elaborate Silverware, Watches, Clocks, Ebony pieces, and sets, etc., any of which will make acceptable gifts. Prices exceptionally low.

Z. W. Patterson Jeweler Cor. of Great George & Grafton Streets.

Good Opportunity

Wishing to devote all our time to the baking of Home-made Bread we offer for rental our large and commodious store, all fixtures included. Any responsible party taking hold will have the advantage of a well established grocery business to which can be added as an extra line--salt and fresh meats etc. An excellent opening is afforded for this latter line. For fuller information apply personally between seven and eight evenings or address.

Cameron's Grocery, 13 Spring Park Road. 12-2dtfs6j.

Goff Bros

MEN'S WAISTCOATS made by one of the best makers of waistcoats in Canada, who confines the style, and the fabrics with which he makes these vests, exclusively to haberdashers of note that's us Madam. If you cannot find time to knit one try us we have the right kind $2.25 up to $4.50. Paton's. 12-7dtf.

"God Save the King" as it was never sung before. This night week by the Charlottetown Male Chorus and Band. Exchange tickets now on sale plan opens Monday the 13th. 12-7dtf.

"New Cooking Raisins in 7 pound boxes. Seeded Raisins in 1 pound packages and Sultana Raisins in bulk and packages at Beer & Goff's. 12-6dtf.

MEN'S FUR COATS we are showing in the Fur Department on Second Floor, a splendid line of men's Fur Coats--indispensable to the man who drives during the Winter season; they are made of most fashionable and serviceable skins, and are very moderately priced--See our Special Coon Coats at $85.00. Paton & Co. 12-7dtf.

"We have an extra good line of ebony goods, including Military hair and cloth brushes, mirrors, etc. The prices are most reasonable. See our Xmas show. G. H. Taylor, Jeweler. 12-2dtfs6j.

MINK MARMOT FURS

A Full Third to be Saved They are the right Goods

There is a Marvellous Assortment

Rock-bottom Pricing gives us the fur trade

Everybody Says So

The last of those Mink Marmot muffs at $4.50 was $5.75 $5.00 was $7.50

The last of our English consignment, Mink Marmot ruffs and muffs at a clear saving of 1-3 off every $.

A few Grey Squirrel ruffs are included with this lot.

1/3 Saved on the following

4 Mink Marmot rug muffs $8.34 was $12.00.

1 Grey Squirrel throw 8.34 was 12.50

1 Grey Squirrel Throw 9.00 was 13.50

1 Grey Squirrel Throw 9.67 was 14.50

2 Mink Marmot rug muffs, with tails 9.67 was 14.50

</