—INSTITUTE MEETING.— The regular monthly meeting of the Sea View Women's Institute was held in their Institute room on Tuesday evening, July 18th. Meeting opened by singing "Ode," and repeating creed. Seventeen members answered the roll call. The minutes were read and approved. The Secretary gave a report of $45 received as the proceeds from an ice cream social held in the Hall. The members decided to place two drinking fountains in the school and a committee was appointed to purchase same, also to have the school thoroughly cleaned and steps of the Hall painted. A one time valued member, Miss Maud Donald, while home on a visit attended this meeting and a hearty welcome was extended to her by President and members. Mrs. Earle MacKay and Mrs. Edwin Donald gave very interesting reports of the annual convention held in Charlottetown. Plans were made to hold a picnic at the shore. Next roll call to be answered with my favorite vegetable. A discussion followed in regards to District Convention to be held in Malpeque, August 7th and committee were appointed. No further business. The Empire's Greatest Timber Stands

THE last great stand of soft-wood timber in the British Empire lies in British Columbia. The timber industry of this province sets in circulation each year, eighty-four million dollars. It provides employment for one in every four workers in this province. It represents capital investment of one hundred million dollars. Nearly four thousand firms, spending fifty millions each year on equipment and supplies, are engaged in the timber and allied industries. These are tremendous factors in the rising tide of British Columbia's prosperity. But apart from the timber industry itself, vast forests make this province a land of opportunity and a place where life is better. Forests provide watersheds and control stream flow for hydro-electric power, a factor in British Columbia's rise to the third province in Canada in power and industrial development. Forests conserve moisture for irrigation for prosperous farms. They prevent floods and temper climate. They clothe British Columbia in beauty which attracts tourists. And because of British Columbia's mild climate and rich soil, new forests grow rapidly on logged and burnt-over areas, contributing what is roughly estimated at six billion board feet of lumber annually to our timber wealth. Visit the Coast this summer.
