RAISES GOLDFISH IN POOL.—Purchasing a pair of goldfish here some time ago and placing them in an outdoor pool as an experiment, Cecil Jenkins has about 100 fish of large size and believes if his breeding success continues, he will have launched a new industry in this province. Mr. Jenkins has an artificial fresh water pool on his premises five feet in length, three feet wide and 18 inches deep. One of the pair he put in the pool died after a short time but was replaced by another. The goldfish thrived and now there are about 100 of them. The pool contains a number of water lilies and a quantity of food the goldfish consume, and the flies and insects on the lily Mr. Jenkins said. Occasionally a few worms are thrown in the pool which are quickly devoured.
