THE ARANMORE.—In regard to the S.S. Aranmore the Halifax Chronicle says: While the stranding of the ship is unfortunate, there is another feature still more regrettable attached to the stranding of the Aranmore. The steamer sailed from Prince Edward Island recently with a few hundred cargo of supplies for the shores of the Strait of Belle Isle. If these supplies do not reach their destination there is a possibility that the people there will starve. It had been originally planned that the ice breaker Montcalm would make this trip, but she was diverted to the St. Lawrence to keep the track clear for outgoing ships. It may be too late even for the Montcalm to take a new or transferred cargo to Belle Isle. When the winter's ice sets in it will be impossible for even this strong icebreaker to make any headway. The winter supplies are already overdue at Belle Isle.

Lea, Commissioner of Agriculture and Mr. W. Boulter of the Department were present and addressed the meeting. The commission dealt with different phases of mixed farming, emphasizing the necessity of live stock production and that the best way of increasing the fertility of the soil is by feeding the product of the farm at home. Mr. Boulter dealt with co-operative marketing, pointing out the harm to those who marketed wool, eggs, poultry and milk products in this way. He also spoke at some length on the rural school problem, showing that in this too there must be co-operation and a greater expenditure of money on the part of the people. At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered the speakers.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.—A large number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCarville, gathered at their home at Kingsport on Monday, 24th inst. to greet them on the occasion of their anniversary of five years wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. McCarville were the recipients of many gifts, principal among them being a beautiful buffet, and a considerable sum of money. After all the guests had assembled, the young people indulged in dancing and the elder people in card playing. The music for the occasion was furnished by Mr. Joseph Mulligan of Kingsport and Miss Janie Flavahan of Kensington. After a while spent in dancing, supper was served in Mrs. McCarville's usual elaborate style. When the needs of the inner man were satisfied, dancing was resumed and carried on until the wee small hours of the morning when the guests departed to their homes, after wishing Mr. and Mrs. McCarville much happiness in the years to come, and hoping to be present again for their silver jubilee.

THE STORY

"In the courtyard of a monastery years ago, a pious monk planted a rosebush. In spite of his tender care it never blossomed. The gentle priest brooded over it, considering it an evidence of divine displeasure. One day, so the legend runs, he prayed at the side of the bush that it might bloom. In the midst of his supplication a gentle voice bade him 'Be at peace,' and looking up he saw the Holy Mother standing before him—and lo, a miracle!—the rosebush had burst into bloom."
