Irving Berlin's 'This is Army' Starts Monday

TECHNICOLOR FILM OF HIT STAKE SHOW COMING TO PRINCE EDWARD

The motion picture version of the all-soldier musical, Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army," produced by Warner Bros. of Army Emergency Relief, will have its premiere at the Prince Edward Theatre on Monday.

The film, recently completed in Hollywood, was produced by Jack L. Warner and Hal B. Wallis. Michael Curtiz directed. The entire company of 350 soldiers, who appeared in the musical on Broadway and during its cross-country tour, appears here with the soldiers in their original roles in the picture, which includes the entire stage production of "This Is the Army" as well as additional material from Irving Berlin's World War I soldier show, "Yip, Yip Yaphank."

Irving Berlin makes his picture debut in "This Is the Army," singing his famed lament, "Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning," as he did in the stage version.

Also included in the cast, for purposes of a slight story content, are George Murphy, Joan Leslie, Lieutenant Ronald Reagan, Alan Hale, George Tobias, Charles Butterworth, Una Merkel and Sgt. Joe Louis. In addition, it is in "This Is the Army" that Kate Smith makes her first screen appearance in ten years and new Berlin songs are sung by Frances Langford and Gertrude Niesen.

Screen play for the picture is by Casey Robinson and Capt. Claude Binyon, based on the stage show Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army," with music and lyrics by Irving Berlin.

Discusses Supply Of Dairy Products To Old Country

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 —(CP)— The promise the United Nations have given to provide food for liberated countries will necessitate withdrawing products from stocks "that are already in short supply," J. F. Singleton, chairman of the Canadian Dairy Products Board said here today.

In an address prepared for delivery to the annual meeting of the National Dairy Council, Mr. Singleton declared, "naturally conditions in the liberated areas will operate to restrict the kinds of dairy products that may be supplied. For example, it would be impracticable to supply such products as cheese and butter to areas which have not suitable refrigeration facilities to take care of the products after delivery."

Discussing the supply of dairy products to the United Kingdom, he said quantities are based on requirements and on probable surpluses over known requirements at the time the contracts are made but frequently "unanticipated needs arise which are usually met."

Unlike most other major dairy products, domestic consumption of cheese in Canada has not increased and per capita consumption of cheese during 1943 was less than during pre-war years since 1933.

He made these other observations:—

1. Total consumption of butter and cooking fats per annum in Canada is at approximately the same level as the United States per capita consumption of butter, margarine and cooking fats combined.

2. No restrictions on the sale of fluid milk have been applied in Canada and sales of fluid milk in Canada have increased greatly for various reasons, such as greater buying power, lower costs to users due to government consumer subsidy, nutrition campaigns, shortages of other beverages, and restriction of sale of ice cream.

Address and Presentation

A large number of people of North Wiltshire and vicinity tendered a grand reception in their hall recently.

The occasion marked an address and presentation to Mr. Amos Monaghan, retired station agent of that place. Amos is known far and near as a very courteous, obliging and efficient station agent, having worked at many of the different stations on the Island Division, previous to his appointment as permanent agent at North Wiltshire.

He has the distinction of being the first agent to open most stations on the Murray Harbor branch and was for a time permanent agent at Vernon. He also opened Montague on the Georgetown sub-division.

After many years as agent he has settled down in the midst of those he has loved and served so well, quite content to spend his remaining years with them, at North Wiltshire.

The unusual large number in attendance showed their high respect and appreciation for one whose devotion to duty both to employer and citizens mark him as one of the communties most prized assets.

A very appropriate address was read by Mr. E. N. Easter while Mr. Earl Kelly presented a well filled purse. His wife was presented with a beautful bouquet by Miss Betty Ann McLean. In reply Mr. Monaghan thanked the large audience for their presence also for their kind and nicely worded adres and expressed his gratitude for their very generous gifts.

Remarks were then made by Messrs. E. Howatt, F. J. Trainor, Cecil R. Campbell and George C. McLean, all commending Mr. Monaghan on his work done so faithfully and well during these many years.

For He's A Jolly Good Fellow was then sung by all present.

A grand lunch was then served by the ladies.

The remander of the evening was greatly enjoyed by the younger people in dancing, music being supplied by Messrs. Golden Graves, H. Campbell and Raymond Gallant, violinists and Miss Gertie Costello and Miss Hilda Gallant on guitar and piano.

The National Anthem brought at a late hour a very pleasant evening to a close.

DREAM ISLAND

Nestled by the friendly lands,
Token colored reddish sands,
Rising through a heavy mist,
Shining like the amethyst.

Grainish covered fields of gold;
Dazzling beauty to behold,
Towering towards the open sky,
Hovering 'neath birds that fly.

Grain afluttering in the dale;
Tortured by old Mother gale,
Sighing, breathing open air,
Bountiful to Dream Island fair.

Stretching seashore on for miles;
Richly tinted in mold piles,
Swimmers dreams all come true,
'Neath Dream Island's azure blue.

The distant calls of wild geese clear,
Echo, echo, sounding near;
Crack! Rifle shots fills the air;
And geese come hurtling down in pair.

Our Island streams abound in trout;
As fishermen will tell no doubt,
Enraptured by the sounds of birds;
Like the blend of pretty words.

No other Isle appeals to me;
As Prince Edward by the sea,
I proudly boast of her my home;
Proven will I never roam.
—Leo Walsh.
