AVERAGE CROP REPORT BEST SINCE 1915

Wheat Harvesting Has Commenced in Many Districts and Rye and Barley is Being Cut.

WINNIPEG, July 26.—The Canadian Pacific Railway weekly crop report issued today says: "A week of abnormally hot weather, with only light showers over scattered areas, has resulted in lowering the anticipated yield, although the good rain fall would still benefit. But while it must be admitted that the intensely hot weather of the past month has reduced expectations, it has not impaired the prospects for a better average crop than any since 1915. The campaign against grasshoppers has been successful and the loss from this cause is minimized. Hall over scattered areas has caused some damage (but not so severe as the previous week. Rust has affected some crops but not extensively. Live stock is all doing well. "Rye and barley are being cut in many places in Manitoba and wheat harvesting has commenced in many districts. "Most of Saskatchewan would welcome rain, as it would prevent shrinkage in the expected yield, especially on light soils. Hall is reported in some sections of this province, extending over several thousand acres. "In Alberta the southern prairie rain is quite urgent, and in one district the crop is already being cut for feed. Conditions in the balance of the province continue favorable, and it is expected that wheat-cutting will start in the more advanced districts this week. "Along the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway there has been liberal rain and crops show every indication of heavy yield." REGINA, July 25.—The first wheat-cutting in the Moose Jaw...

LONDON, July 27.—President DeValera has called the Irish Republican army leaders and his chief supporters to a conference at Dublin on the British peace proposals, it was learned authoritatively today. The conference has been obtained as a favorable sign here, indicating that sufficient approval has been obtained to warrant extending these proposals to whom the terms have been submitted. It was believed that the Dail Eireann members who are at large already have met to consider the British offer and to pass on them more or less formally. Opposition is known to have developed but there was a growing belief that DeValera will be able to overcome it at least to the extent of obtaining approval of counter suggestions.

Lightning Bolt Came Down Kitchen Chimney In Prince County

In the severe thunder storm which swept over Prince county on Tuesday afternoon, the house of Mr. J. Gaudet, Muddy Creek, was struck, the bolt of lightning entering by the kitchen chimney, destroying it, burning the kitchen table and missing five children by less than a few feet. Proceeding through the house, the lightning struck a suit of clothes in the room of Mr. Gaudet, burned the pictures on the bed room walls and created other damages. Mr. Gaudet who was in Summerside on Wednesday arranging an insurance settlement with the underwriters, said that it was a more miraculous escape from death for himself and his children than any he had ever heard of in the province. When the bolt of lightning struck the chimney it had more force and sound than a high explosive shell and he believed for some time that the entire dwelling was destroyed. Though the bolt passed within a few feet of the children, they escaped entirely without mishap.

Sir George Perley May Go to Geneva

OTTAWA, July 26.—It is intimated that Sir George Perley, Canadian High Commissioner in London, may be called upon to represent Canada at the September meeting of the League of Nations in Geneva instead of Sir George Foster, acting Prime Minister. Sir George Perley was to have sailed from London for Canada last Thursday but it is understood here that his sailing has been delayed because of this change in plans. Sir George Foster stated that he could say nothing definite regarding the matter at present. There is some question in unofficial circles whether this indicates that Premier Meighen's stay in London will continue for some time yet and, therefore, the senior member of the Cabinet does not wish to be absent from Canada until the Prime Minister has returned. The latest information given out here regarding Premier Meighen's sailing was that he had been "delayed for some days."

Doctor's Discovery Will Restore Sight To Thousands

NEW YORK, July 26.—What eye specialists agree may prove to be one of the greatest medical discoveries in history soon will be placed before the Academy of Medicine and the American Medical Association. A serum to restore the sight in cases of blindness caused by atrophy of the optic nerve, heretofore regarded as incurable, has been developed by Dr. Erasmus Arlington Pond, of 1043 Dean Street, Brooklyn, an eye specialist of unquestioned standing in his profession. Knowledge of Dr. Pond's discovery leaked out against his wishes, as it was his desire to prevent all public discussion of his work until he had made a formal report upon it to the medical bodies of which he is a member, in accordance with the ethical standards of medical practice. No applications for treatment will be considered until the fall, when Dr. Pond will disclose the formula of his preparation which is at present known only to himself and to one or two associates. When he makes his report he will make known the composition of the serum, so that it may be used by all eye practitioners. Dr. Pond refused to discuss his discovery until he has made his professional report. His wife, however, admitted that he had found such a serum, saying that he had been at work upon it for several years, and now is busy completing his presentation of the treatment and the records of the cases undertaken by him. The cure which Dr. Pond is known to have effected were made in cases which were declared hopeless by eye specialists in several hospitals. From three to six months was required in each case for the restoration of normal sight. Nourishment of the optic nerve, greatly restored it to health, in view of the serum being made through the eye-ball.

Northcliffe Skeptical About Prohibition

NEW YORK, July 26.—Lord Northcliffe, who is enjoying the lure of the metropolis for a short while, before resuming his trip toward the Far East, has joined the list of visiting personalities who exhibit a sense of humor in discussing matters appertaining to the eighteenth amendment and its enforcement. "Asked what he thought of prohibition, he said: "Take me to a place where there is prohibition and I'll tell you what I think about it." Which recalls that a Rumanian prince on a recent visit to New York asked: "When does prohibition begin?" NEW YORK, July 26.—Two members of the British Parliament started today a first hand investigation to ascertain how prohibition is working out in the United States.

Evening Performance.

At the evening performance a vital message was brought before the audience by Mrs. Helen B. Paulsen, who has been affectionately styled "The Mother Goose Lady" and who is a noted lecturer and psychologist. Herself a mother, a teacher and a lecturer with a sympathetic understanding of children's as well as parents' problems Mrs. Paulsen completely won the hearts of her hearers last night. Using the figures representing Mother Goose characters, she made the audience visualize the different phases in a child's life and the development of its character.

Noozie the Sunshine Kid

In the matter of habits, she said, children acquire habits in the first twenty-four hours. The baby is the little stifle of the people it associated with up until the third year. If we do not like the things the baby does we should go home and mend our own ways. We should stop talking heredity. There is not much that children inherit. They acquire things from example. Mrs. Paulsen accused the fathers of young girls of being the chief contributors to their daughters' wildness. She stated that fathers have a more important home duty in this day than ever before in their lives. "The woman of yesterday was protected by her father, then married and was protected by her husband or in case she did not marry her brothers protected her." Mrs. Paulsen said: "The girl of today goes into a different environment and surroundings. "Fathers know the conditions that surround the girls in the store, the office and the factory. They cling to old ideals too tenaciously and do not grasp the significance of the spirit of the hour. It is as the mothers do not. It is not a square deal to the girls for the fathers not to teach them to know the girl so well that they can be sweet and pure and still earn their own money. One often hears men criticizing the way girls act and dress in the United States. It would be well for some to ask them this pertinent question—'Are your daughters going to dress and act differently when they go out to work for some one?' Then answer that question by saying—'If they do, it is going to be because you teach them, they cannot get this intimate knowledge from books nor schools.' "The twentieth century boy is complaining very bitterly of the girls you and I are raising, and the girls are not to blame as much as we are. The boys say—'There is nobody home.' They say that they go to the home of the girl, knock at the door, she comes to the door and without even asking him in, she says—'Well, where can we go tonight?' "She has to go to a movie, a theater, have a box of candy and something to eat after it is all over. The young men say their perfectly good wage is practically gone by the time the evening is over. Do for armaments, etc., the sum of you know what the worth while twenty-five billion dollars. This young men, those who are trying to establish themselves, are doing? They are just not going with the intelligently and the speaker put this way: Build a straight road from Charlottetown to Vancouver, an island of three thousand miles; stand upon it the sum of $40,000,000 a mile; build a house costing $5,000 on every fifty feet of that road; give each family in every house along those three thousand miles an automobile; build a church on every mile of the road costing $100,000 and a hospital and library costing together $250,000; put a preacher at $5,000 a year in every church; ten teachers at $2,000 a year in every school and supply to the libraries competent librarians; put in three doctors and seven nurses in every hospital and pay them $50,000 a year—do all this and it costs only one third of what Americans spend in the great year. This transcendental highway and all the institutions on it could be kept up for seven years on America's eighteen months' war expenses. Dr. Kammeyer's lecture was followed by a splendid concert by Misses Grace and Frances Hoyt, assisted by Mr. Harry Whilens. Their entertainment consisted of solos, duets, monologues, readings, etc. These ladies went over to France during the war and entertained the soldier boys with many cheerful concerts. They were the first company sent over by Dr. Pearson who was director of the entertainments for American troops. Their selections yesterday included Gypsy duets and old French folk song, a Japanese play and love song (in Japanese) "Hello Martha" (an imitation of a London cockney), a Chinese dance "Ta-Ta-o!" and many other fine things. Both ladies possess splendid voices and elocutionary talent. Wilhelm exhibited masterly skill on the piano, both in accompanying the Misses Hoyt and in his piano solos.

STRONG PROGRAMME AT CHAUTAUQUA YESTERDAY

Last Night's Performance Included a Powerful Lecture by Mrs. Helen B. Paulsen, Preceded by Songs and Music of Many Lands.

Yesterday's entertainment began at 9 a. m. with the Junior Chautauqua which continued merrily until 11 o'clock. About a hundred children in wece present and if they didn't enjoy themselves immensely, with Miss Fisher, the Junior Chautauqua superintendent, their smiling faces belied the fact, that's all. In the afternoon Dr. Kammeyer delivered his second series lecture on National Ideals. Nations change their ideals slowly, he pointed out, and no doubt slow growth is the law of development. But sometimes we cling to old ideals too tenaciously and do not grasp the significance of the spirit of the hour. It is as the mothers do not. It is not a square deal to the girls for the fathers not to teach them to know the girl so well that they can be sweet and pure and still earn their own money. "In one downtown store there are to be seen several D. C. M.'s, a number of M. M.'s, Mons E's, Victory medals, General Service medals and others. "Even the mother's medal finds a place. "One veteran who received his medals not long ago, consisting of the Military medal, the Victory and General Service medals, promptly took them to a store and received seven dollars for them. "In a good many cases the medals have been sold because the recipient was in actual want and had nothing else of value to dispose of. In very few cases have medals pawned been redeemed and most of them have been sold outright. In place of remaining in the possession of the man who won them they will ultimately become the property of collectors.
