THE MORNING GUARDIAN

SATURDAY, OCT. 31, 1903.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES.

It is fortunate for the peace and safety of Eastern Canada that the turbulent and heaving waters of the Bay of Fundy and the breadth of Nova Scotia separate the cities of St. John and Halifax, else there would be war and carnage between them. It is an old feud, but has apparently grown more bitter with age. It has found vent for years in sneers and taunts, in gross perversions of fact, in exasperating caricatures and in wordy wrangles in the newspapers. St. John has been taunted with its fog, a thousand times, which it cannot help, and Halifax has been sneered at and its harbor slandered as a skating rink, because occasionally it freezes over. But Halifaxians have no more control over the temperature than the St. Johners have over the humidity of the atmosphere.

Just now the Halifax Chronicle, Mr. Fielding's home organ, rises to fling a new epithet at St. John, in a leading editorial article headed "Maritime Hogtown." The occasion for this opprobrium is that some steamers of the Allen Line subsidized by the federal Government to ply between a British port and St. John are to be withdrawn and will hereafter make Halifax their western terminal port instead. Against their withdrawal St. John protests. Behind this lies the fact that the C. P. R. steamers are now plying to St. John, steamers not owned by that railway company when the contract with the Allans was made, and it is claimed there are not berths enough at St. John to accommodate these steamers and all of the subsidized lines. We need not enter into the merits of the steamship controversy, with which our readers have no concern. They may be however somewhat concerned with other features of the case.

St. John has the honor to be represented by Hon. A. G. Blair, who has been a stalwart champion of its interests in railway matters of recent note. And as St. John has shown a disposition to stand by her representative, that fact has added to the wrath of Mr. Fielding's organ. Hence the irritating epithet of "Hogtown," coupled with the statement that "with all four feet in the public trough it ought not to squeal unmelodiously." We think it will be conceded that these are neither conciliatory nor graceful words. And thinking persons will see the unwisdom of wantonly insulting an entire community in this fashion. St. John had enough Liberals on its electoral list at the last election to give Mr. Blair, then a colleague of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding, a thousand majority over Mr. Foster. It can hardly strengthen the Government interest in St. John, or the Liberal cause in New Brunswick to heap wholesale opprobrium upon these former friends and supporters. But the unwisdom of the Chronicle in recent years has been much in evidence.

Punch has a cartoon on the Alaskan Boundary Award entitled the "Alaska Cracker." It represents Uncle Sam and Miss Canada pulling a broken cracker, he getting nearly the whole of it. Uncle Sam says: "What's the matter with this?" Canada replies, "Rotter, I say."

There is a difference of opinion among the London newspapers as to whether under the new arbitration treaty between Britain and France the French Shore question in Newfoundland will be brought to a speedy settlement. The Daily Telegraph thinks this question will be the first one to be brought by the two nations before the Hague court. The Chronicle continues that the treaty makes the arbitration coal only with new questions such as may from time to time arise and not with present difficulties. It is a hopeful symptom of the situation that some influential French newspapers have expressed the hope that the French Shore question may be arbitrated at The Hague.

A curious situation has developed with regard to the Boer prisoners in Ceylon, a number of whom still refuse to take the oath of allegiance, and are still being maintained in a camp at the cost of the British Government. General Delarey was some time ago sent to Ceylon to induce them to come to terms, with what result does not yet appear. The war has been long over, but these men are still clothed and lodged in the manner stated. Ceylon is noted for its fine climate and these men are apparently contented to lead a life of idleness under the very slight restraints imposed upon them. It is understood that if Delarey's mission proves unsuccessful the camp will be broken up and the prisoners left to shift for themselves, but without permission to return to South Africa.

No more frequent nor just cause of complaint occurred during the time the Liberals were in opposition than that vacancies in the representation were allowed to remain long unfilled. Now we have the case of North Renfrew, which for nearly a year and a half has remained unrepresented in the Ontario Legislature solely because the Government is afraid to bring on the election. Another case nearer home is that of West Queens. Mr. Farquharson died in June last, over four months ago. During most of that time Parliament was in session and the riding left unrepresented. Common report has it that there will be another session before the general election. If such is the intention there can be no excuse for further delay in issuing the writ. There is no valid excuse for not having filled the vacancy three months ago. Our only chance, apparently of ever having five members in the Commons, again is to have the election brought on before the present Parliament expires.

PERKINS, ONT. Aug. 10th, 1903.
CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE Co., TORONTO.
DEAR SIR:—In acknowledging receipt of your cheque for $1,221.20, I desire to express my satisfaction with the outcome of my investment with you. My policy, No 5745, was issued on the endowment plan in 1870 for $100, and I paid ten premiums of $8 each, or $80 altogether. The surplus payment you now make is more than the total cost of the policy by $1,221.20 and I have received the $1,000 in addition. It is hardly necessary for me to say that to have all my payments returned and $1,221.20 in addition, besides the insurance protection all these years, is quite satisfactory to me. I congratulate the Canada Life on a record which might almost be considered impossible.

Yours truly,
W. K. Rogers,
Manager P. E. Island Branch,
