SUFFERED LIKE JOB.

Bolls and Pimples, the Result of Bad Blood, Made Life Unbearable.

RUISSEAU LE BLANC, Que., April 29.—(Special.)—An estimable lady whose home is in this village, has been much afflicted with boils. Miss Marie Arbour is her name, and the torture she has endured is beyond description.

For a long time, these unpleasant and painful evidences of bad blood have been appearing, first on one part of her body, then on another. She was never free from them.

She doctored and tried medicines of many kinds, but nothing did her any good or lessened the trouble in the least. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. She writes:

"It is a long time, that I have been suffering of boils on the leg, which was caused through bad blood. I tried many remedies, but no good. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. I praise them always."

Dodd's Kidney Pills purify the blood in its nature's way, through the kidneys.

The soloists, all favourites, were in excellent voice and as usual delighted their hearers with their selections. The duet by the little Misses Gill charmed the audience, they having to respond to an encore. The instrumental duet by Misses Suttis and Laphorne, the solo by Mr. McKie and the cornet solo by Miss Gwen Walsh, were pleasing numbers and the readings by Misses Finlayson and Stenford were rendered in excellent form, Miss Stenford having to appear a second time. Mr. Raymond in his rendering of, "My double and how he undid me," evoked roars of laughter. Mr. Charles and Miss Amy Earle by request gave, "The Crooked Bawbee" which was among the best of the evening. On the whole the concert was a decided success and the young people of the Baptist church are to be congratulated on their effort to give pleasure to concert-goers. During the intermission waiters were on hand with delicious candy for which they found ready sale. The platform, piano, etc. were prettily decorated with flowers and potted plants.

A NOVEL FEAT.

LONDON, April 27.—On the Hampton Wick towpath along the Thames in Middlesex country yesterday, T. Savage of Raynes Park Surrey walked a quarter of a mile rode a horseback the same distance, ran a quarter of a mile, rode a bicycle the same distance then sculled a quarter of a mile and swam a quarter of a mile in the river all in 18 minutes and 33 seconds.

TO SHARPEN THE WITS OF BRITISH YOUTH

LONDON, April 27.—Intellectual inertia will disappear from among England's school children, if certain reformers, now active, bring about the successful application of their ideas. These persons start with the proposition that English school children do not think, and from this argue a lower intelligence for the coming men and women. They would avert this result by taking children about the country on tours for sight-seeing and investigation calculated to stimulate the mind.

HARD, RACKING COUGHS.

Barring accidents, the person who get along with the least amount of cough will live the longest. Of course the right time to attack a cough is the commencement when it is a simple thing for the right treatment to drive the cough quickly away. As a general thing, however, people spend too much time experimenting with various remedies that the cough is well under way before they know it. Then comes the long siege. You feel the hard, racking all through your system, and get relief for nothing. You fill your stomach with nauseating mixtures to no purpose. Then you use compounds containing narcotic, which deceive temporarily and leave you slightly worse. Some coughs of this kind hang on for weeks, or even months, and, of course, they frequently develop into serious lung trouble. A true specific for all coughs is Johnson's Botanic Cough Balsam and should be kept in the house against any emergency. With a cough that has become chronic the first effect of this remedy is a lessening of the dull sensation of pain which usually is felt with such a cough. Then you are conscious that the soreness is leaving you and presently the desire to cough grows less frequent. All this process is brought about by the healing properties of the Balsam. It is a compound of herbs and gums. You can test it 25 cents at any druggist's. Get the genuine with "F. W. Kinsman & Co.'s" blown in the bottle.

DRESSED POULTRY.

Among the growing industries of Canada is that of trans-Atlantic trade in poultry. This industry has already assumed large proportions, and there is no apparent reason why the advancement should not be continuous. The industry is one that does not necessitate any radical change in farm operations, for it is the farmer to whom we must look for a large portion of such produce. Poultry raising can be carried on simultaneously with regular farm operations with very little, if any interference with the farmers regular work. We know of nothing else that will repay better the amount of time and labor expended upon it than poultry raising. Especially is this the case now that the industry has been placed upon a most permanent basis in the way of facilities for trans-Atlantic trade. The Canadian Dressed Poultry Company have been constituted to facilitate matters in connection with trade in the new industry. They are in a position to inform poultry raisers on the requirements of the British market; to give instruction to the feeding and proper care of fowls, and to bring the market practically to the door of the producer. The United States tariff has deprived the Canadian producer of the New York and Boston markets, but now that the British market is wide open the disadvantage is practically dissolved. A very important feature, one of which we would direct the attention of our readers, is that there is no chance for monopoly in connection with the Canadian Dressed Poultry Company. Any one can become a shareholder. The condition on which one may become a shareholder are stated clearly in the announcement to be found in this issue. Farmers and poultry raisers, now in your opportunity.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE WHILE HE SLEPT.

CLINTON, Iowa, April 23.—Death by his own hand while in a somnambulist state is the fate which befell Clifford Sadoris, of De Witt.

Sadoris had done many marvellous things in his sleep. He carried his bed from upstairs down into the parlor one night, put it up again and slept half the night. He had hatched upon the team and started to work in the field on one occasion, but was awakened by his father, who had been aroused by the noise.

The night on which he committed suicide, before he went to bed he read aloud to his parents an account of a man committing suicide by going to the barn and firing a charge of buckshot into his heart. He appeared to be considerably moved by the incident, and expressed great sympathy for a man whose mind was in such a condition that he would take his own life. He went to bed as usual, but some time in the night he killed himself in identically the same manner.

The coroner's jury agreed with the parents that the young man was in a somnambulist state when he shot himself.

Provincial County Exhibitions

SIR,—As a remedy for the existing contention between the different counties, concerning our annual exhibition I would suggest that the county lines be drawn on the Charlottetown exhibition grounds and allow each county to compete separately on the same grounds same date, under the same management, and be judged by the same judges. I would also suggest to make up for the additional cost for prizes, that two prizes instead of three in each class be the rule adopted; third to be honorable mention only. This with an admission fee of 25cts to the Queen's County exhibition, and the additional fee of 10cts to each of the other county exhibitions would with the extra interest taken in the exhibition by Kings and Prince counties, I think, cover the extra cost to the company for prizes, and give general satisfaction in the live stock competition.

Cold Settles on the Kidneys

Exposure to cold and damp atmosphere and sudden changes in the weather close the pores of the skin and this throws the waste matter which should escape through the skin back on the kidneys. The effect upon these overburdened organs is what is known as "cold on the kidneys," which usually develops into regular kidney disease or Bright's disease. The earliest symptoms of ailing kidneys are backache, painful and scalding sensations when passing water and deposits in the urine. Immediately on the appearance of any of these indications resort should be made to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which will in a surprising short time set the kidneys and bowels in order and insure the return of health. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills can be absolutely relied upon as a cure for every form of kidney and liver derangement. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box.

This preparation is admirably suited to the requirements of children, and has such an invigorating and restorative influence on the system as to make weak, puny children healthy plump and active.
