THE adjourned case of Mrs. Margaret Ware, who is charged with soliciting money under false pretences, was again before the Court, a number of witnesses giving evidence which corroborated the testimony of witnesses on previous days. Mrs. Ware's lawyer intimated that in defence he proposed proving an alibi and called Mrs. Ware as first witness. At one o'clock the case was adjourned until this morning.

A CORRESPONDENT writes.—During the past few years P. E. I. farmers have made a very creditable showing in the raising of wheat but reports have come to hand that during the hot summer months it is almost impossible to either keep the wheat itself or the product in a sound condition. I would therefore suggest that wheat be thrashed as soon as it has passed its first sweating on the straw and be marketed at once. During the winter months it is fit for the best trade, but the uncertainty of it keeping during the hot months will have a bad effect on the party buying in the spring. Wheat weighs more in the fall and besides the use of the money is considerable. All these things are in favor of shipping at once. The above opinion is given by a prominent maritime miller.

CONSIDERABLE interest was taken yesterday in the trial of William Birt charged with discharging a firearm with intent to do bodily harm to Thos. Butler. According to the evidence submitted before Stipendiary McDonald Mrs. Butler about two months ago left her husband and took a house on Euston Street. The prisoner boarded with Mrs. Butler. On Friday evening Butler, who was under the influence of liquor went to his wife's house where he encountered Birt. A row ensued with the result that Butler was forcibly ejected from the house. The fight continued in the yard during which the prisoner Birt drew a revolver and fired one shot. About this time the police arrived on the scene and Butler left. A number of witnesses testified to having seen the row and to have heard the report of a pistol shot. Butler in his evidence stated that he had supported his wife, giving her almost the whole of his earnings. Mr. D. A. McKinnon appeared before the Court on behalf of the prisoner Birt while Mr. John S. McDonald was for the prosecution. Mrs. Butler appeared in Court and sat near the prisoner's lawyer during the proceedings. A particularly sad feature of the whole affair was the evidence of the little eleven year old son of Butler who saw the encounter. The prisoner Birt was remanded until Saturday.

A TAWRO despatch of Sept. 25, says:—The marriage took place this afternoon in St. John's Anglican Church of Ethel Stapleton Robbins, daughter of the late Captain Byron Robbins, of Yarmouth, and Frank C. Cotton, of Charlottetown, P. E. I. The ceremony, which was fully solemn, was performed by Rev. Archdeacon Kaulbach, D. D., assisted by Rev. T. M. Davies, curate of St. John's. Promptly at three o'clock the bride entered the church leaning upon the arm of her mother, who resigned her at the altar. She was attended by Miss Cotton, sister of the groom, and by little Miss Gladys Cummings, niece of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Waddell, who acted most charmingly the part of flower girls. The groom was supported by his brother, Walter Cotton, also of Charlottetown. The bride looked lovely in a gown of white corded silk, made en train, and with bridal veil. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid and little flower girls wore dainty gowns of white organdy and large white picture hats and carried pink roses. The ushers were E. H. Vernon and C. M. McDonald, of the Royal Bank. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at Mrs. Robbins' residence Elm Street, where the guests about seventy in number assembled and wished this popular young couple every happiness. After refreshments were served Mr. and Mrs. Cotton left on the Maritime express for Montreal, thence to Philadelphia and other points in the United States, which they will visit before making their home in Charlottetown. The bride's going away gown was of lawn with hat to match. The number and beauty of the wedding gifts testified to the high esteem in which they were held. Mrs. Cotton was one of the most popular

THE yacht race on Charlottetown harbor yesterday afternoon was witnessed by a goodly number who sought the heads of the piers to watch the contest. The following were the entries: Le Roi, owned by Captain Reid, Summerside, and sailed by Capt. Allen. Clown, owned by Taylor Bros., sailed by owner. Quail, owned by Capt. McInnis, Charlottetown, sailed by owner. Wilfred Mac, owned by McKinley, sailed by the owner. Troubadour, owned by Jas. Taylor, jr. sailed by owner. Shamrock II, owned by Jas. Taylor, sr., sailed by owner. Dr. Robins and Mr. Henry Worth acted as judges, and Mr. W. L. Pearson filled the position of timer to the satisfaction of all.

A start was effected at 27 minutes to two over a 20-mile course instead of 19 as previously arranged. The placing of the additional mile was caused by the East River buoy being out of position.

At the half the three first boats were almost together, in fact there was only three boat lengths between the three leading yachts. The Troubadour was in the lead by two boat lengths with the Le Roy second and the Shamrock II third.

The finish was intensely interesting as the boats were well together. The Le Roy, Captain Reid of Summerside came in first, Troubadour, Capt. Houston, St. Peters Island, second, Shamrock II third. Time 3 hrs and 29 min. At White's buoy the Le Roy and Troubadour were together and the representative of the western Capital trailed from that point to the finish.
