

$164.00 for Cleaning an Electric Motor

An awful price you will say. Nevertheless it cost an organization $164.00 for cleaning and putting an Electric Motor in proper running order. Of course this is an unusual case but it applies in a moderate way in many instances where firms neglect to have their industrial motors cleaned regularly.

A few dollars spent at occasional periods will save many dollars later on in clogged parts and general depreciation of the most valuable parts.

Have your motors cleaned regularly. Phone us now and we'll tell you whether or not they need cleaning. The cost is trivial.

ITALY'S FINANCIAL STANDING
The war damages of Italy, amounting to around $2,000,000,000 have been repaired and, according to a study just completed by the Research Department of the Bankers Trust Company of New York, it is estimated that the wealth of Italy today, measured in pre-war gold dollars, is $21,250,000,000. This makes no allowance for the new provinces acquired by Italy as a result of her participation in the war and if data were available for these provinces, this estimate would be considerably increased.

The pre-war wealth of Italy was just under $22,000,000,000 and her national income was $3,900,000,000. Today the national income of Italy measured in pre-war gold values, is estimated by some Italian economists to be as high as $5,300,000,000. The Bankers Trust Company, as a result of its study, believes that a figure of $3,400,000,000 is substantially correct.

The foreign investments of Italy are not a large amounting possibly to $300,000,000, but, while these investments are bringing in, say $15,000,000, Italy, each year since the war, has been in receipt of a large income from remittances of emigrants. For the last year for which statistics were available, these remittances amounted, in pre-war dollars, to $86,900,000, comparing with $102,000,000 from this same source in 1913.

POLISH PEASANT GIRLS
Polish women have been known to fight on the battlefield and die in the cause of their country. And what seemed harder to some they have given up all their worldly goods in the same cause. Many have been exiled, but never has there been a murmur heard from these brave women, who are capable of any sacrifice. The Polish women have ever been noted for their physical charms, their hands and feet being from an artistic point of view, absolutely perfect. In the field at harvest time far more women are to be seen than men, and the effect of their different colored dresses makes an attractive picture. The skirts of their dresses are generally pinned up, leaving bright petticoats exposed to view.—London Express.

Inspection of Canneries

Mr. S. T. Gallant, Inspector of Fisheries has examined the lobster canneries in Queen's and King's Counties. Fishing for June is about as usual, the catch averaging about 200 pounds per boat each day. The total catch for May was 14,053 cwt; in May 1923 the catch was 42,060, a decrease of 28,015, or about one-third the catch of last year.

There is a marked improvement in the canneries and the amount of same; there are less than a half dozen canneries in Queen's and King's Counties under grade. Those worthy of special mention are:

Peter MacNutt & Son, Seaview John S. Cousins, Park Corner Co-operative Cannery, Rustico Portland Packing Co., Rustico, Canoe Cove and Naufrage McIntyre & Son, East Point Savage Harbor Packing Co., Savage Harbor. James Hewitt, Gaspareaux Matthew & McLean, Ltd., North Lake

Graham's, Gaspareaux A. D. McIsaac, Hermanville Mrs. J. H. Rattray, St. Peters R. N. Cox, St. Peters Harbor H. H. Cox, Morell and Naufrage Napoleon Arsenault, Naufrage Sterns Bros., Campbell's Cove and many others.

These canneries are all fitted with the most modern equipment procurable, all washing in running water, thus adding greatly to the appearance of their goods. As Inspector, Mr. Gallant wishes to convey his most sincere thanks to all the lobster packers for the manner in which they have responded to the department's appeal for improved sanitary conditions in the canneries.

Georges Tried To "Fox" T. Gibbons

(Canadian Press)—ST. PAUL, Minn., June 8.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light heavy weight, back home from Michigan City, where he defeated Georges Carpentier, of France, said today he believed the Frenchman was trying to "fox" him in the ninth and tenth rounds.

According to Gibbons, Carpentier, after shaking hands before the tenth round said, "You wouldn't punch a fellow with a broken leg." Carpentier injured his ankle in the ninth round. Gibbons, none the worse for the battle, plans to spend a month or so visiting his family at their summer home at Lake Osakis, Minn., pending outcome of negotiations for future bouts.

SHERMAN WAS POSTED

At West Point the great military training school of the United States certain customs and conditions never change. A story is told that when General Sherman, after the Civil War made a visit to West Point, an inspection of Barracks was made. The two cadets who occupied a certain room arranged to "blatant" Sherman, as it is the custom, and then said drawingly: "Any contraband in this room?" When neither of the cadets replied the general with a smile on his face, stooped down before the fireplace and, reaching up, removed a loose brick. Putting it in his hand, he drew forth several cigars. This was in the days when no smoking was allowed. "Thought so," said the general, "I used to hide 'em there myself." It was Sherman's old room. The general didn't report the find.

SCIENTISTS STUDY SLEEP

Sleep is one of the mysteries of science and scientists are making a special study of it. The blood of men and animals, taken both before and after sleep, is being analyzed and tested. Sleep is common to all living things whether animal or vegetable, but science knows less about sleep than about "any other function of animal and vegetable life. In plants, when sleep comes, their chemical activity is reversed. Lack of sleep, in animals, causes certain sleep-producing poisons to gather in the blood, thereby making them "sleepy" up to the point of where excessive fatigue enters. Fatigue brings sleep, but too much fatigue keeps sleep away, because the sleep-producing poisons, in excess, excite the cells of the brain and bring on mental activity.

Canadian All-Star Soccer Team Lose To Australia 3-2

The winning goal was scored by the "Kangaroos" protected by Captain Harby. On the form displayed throughout the game, the Canucks were entitled to at least a draw.

Dr. J. G. Shearer

Canada sacrifices 30,000 little babes under one year of age every year! Somebody said about the close of the war that the trenches in France and Flanders were a safer place for Canadian life than the cradles in Canada! What is far more serious, this is absolutely true. Canada lost 10,000 of her fine young men each year of the great war. She lost 30,000 of her little babes every year alike in peace and war.

Who slaughters the innocents? Sometimes it is the parents through ignorance. Sometimes doctors or nurses or midwives through blundering. Most often it is the fault of all of us in our respective communities. We were ignorant or we were indifferent, and we allowed those in authority to slay with impunity these little ones in scores or hundreds or thousands through permitting unsanitary conditions, or by supplying impure water or impure milk to the public and therefore to the babies. Supposing your city or community is guilty of allowing impure milk or water to be supplied to its people and one hundred or one thousand babes perish through a consequent epidemic, can you say as the preachers did of old over the graves "The Lord gave, the Lord has taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord"? Assuredly not. We can say "The Lord gave," we cannot say "The Lord has taken away." We shall have to say "Cursed be the name of the city or community."

Out of every thousand babes born in Canada over one hundred or more than one in ten die before they reach their first birthday. In New Zealand only forty out of a thousand die during the first brief year of life. Canada can have and ought to have as low an infant mortality rate as New Zealand. Toronto has in the past ten years reduced its infant mortality rate from 130 to 65, Montreal from 250 to 155, London, Calgary, and other Western cities have cut their infant mortality rate in two. Why ought this not to be true of every city or rural community in all Canada? It is possible. It is our duty. It will not result by chance. Nothing but active, earnest, co-operative endeavor on the part of everybody will bring it about. Jesus said, "It is not the will of your father in Heaven that one of these little ones should perish." He also said of all those who cause actively or passively one such little child to stumble "It were better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his neck and he were drowned in the depths of the sea." He also said "See that ye despise not one of these little ones, for their angels do always behold the face of my father in Heaven," and "He that receiveth one such little child in My name receiveth me." And yet again he said, "Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to Me; therefore depart from Me ye accursed!" There are terrible words. They are the words of the meek and lowly Jesus. Let us take them to heart.

was taken covering the year 1912, according to advices received by the Bankers Trust Company of New York, from its British Information Service will cover Great Britain only, but it is understood that the Government of Northern Ireland will take a similar census in their area. Although a census of production was taken covering the year 1912, the figures obtained were never issued in the form of a report on the outbreak of war in 1913. The 1907 census is therefore the only one of its kind so far carried to a conclusion and the coming inquiries will cover the same ground, namely manufactures, agriculture, fishery, mining and building.

Only Minister of Justice Can Save Muir From Gallows

(Canadian Press)—MONTEREAL, June 8.—Walter Muir, New York student, will hang July 11 for the murder of Ferdinand and Lavolette in Valleyfield last December, unless the sentence is commuted by direct plea to the Canadian Minister of Justice. His appeal for the quashing of the conviction and no writ was unanimously rejected here today by a full bench of the Court of Appeal, thus cutting him off from any further recourse to the Supreme Court. Dissenting opinion is necessary to obtain this.

THE BARDS OF WALES

Wales has long been noted for its sweet singers. During the medieval period the Welsh bards exercised much influence. Music was so united with poetry, philosophy and the sciences that a wide education was necessary to qualify a bard for his high rank. The Irish harp is said to have been introduced into Wales by Prince Griffith in the twelfth century. It became a sign of distinction to carry a harp. Only a freeman was allowed to possess one, and to be seen without it meant disgrace. What is generally called the national anthem of Wales is called "The March of the Men of Harlech." In the small town of Harlech, on the Welsh coast, is a famous old castle which was besieged for several years. It finally surrendered to the Yorkish troops in 1468. The song dates from that time.

THE SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENTS

While no vital reason exists for a general clear-up around the farm every spring, still the fact that the place looks neat tells the passer-by considerable about the people who live there. The same thing is true of the family having sufficient pride of home to plant trees, shrubs and flowers.
