FIREMEN ANSWER CALLS
Charlottetown firemen answered two alarms Saturday. The first, at 12:22 p. m., a "drill alarm" was from Park Street, on the edge of the Exhibition Grounds.

Joint nomination meeting of the 3rd and 5th Districts of the Prince County Liberals was held in Summerside Saturday.

Mr. Nelson Rattenbury, 80-year-old Charlottetown businessman, died in hospital here Saturday.

Mr. Rattenbury possessed a remarkable physique and wonderful vitality and had enjoyed robust health during his long life until six weeks ago when he contracted an illness.

He was born at Rattenbury Road in June, 1849, when a youth of 19 he entered the employ of Carvell Bros., Charlottetown, and was for a time their travelling salesman.

Mr. Rattenbury was a member of Trinity United Church, and of the First Methodist Church before the Union.

During his career Mr. Rattenbury made a host of friends by his high integrity, his friendliness, kindness and sympathy, and by his death a notable link between the past and the present has been severed.

Of a family of 18, two sons and five daughters survive. Arnold and John are associated with the family business while the daughters are Mrs. Harry Winchester, Charlottetown, Mrs. Frank Dawson, Vancouver, Mrs. (Rev.) M. K. Charman, Alberton, P.E.I., Mrs. George Read, Read's Corner, P.E.I., and Mrs. R. Caldwell, Montserrat.

Mr. Rattenbury's wife, the former Martha Pearson, predeceased him a year ago.

To his sons and daughters, who mourn the loss of a devoted and loving father, the Guardian in common with a very wide circle of friends, extends its deep and respectful sympathy.

NO MORE ACID PAIN
