CO-OPERATIVE FISHING AT COVEHEAD.—Readers are familiar with the successful and profitable cheese and butter factories run on the co-operative principle, like co-operative fishing industries are very rare on this island. At Covehead there is now in successful operation and for the past four years, a co-operative lobster cannery. This concern is owned and operated by twelve native fishermen of the locality, or rather farmer-fishermen, as most of them farm as well. Each fisherman shares alike. All of the twelve either fish or work in the factory. There are no silent partners. They hire considerable help during the canning season, boys and girls to work in the factory. All of the shareholders are apparently pleased with the success of their co-operative venture. Among the twelve men are: Berton Missner, George Gill, Robert McKinnon, Jack McCabe, Leo Marshal, Will Ross, John McLauchlin, etc., all of Covehead and Stanhope. The first year 1915, this concern put up 800 cases lobsters and were able to pay all costs and capital expenditure as well as living a nice margin of profit. Since then it is plain sailing.

FOX RANCHING.—The Sydney Post editorially remarks: From the wild speculation of pre-war times the Prince Edward Island fox-raising industry, seems to be settling down to what fox-traders call "the pelting basis." It is estimated that in the present "pelting season" which opened on December first and will close about the middle of the present month, about 5,500 fox pelts, aggregating over $1,000,000 in value, will be exported from the island to England and the United States. The result will be to place a number of semi-somnolent fox companies in an upright position, and on a dividend paying basis. The trouble with the Prince Edward Island fox industry from the very outset was that it was made the basis of the wild, est. carniva of stock gambling and the most unconscionable system of stock-watering that the Maritime Provinces have known in many a long day. One of the good things the war did was to cure the popular craze and so end the occupation of the fox-company promoter. Common sense will tell anyone that there is nothing whatever of commercial value about foxes but that of the fur they produce, and that the only way the fox raising industry can be profitably prosecuted is by making the largest possible turnover of pelts. If this obvious lesson has been sufficiently driven home as a result of the "slump" in the fur business there may yet be permanent and flourishing fox ranching industries prosecuted in Prince Edward Island, as well as in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

CHRISTMAS AT THE DALTON SAN.—Christmas 1918 is another memorable day for the children of Daltonia and surrounding districts for Dr. and Mrs. Garrison have on this Christmas, as on the two previous ones, thrown open the main entrance of the Sanatorium, and bade welcome "thirty little ones," all radiant at the expectation of meeting Santa Claus. In the large dining room stands a huge Christmas tree. The arrival of Santa Claus is hailed with delight.

Feeble Old People Vinol is What You Need

because it contains the very elements needed to replace weakness with strength, viz: Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, and Glycerophosphates, with a mild tonic wine. This is a splendid combination to restore strength, vitality and vigor. It has given ninety percent satisfaction for sixteen years. HERE IS PROOF:

Malone, N.Y. "I am 84 years of age and got into a feeble, weak and nervous condition so I could not sleep. Vinol has not only built up my strength but it has given me a good appetite and I sleep all right now. Without doubt Vinol is the greatest strengthener for old people obtainable."—Mrs. S.B. Wells.
Winchester, Va. "I am a farmer's wife, 75 years of age, and pneumonia left me in a weak, run-down condition, so I could hardly keep about and do my work. A neighbor brought me Vinol and it has built up my strength so fast that I think it is the best medicine I have ever taken."—Mrs. Jennie Chapman.
For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

and the good old man satisfies the children right loyally. An impression of each little heart. Dr. and is thereby made on their young Mrs. Garrison enter into the spirit of the festival, and the pleasure which the children derive adds a lustre to their own. The truth of the assertion made by a noted statesman that "all have occasion to visit the Sanatorium particular fondness for children", is for the courtesy shown under all circumstances. The wish of all, for them a tangible evidence is the amount of and their young heir. (William Miles) trouble taken at the San. to treat the is a thrice Happy New Year.

Your Generosity and Your Spirit of "Fair Play" Are Appealed to This Week by the Patriotic and Red Cross United Funds

What a Neighbour Province Has Done

THE PROVINCE OF NOVA SCOTIA has in the past four years given to the RED CROSS AND THE PATRIOTIC funds the splendid sum of $2,842,874.00.

Just think it over. This is about $6.00 per head of all the people of Nova Scotia, men, women and children.

Prince Edward Island in its response to previous appeals has done nobly—generously.

We are now asked to contribute a sum sufficient to carry these two great funds forward, that they may continue their mighty work, till the last soldier has returned to Canada—till the last injured man has left the last hospital.

Standing by the Heroines of the War

"The real heroines as those who sent their men across the seas to fight, and nursed lonely hearts, endured constant suspense, and faced heart-breaking cables without a protest—these are the uncrowned patriots, the undecorated victors, the unheralded conquerors. It was morale that won the war, and no soldiers with faint hearted women in their homes, could maintain their morale. Canadian soldiers knew when they went into battle that brave women at home were expecting much of them, and they determined that while there might be a lonely old mother left in Canada, there would never be one whose grey hairs would go down to the grave in disgrace; and while there might be a lonely wife in the homeland, their record would be one of which any wife might be proud, and which would be an heritage to their children, prized above rubies. The knowledge of the fortitude and courage of the Canadian women put fearlessness into the heart of every man."

THAT THESE MIGHT BE SO ASSISTED AS TO KEEP them from want—and to keep from worry their sons—their husbands—their brothers overseas—has been and is the object and the duty of the PATRIOTIC FUND.

Their Performance

For four long, terrible, weary years, the citizen soldiers of Canada have fought in the forefront on the bloodstained battlefields of France and Flanders.

Danger daunted them not. Weariness—exposure—strain almost beyond human endurance "none of these things moved them."

They are of the men who never lost a gun and never failed in an objective.

Proud of them we are—loyal to them we must be. It is ours to see that the dependents they have left behind want for nothing—that all the assistance which the PATRIOTIC FUND gave so nobly shall be continued to the end.

And so then—the PATRIOTIC FUND AND THE RED CROSS remind you today of your debt to these men and to their dependents—and ask you to
