CONTENTMENT

Happy the man that, when his day is done,
 Lies down to sleep with nothing of regret—
 The battle he has fought may not be won—
 The fame he sought be just as fleeting yet;
 Folding at last his hands upon his breast,
 Happy is he if hoary and fore-spent,
 He sinks into the last, eternal rest,
 Breathing these only words: "I am content."

But happier he, that, while his blood is warm,
 Sees hopes and friendships dead about him lie—
 Bares his brave breast to envy's bitter storm,
 Nor shuns the poison barbs of calumny;
 And mid it all, stands sturdy and unshaken,
 Girl only in the armour God hath meant
 For him who 'neath the buffetings of fate
 Can say to God and man: "I am content."

CHAPTER XXI

The next few days were days of bitter unhappiness and self-reproach for Anne. She couldn't help blaming herself for Judith's marriage. She felt that, in some way, she should have prevented it.

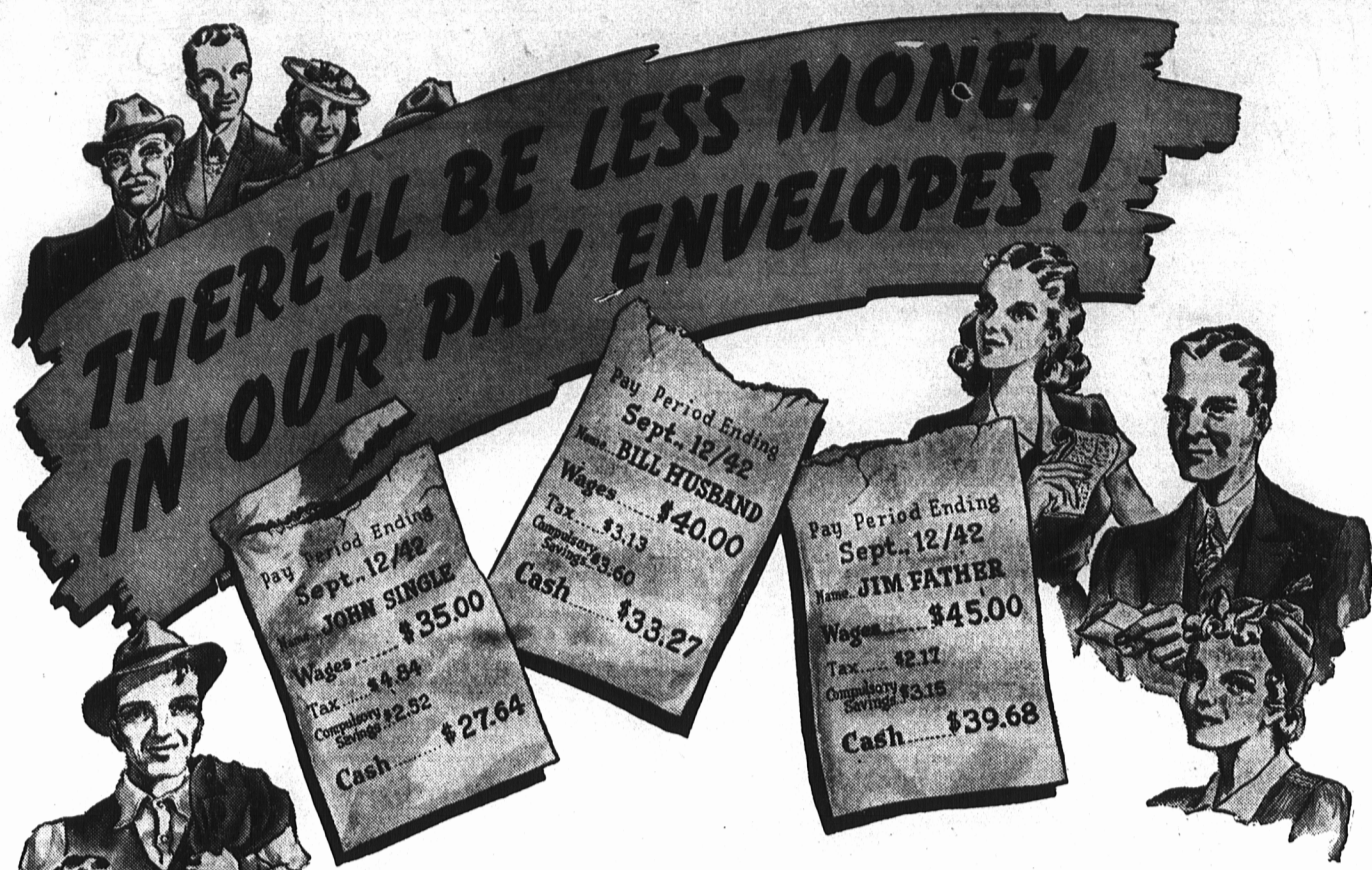

A short note she received from her sister one morning did not make her feel any better. Judith had written, in her round, immature scrawl:

"Can't understand why you and Aunt Sue ever thought Otis was morose. Anne, he's a darling—and so gentle and kind. I am very happy. We're having a gorgeous time."

Anne, standing beside the mailbox on the highway, crushed the note in her hand. Poor Judy! She might be deluding herself now, but it couldn't last. Otis, apparently was making every effort to impress his bride, but his true character was bound to reassert itself in time. The scales would fall from Judith's eyes all too soon.

Glancing toward the Frame house, half a mile away, Anne sighed. It was a gloomy, forbidding house. Painted a depressing slate gray, it crouched behind three tall pines. The thought of Judith shut away there with Otis during the long winter ahead made Anne cringe.

With a sigh, she started up the Fleetwood driveway, then halted. She would go for a walk to the crossroads, she decided. She was in no mood for work this morning, and besides, she would like to see Mrs. Roper. Undoubtedly, wild rumors about Judith's runaway marriage had spread through the neighborhood. It would be best to have a talk with Mrs. Roper and put as favorable a light on the elopement as possible.

Income Tax is Fair to All

This year the cost of the war shows another increase. Canada will need almost four billion dollars to carry on. Where is this increase to come from?

From the large income groups? Yes—but not from them alone! Their new tax rates range as high as 98%. A married man with an income of $50,000 must pay about 67c out of every dollar—or if he has an income of $100,000 he must pay about 78c out of every dollar.

From big companies? Yes—but not from them alone! The full amount of all excess profits has to be paid over to the government, while 30% of normal profits are taxed away.

Clearly, this is a battle for our very existence. Every person, rich and poor, must pay his or her share. Income Tax is fair to all. It distributes the load according to each person's ability to pay.

There's going to be less money in our pay envelopes—because the 1942 income tax of salary and wage earners is being deducted at the source during September 1942 to August 1943.

Here are facts you should know:

1. Deduction starts with the first pay-period beginning in September.
2. Your employer must deduct the amount provided by the official Table of T.x Deductions for your current rate of pay, taking account of the marital status, dependents and personal savings you show on Form TD-1.
3. If you do not file Form TD-1 with your employer, he must deduct the amounts provided by the Table for a single person without dependents and without personal savings.
4. The Table of Tax Deductions is designed to collect about 90% of your total 1942 tax after allowing for the National Defence Tax deducted during the first 8 months of 1942.
5. A margin of 10% has been left for adjustments so that, in most cases, over-deduction will be avoided without leaving a large balance to pay at the time of filing the annual return in September 1943.
6. If your salary or wages are less than 1/4 of your income, your employer will make the deductions applicable to such salary or wages but you must also pay (by quarterly instalments commencing October 15, 1942) tax on your other income and must file your annual return in April 1943. Remittance Form T.7.B Individuals, for use in such cases, will be available sometime in September at Post Offices and local Income Tax offices.

IRON—Wash iron in hot, sudsy water. If this doesn't clean it, use hot soda and water. If the iron utensil is small enough, boil it in soda and water. Rinse and dry. Always keep iron thoroughly dry because a little moisture will cause it to rust. If iron does become rusted, take off the rust with scouring powder, with steel wool or with a ball of copper treads. If you want to store an iron pan for long, coat it with a salacious oil or fat. Wrap it in paper, and store it in a dry place.

If your shoes are white or light-colored wrap them in blue tissue paper and wadding when not in use. The blue paper will prevent the delicate colors fading, and will keep the white a good tone. If they are silver or gold, black tissue paper should be used to prevent tarnishing.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Comrades:—

Now the sowing and the weeping,
 Working hard and waiting long;
 Afterward, the golden reaping,
 Harvest-home, and grateful song.

As Country and District Conventions have recounted the scenes you have been satisfied that our best effort has been given to create the new world fellowship that our soldiers, sailors, airmen and their helpers are giving their lives to win?

If not, why not!

The different departments of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are so intermingled and so co-operative that if they were worked judiciously a great harvest would be reaped. May we each do its part, no neglect, or failure of best effort is found at our place of service.

Contact your local member and get his co-operation to ask that Ontario take a lead in stopping the sale of alcohol as a beverage. What an opportunity! What a trust!

The Ontario Government of 1918 was big enough to enact the Ontario Temperance Act, which closed 1,450 bars. Is the one of 1942 less courageous, less capable, less human?

It would be wise to finish up the year with an appeal to Mr. Hepburn to emulate the late Premier Hearst and stop the sale of the poison alcohol in Ontario. Do it. Each member.

If they give a job to you, do it. Stick right there and see it through, do it.

If they thought you couldn't do such a job, and quickly too, they'd not give the work to you, so do it.

Then send a student to Y camp to learn the art of Leadership. We are not here to dream, to drift. To date, no invitation has been received for Provincial Convention. We hope that your Country Conventions have given this thought and that we shall hear from you. If several offers to be hostess, we should be glad to keep the list for future reference.

May the holiday mean to each one re-creation.

Sincerely yours,
 Margaret MacLean

THE DAILY PRAYER
MINUTE

Can YOU spare a minute at noon each day to set up your heart in prayer to God for our Empire and its leaders on whom so great a responsibility rests, for our brave Allies, our heroic soldiers, our gallant sailors and all who are risking their lives for us in these fateful days?

In Great Britain a SILENT MINUTE is observed each evening while "Big Ben" is striking the hour of 9. This "Minute" was instituted by the B.B.C. in response to many requests, and is being daily more prized. His Majesty the King, Premier Winston Churchill, the Archbishop of Canterbury have all recommended it.

The influence of this "Big Ben Silent Minute" as it is called, has extended far beyond the British Isles. Sympathizers in many lands join their hearts with those in the Homeland. Prisoners in Germany unite in spirit with their friends at home, who they know are remembering them at 9, and the light of Hope is kept burning within them.

Here in Canada very many are observing a minute or more for prayer at NOONDAY. Why not make it universal? Then what a great volume of prayers will arise each day from the hearts of our people to the Good God above!

We all know that while we must do all we can here, are you going to give Victory and bring peace to the earth, and we know that "more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Will you henceforth to form the daily habit?

CONVENTION OF CHURCH OF CHRIST

Text of Resolution

Text of the temperance resolution was as follows:

Whereas the sales of alcoholic liquor in Canada soared to the astounding total of a quarter of a billion dollars last year with inevitable damaging consequences to the armed forces and civilians alike in ruining morale and impairing efficiency;

Whereas the manufacture of intoxicants diverting much needed capital labor and material and transportation facilities into anti-social channels in this time of crisis;

Whereas, disagreeing with statements made by cabinet ministers to the effect that the control of liquor is exclusively the responsibility of the provinces, we affirm that the matter is of paramount importance to the nation as a whole at this hour, and is therefore a national responsibility;

Therefore be it resolved

1. That the Maritime Convention of the Church of Christ express its dissatisfaction with the Dominion Government's failure to heed the request for restrictive measures twice made by the Churches of Canada, in which the majority of the people have their membership;

2. That we demand the immediate and drastic curtailment of the sale of intoxicating liquor in Canada and that the manufacture of such liquor cease at once.
