Scientists Seek Leukemia Cure

By FRANK CAREY
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 9 (AP) - Human leukemias, a dread cancerous condition of the blood which causes excessive multiplication of the white corpuscles, is the target of a war-developed poison gas which has been used successfully in animal experiments.

 War Secretary Patterson revealed that war research on chemical and bacteriological weapons had opened up new lines of humanitarian attacks against certain forms of cancer, pottomane poisoning, a serious eye disease and other ill confronting animal and plant life.

 The second factory, Winkiner, will go to the Soviet Union, and the third, the Walter Rau, will be retained by Norway.
 A fourth German whale oil factory was sunk in the Comandoro on the Lofoten Islands March 4, 1941, and was one of the main objectives of the raid.

BUDGET BASED

 for income tax purposes, subject to a present maximum of 150 per cent ($866.50).
 5. To exempt from income tax workers' contributions under the National Insurance Bill providing insurance against sickness. Revenue for the year ending March 31 will be $1,192,000,000 less $1,192,000,000, leaving a net of $200,000,000.
 There was an actual expenditure of 5,484,000,000 pounds ($24,403,800,000) and a saving of $1,000,000,000 and a saving of $1,000,000,000.
 Mr. Dalton estimated expenditure for 1946-47 at 3,887,000,000 pounds and total revenue at 3,192,000,000 pounds. His deficit in prospect therefore is 894,000,000 pounds, "smaller than most of the proposals put forward."
 Mr. Dalton said the income tax changes proposed meant that all persons with earned incomes of less than 1,500 pounds annually will benefit and a further 500,000 will be relieved of all tax liability.
 The national defence contribution, in the pound on all profits before distribution, is to be continued but under the new name of "profits tax."
 Under the raised exemption for death duties no estate of less than 2,000 pounds has to pay duty. Previously the minimum was 100 pounds.
 Mr. Dalton reported £90,000,000 has been spent this year on civil administration in Germany, some of it for food, and "so far we are getting disappointingly little in return. I am quite sure the British taxpayer cannot and should not be expected much longer to go on paying on this scale what are, in effect, reparations to Germany."

 centre for the Lennox Island Indians. Funds are already voted by the Government for this purpose. Mr. How explained, but it may be slightly delayed owing to the priority given to housing for building materials.
 "That we hope to do," he explained, "is to bring the younger generation of Mic-Macs to a state of education and fitness so that they can go out and compete on even terms with our white people on the labor market and in agriculture. At the same time the reserve with the facilities which our department has planned to provide, will be a centre of refuge for the older people."
 Mr. Staley and the Indian Affairs Department plans insofar as possible, to centralize the entire Mic-Mac population of the province at Lennox Island with the exception of those engaged in business and agriculture and economically able to take care of themselves and their families. Similar plans have been drafted by the department for the centralization of the Indian population of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.
 The amount of Mr. Ford's tender of $6,870 compares favorably with the estimated cost of construction of the wharf which was $6,744.

WELCOME CANADA'S

 Expect Big Crowd
 An R. C. M. P. officer said, however, that the force was expecting to handle a very large crowd, possibly several thousand, and big dock areas are being roped off to provide the general public with good vantage points.
 The big liner, which was carrying 971 Canadian servicemen's dependents and 171 war veterans, was expected to arrive here at 1:30 p. m. A. S. T. Viscount Alexander was expected to disembark at a p. m. and board his special train for Ottawa.
 Today in the streets Haligonians who discussed the impending arrival had three things about which to offer criticism.
 They didn't like the Governor-General walking off the ship in civilian clothes instead of his colorful Field Marshal's uniform in which he became such a familiar war figure; they would have liked the Governor to have driven through the streets in a motorcade for a brief honor guard inspection before boarding his train for Ottawa, and finally they couldn't understand how Viscount Alexander could be interviewed by newspapermen on his departure from Southampton but not on his arrival here.
 In fact, a reporter raised this question at a conference between newspapermen and officials here today but was given no reply except that it was not customary for the Governor to grant interviews until after he had been sworn in.
 While the Governor-General's appearance here is scheduled to occupy less than 15 minutes, the welcome that will be heard here - possibly one of the noisiest merely stopping at the dock for a brief honor guard inspection before boarding his train for Ottawa, and finally they couldn't understand how Viscount Alexander could be interviewed by newspapermen on his departure from Southampton but not on his arrival here.
