TEACHERS CLASS.—A Service Training School for teachers was organized in York School on Wednesday Sept. 19, by Mr. Howard Court Supervisor of Schools. The following officers resulted as follows: President, Pearl Vessey; Vice-President, Annie MacDonald; Secretary-Treasurer Jeanette MacVittie. A very interesting lesson was given by Mr. Court on "The Uses of the Sand Table". He explained and worked out the use of the teaching of three subjects, literature, geography and history. Reading will be the subject studied at the next meeting. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 23, or if the weather is not favorable, meeting will be held the following evening.

FIRE AT VERNON RIVER.—A horse stable and a large barn about 80 feet long, owned by Mr. James Praught, Vernon River, and formerly owned by Mr. L. C. Eyles, were completely destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning which broke out among the hay in the lot of the horse stable. Mr. Praught and his help were digging potatoes when they noticed the fire and which was too far advanced to be overcome. Despite the strenuous efforts of about fifty neighbors who hastily gathered, these two buildings were burned to the ground with all their contents, including hay and grain in the barn. The granary caught fire and was somewhat damaged, only being saved from total destruction by hard work. There was a high wind, but fortunately it was blowing in the opposite direction from the dwelling, otherwise the latter might also have been burned. The cattle and horses were not in the buildings at the time. The loss will be about $3,000 and there was no insurance.

ON OFFICIAL VISIT HERE.—Mrs. Stewart Adrian, Most Worshipful Mistress of the L. O. B. A. of Crak, Saskatchewan, arrived in the city yesterday on an official visit to the L. O. B. A. Lodges on the Island. She was received by a large attendance of members in the local Lodge Rooms last evening when she was presented with an address and presentation. This is Mrs. Adrian's first official visit to the province, however, she spent a brief visit with friends on the Island last summer. Among those present to welcome Mrs. Adrian last night were: Mrs. J. W. Mackenzie, who on behalf of the L. O. B. A. of the province extended a warm greeting. There were many out-of-town members present. Mrs. Adrian will visit Crap-Lodge today and Summerside on Friday and will conduct a public meeting in Kingston on Saturday.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION.—The following letter of appreciation received by Mr. Harry Brown, Manager of the Victoria Hotel from Mrs. S. White, Amherst, Secretary of the Ladies Hospital Aid, speaks for itself. Dear Mr. Brown: The Ladies Hospital Aid Society wish to thank you personally and the Charlottetown Artists for the very splendid concert which they so kindly put on in the Empress which added a substantial sum to our funds. I can assure you that we more than appreciated your kindness and the keen interest shown in our Hospital. The Amherst Hospital is now under way on the site. Thanking you Mr. Brown and the Artists once more. I remain Very Sincerely Mary S. White, Secretary.

BURIAL YESTERDAY.—The funeral of the late Mrs. James McQuaid was held yesterday morning from her late residence, 203 George Street, to St. Dunstan's Cathedral, where a Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Right Reverend Monsignor Maurice McDonald. The pallbearers were: Messrs. G. J. G. Murphy, Wm. Scott, John Connors, Herbert Holl, James Kelly and James Dalton. Service at the grave was conducted by Rev. Father McCarthy.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR ARMISTICE DAY.—At a meeting of the executive Council Canadian Legion held last night, it was decided to hold the usual armistice service at 10 o'clock Armistice Day, Nov. 11th at the monument. Arrangements were also made to hold the play entitled "The Man That Stayed at Home," on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 12 and 13 at the Prince Edward Theatre under the direction of Miss Barbara MacNeill. The usual Armistice Dance will be held on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 22th in the Prince of Wales College Hall.

binched which should encourage emigration from the British Isles. The prosperity and opportunity which a prosperous country affords to all who possess initiative and self-reliance, and who desire to improve their condition, is what Canada has offered in the past and today offers with open arms to the men, women and children of the British Isles who wish to improve their lot, and who are prepared to emigrate overseas.

"Passing from prosperity to opportunity may I remind in particular the workers of the British Isles, that there is hardly a name in the public life of Canada today, if we except alone the name of our distinguished governors—general, which was not borne by men and women whose lot was as circumscribed as that of any to be found in the old world today—men and women who came to Canada not only to improve their own fortunes, but that a larger inheritance might be left to their children and their children's children.

"The same might be said of the leading financial men, industrialists, educationalists and members of the learned professions. Within the time the present administration has been in office at Ottawa, I have seen in the office of the Premier, at the head of at least four of our provincial governments men who themselves came to Canada as immigrant boys from the British Isles. In our houses of parliament a year or two ago a dinner was held by members representative of the different constituencies who had come to Canada as immigrants from these fields. They numbered, if recollection serves me right, twenty seven in all.

"In the present Canadian government not less than three ministers came as immigrant boys from the British Isles. Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, who for years was the distinguished premier of his own Province of Saskatchewan, is one of the three.

LOCAL TALENT

gives his audience barrels of laughter presumably without much effort. In other words he lives the part as it is supposed to be depicted—and he surely lived the portrayal of Chester Binney last night.

Mr. Menton Whitlock as Henry Simmons, the senior partner, ably sustained his high reputation won in previous performances. Henry is another local stage celebrity whose services are much sought after by local directors and whose character acting is always gladly received by the audience. Mr. Whitlock was splendid last evening in his portrayal of "Simmons."

Mrs. Fred Nash who needs no introduction to local theatre goers, capably took the part of Ethel, Simmons' daughter. Mrs. Nash's acting last evening was excellent. Her elocution and poise during the rendition of Letty Lytne, a famous movie actress, literally characterized herself into the hearts of all present. Winsome and very chic in this difficult role. Miss Arsenault added another fine performance to her already long list.
