This agreement, the dispatch said, provides the debt shall bear compound interest from the time of the overthrow of the pro-war debt into a new 6 1/2 per cent loan maturing in thirty five years.

LONDON, August 30.—Labor officials were hopeful Sunday that the threatened Nation-wide coal strike can be averted in spite of the two thirds majority piled up by strike advocates in the poll just concluded. RUSSO POLISH CONFERENCE TRANSFERRED TO RIGA

Mutual Concessions Give Promise of Satisfactory Settlement of the Present Differences.

(Special to The Guardian.)
WARSAW, August 30.—Preparations were under way today to transfer the Russo Polish Armistice Negotiations from Minsk to Riga in Latvia following an agreement between the two Governments. The Bolsheviks offered to continue the conference at some point in Estonia but Foreign Minister Tchitcherin finally acceded to the Poles' suggestion of Riga. A conference of Russian and Polish officials will be held in Brest Litovsk before the transfer which probably will be completed within the week.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Forty thousand Bolsheviks have already crossed the border according to the Foreign Ministry. It adds that all the Bolsheviks are being interned under the direction of Allied officers.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 30.—The Russian Bolshevik forces have recaptured Grodno, says a Koenigsberg despatch to the Berliner Tagblatt. The report continues that the Poles have been forced to evacuate Bialystok.

Halifax-Ottawa Flight Ends

(Special to The Guardian.)
OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—The Halifax Ottawa hydroplane flight, probably the longest official flight yet tried in Canada ended successfully on Saturday evening about seven o'clock when Capt. H. Allen Wilson, of Montreal, pilot, made a graceful landing on the Ottawa River at Rockcliffe.

Capt. Wilson, stated that the trip was a safe and pleasant one. The weather generally was favorable. He will remain in Ottawa for a short time.

While the planned flight was on from Halifax to Ottawa, it is now stated that in a short time the trip may be continued further west, just how far, it is not stated. However, some officials believe that the trip may ultimately be extended to Victoria, B. C. It is stated that the matter is now before the Air Board and that a decision to cross country may be reached in a day or two.

New U. S. Consul For Charlottetown

Word has just been received at the U. S. Consulate in Charlottetown that the Honorable C. Ludlow Livingston has been assigned by President Wilson to be Consul at Charlottetown in succession to the Honorable William A. Pierce and that the British Government has recognized his appointment.

Mr. Livingston was born in New York City; is a graduate of Fordham University and the West University of Pennsylvania Law School. He practiced law several years and held various state positions in Pennsylvania. He entered the Foreign Service in 1907 and has served as United States Consul at Salina Cruz, Mexico, Swansea, Wales; was detailed at Liverpool; and has served as Consul at Barbados, British West Indies, for the past five years. Mr. Livingston will come to Charlottetown after much experience in British possessions, and it is believed that he will prove a worthy successor to Mr. Pierce. Mr. Livingston and family will leave Barbados in a few days and are expected to arrive in Charlottetown the latter part of September.

Upon Mr. Livingston's arrival, Mr. Thomson, who has been consul temporarily in charge, will return to Washington and resume his work at the Department of State.

During his brief residence in Charlottetown Acting Consul Thomson has been friendly to the people and has been very helpful to those who have been refused entry to the island and who will no doubt make the best use of the remaining time to make his sojourn here as pleasant as possible.

American Women On Irish Question

(Special to The Guardian.)
WASHINGTON, August 30.—Three members of the American women pickets saw Secretary Colby Saturday and asked him to protest to the British Government against the imprisonment of Mayor MacSweeney of Cork. The secretary said he would take the request under advisement. Mrs. Gertrude Corless, spokesman for the delegation, replied that unless an immediate answer was given "the administration will lose the entire Irish-American vote."

Mr. Colby answered that he represented the American nation not a group of citizens, and reiterated that he would take the matter under advisement. The women made public a telegram which they said had been sent to John W. Davis, American Ambassador to London now in New York saying that, unless MacSweeney was released, and British troops withdrawn from Ireland a boycott against British ships and trade would be carried to every nook and cranny of the United States.

Major L. N. Seaman Accepts Fine Position

Major L. N. Seaman, son of Principal and Mrs. Seaman, is enjoying a short vacation on the island before leaving for India where he has accepted an important position with the Indian Government. He is accompanied by Mrs. Seaman who was formerly Miss Durant, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Durant of Margate.

"The Canadian Lumberman and Woodworker," published in Toronto has the following reference to Major Seaman in its last issue.

The Forest Products Laboratories of Canada, Montreal, will lose the services of Major L. N. Seaman, at present Chief of the Division of Timber Tests, who has accepted the post of timber testing expert with the Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun, United Provinces, India. This institute finding a property of 45 acres too small, has procured a new property, of 1,300 acres, and is erecting new buildings, and has secured the services of Major Seaman to organize and take charge of the timber testing laboratory which is to form part of the new establishment.

L. N. Seaman studied engineering at Acadia University and the Nova Scotia Technical College obtaining the degree of M. A. and B. Sc. and is an associate member of the Engineering Institute of Canada. He entered the service of the Forest Products Laboratories of Canada in 1914 as Assistant Chief of the Division of Timber Tests and co-operated with Mr. R. W. Stevens, B. Sc., then Chief of the Division of Timber Tests, in the organization of the first comprehensive work in testing native timbers to be undertaken in Canada. His work at the Laboratories was interrupted during the war by active military service as Captain in the Canadian Artillery, and later as a Major in the English Heavy Artillery.

After the war Major Seaman returned to his former position and was shortly promoted to be Chief of the Division of Timber Tests, succeeding Mr. Stevens, who accepted a post with the Abbott Power and Paper Company.

Up to the present time timber testing at these Laboratories has covered the mechanical and physical properties of test species of Canadian timbers, while two additional species have been tested at their Vancouver branch. In addition to this special tests have been made of Nova Scotia mine timbers and of substitutes for black walnut as gun stocks.

The position to which Major Seaman has been appointed is a splendid one while his selection for it is a distinct honor and a compliment to the services he has rendered in Canada. The Indian Government had canvassed the United States and Canada for a man to take charge of this important work and the fact that he has been chosen is a tribute which requires no elaboration. The Guardian heartily congratulates him upon the distinction which has come to him and wishes him continued success and prosperity. He has accepted a three years contract with the Indian Government at a salary which, unfortunately for Canada, is far beyond the remuneration available here. Accompanied by Mrs. Seaman he expects to leave Montreal on September 11th direct for England. They will remain a week or so in London after which they will leave for Dehra Dun, at the foothills of the Himalayas, which, by the way, is one of the favorite health resorts of India.

Mayor McSweeney Has Collapsed

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, August 30.—Lord Mayor McSweeney of Cork has collapsed in his cell at Brixton Jail. He is very near death.

Mayor Terence MacSweeney

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, August 30.—Terence MacSweeney Lord Mayor of Cork collapsed again in Brixton prison this afternoon. Physicians expressed the belief that he had but a few hours to live. This was the eighteenth day of his hunger strike.

J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson and William Adamson, labor leaders, today sent a joint note to Premier Lloyd George as follows: "The whites of organized labor asks reconsideration of the government's decision to allow McSweeney to die. His death would make solution of the Irish question even more remote. We appeal to you to do big things."

Sinn Fein Activities Since January 1

(Special to The Guardian.)
DUBLIN, August 30.—Sinn Fein sympathizers killed 78 policemen, 11 soldiers and 18 civilians in Ireland between January 1 and August 21 according to an official statement issued here today. In the same period 134 policemen, 46 soldiers and 49 civilians were wounded.

In a pastoral letter Cardinal Logue denounced the theory that it is a lawful act of war to shoot anyone wearing a policeman's uniform.

RIOTING CONTINUES IN BELFAST AND ENVIRONS

Eleven Killed and 50 Wounded in Rioting Between Orangemen and Catholics. 4000 Catholics Expelled. Property Damage $3,500,000.

(Special to The Guardian.)
BELFAST, August 30.—Fierce rioting between Orangemen and Catholics continued here today. The rioting which has broken out at intervals for three days centered in York Street District and involved hundreds of sherry workers. The riots which were resumed here last night have taken toll of 11 dead and 50 wounded. Orangemen continue systematically to expel Catholics, more than 4,000 of whom are homeless and destitute in Belfast and its environs. Property damaged is now estimated at $3,500,000.

Order Restored.

BELFAST, August 30.—Soldiers and police restored order today following a night and morning of rioting between Orangemen and Catholics. Three men and a woman were killed today and fifty persons were wounded, bringing the total casualties to 15 killed and 100 wounded.

Cardinal Logue Condemns Outrages

(Special to The Guardian.)
BELFAST, August 30.—Cardinal Logue Primate of Ireland in a vigorous letter read in the Durdak churches today, denounces impartially the shooting of Constable Brennan, who was assassinated at Dundalk a week ago by masked men and reprisals by the crown forces recently in Southern Ireland. He says: "The poor victim I know to have been a quiet upright man who never gave offence to anyone in the discharge of his duties. I do not think that this is an act of justice but it is lawful to shoot at sight anyone wearing a policeman's uniform and honestly discharging a policeman's duty? I prefer to call it by its true name—cold deliberate willful murder. Hence, anyone who plans encourages, aids or even sympathizes with such an act participates at the guilt before God."

Equally condemning reprisals, the Cardinal continues:

"I know we are living under the harsh tyrannical regime of militarism and brute force which in its pretence of discipline has been man to take charge of this important work and the fact that he has been chosen is a tribute which requires no elaboration. The Guardian heartily congratulates him upon the distinction which has come to him and wishes him continued success and prosperity. He has accepted a three years contract with the Indian Government at a salary which, unfortunately for Canada, is far beyond the remuneration available here. Accompanied by Mrs. Seaman he expects to leave Montreal on September 11th direct for England. They will remain a week or so in London after which they will leave for Dehra Dun, at the foothills of the Himalayas, which, by the way, is one of the favorite health resorts of India."

Why Sugar Prices Must Come Down

SITUATION EXPLAINED BY
WHOLESALE, WHO ADVISES CONSUMERS TO BUY ONLY AS NEEDED.

ST. JOHN, August 29.—One of the leading wholesale dealers in the city sums up the present situation in the sugar market in the following statement:

"The sugar market since November 1919 has advanced and declined with a rapidity and to an extent absolutely unprecedented. During that period raw sugars at New York have advanced from about $6 per 100 pounds to $23.75 per 100 pounds, at one time in May. Since May sugars have been purchased from the United States from practically every known sugar producing country in the world. The American market apparently was willing to pay much higher prices than any other country and in some cases refined sugar originally exported from the United States to Europe has been returned recently to the United States, for the reason that it paid the holders better to return it than to sell it in their own market.

"The liberal sugar offerings of the last three months have forced a steadily declining market and for the last fortnight raw sugars have been practically unsaleable, for the reason that the refiners everywhere have ample supplies and refuse to take on more sugar even at low prices until the consumption of refined sugar improves.

"At the present moment it is practically impossible to estimate the value of refined or raw sugar but supplies outside the refiners' hands are not large and it is probable that the future prices of refined sugar in Canada depend on the refiners' action.

"Canada has been supplied with refined sugar during the last six months at prices much below those in the United States and Europe as a result of the favorable changes of raw sugar made by the Canadian refiners and the price control of the Canadian Trade Commissioners.

"Consumers can reasonably expect a steadily lowering market as toward. But in the meantime the prices in Canada depend entirely upon the prices which the refiners may find it necessary to name to hold Canadian distribution against imported sugars.

"An examination of the local situation shows local wholesalers have been working on a hand-to-mouth basis for some time past and any loss which may result will fall on the refiners and until something new develops consumers are justified in buying only limited supplies with the expectation that prices will be lower."
