VETERAN DOCTOR DIES

CRESTON, W. Va., Feb. 2 — (AP) — Dr. Davis S. Stewart, who once said he "wore out five horses" in 66 years of medical practice, died at his home yesterday at the age of 105. Dr. Stewart maintained an active practice until he was 90 years old. In his later years he received a deep pride in his good health in general and his teeth — his own, still intact — in particular. He boasted he still could use his molars to crack hickory nuts.

Brief History The "Marco Polo" was launched at Saint John, N. B. in April, 1851. Her length was 184 feet and her registered tonnage 1,625. Her prow carried a full length figurehead of the renowned explorer whose name she bore. After making a few trips to Liverpool, England, she was sold there and eventually came into possession of James Baines, chief owner of the Black Ball line, the most celebrated line of passenger ships in its day.

Baines it was who realized the possibilities of the "Marco Polo" and she was immediately refitted and put in the Australian emigrant trade. She proved to be a remarkably swift sailer and her first trip to Australia, commanded by Capt James Nicol "Bully" Forbes, was made in the then record time of sixty-eight days, the return trip taking seventy-six days.

When she hailed into her dock in Liverpool at the end of this voyage she was suspended between her masts a huge strip of canvas bearing the words: "The fastest ship in the world."

She continued in the Australian trade for many years, even running in competition with steamships in the early days of steam.

She was condemned in London in 1880 and was purchased by a Norwegian company who employed her to carry timber from Canadian ports to the Old Country.

In July, 1883, after loading pine deals at Montmorency, Quebec, she was caught in a gale in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and piled up at Cavendish on the north shore at Prince Edward Island, where she became a complete wreck.

Thus her life ended after thirty-two years of world wandering, within a day's sail of the port that gave her birth.

The party will return to the Province by plane on Sunday afternoon. The following are the officers and their units, who will attend the conference from here: Brigadier W. W. Reid, D.S.O., E.D., Major A. H. Peake, Captain O. R. Simons, 21st Armoured Brigade; Lt. Col. G. K. Peake, D. S. O., E.D., and Major H. G. Williams, 28th L.A.A. Regiment; Lt. Col. A. W. Son Is Born To Ingrid Bergman

ROME, Feb. 2 — (AP) — The Italian news agency Ansa reported that Swedish actress Ingrid Bergman gave birth to a baby boy tonight in a Rome hospital.

Both mother and child are in "excellent condition," the news agency said.

The birth occurred at 7 P. M. (2 P. M. A. S. T.), the account continued.

Miss Bergman has filed for a Mexican divorce against Dr. Peter Lindstrom, Hollywood physician. They have an 11-year-old daughter. They were married in Stockholm in 1937. She and Roberto Rossellini, Italian movie director, have announced their intention to wed once her divorce becomes final.

Rossellini had declined last week to answer a question as to whether Miss Bergman was expecting a child.

Rossellini's marriage to Marcella de Marchis was annulled a few weeks ago by a Viennese court.

After Miss Bergman went to Stromboli Isle off Italy to make a picture with Rossellini she announced she would give up her husband — even her career — to marry the director.

Lindstrom and Rossellini both are 43. Miss Bergman has been a top-ranking film actress for some 11 years. Her last major picture was the costly "Jouy Arc," which drew some critical barbs.

The picture she made under Rossellini's direction, "Stromboli," was a sneak-previewed recently in Long Beach and Santa Ana, Calif. It had a cool reception.

Lost Figurehead Was Intended For Provincial Museum

Lack of museum facilities in the Province was indirectly the cause of the loss of the carved figurehead of the famous "Marco Polo" sailing vessel, destroyed in the recent fire at Montague. It was learned from Mr. R. K. Clements, manager of the Maritime Electric Company at Montague, Mr. Clements acquired the figurehead at Stanley Bridge from a resident whose father had salvaged it from the ship at the time it was wrecked off Cavendish sixty-seven years ago. He was holding it in expectation that a suitable place would be acquired by the Government where such relics could be preserved.

Among the papers saved by Mr. Clements from the fire in his company's office in the Masonic building at Montague on Jan. 20 last were some interesting details concerning the history of the "Marco Polo" including a copy of the "Ship Lovers' Magazine" containing a picture of the figurehead mentioned above.

The vessel reproduced from an old woodcut, and an account of a heroic rescue of a salvage crew from the wrecked clipper on Cavendish beach in August, 1883, which was published some time ago in The Guardian.

It is stated in this account that nearly every house in Cavendish and vicinity contained some souvenir of the "Marco Polo", particularly reference being made to a door which is still in use in the Cullen homestead at Hope River.

Mr. Justice I. C. Rand interjected that the Government had expressed the desire to be allowed to "clean up" the decontrol of rents in an orderly manner.

Mr. Chitty replied that allowing an increase in rent ceilings was not decontrolling.

Mr. Varcoe, counsel for the Federal Government charged that Mr. Chitty had entered the argument in the disguise of merely assisting the court, just for the purpose of averting the responsibility of producing fact and evidence to substantiate claims that the controls were invalid.

In fact, Mr. Chitty was an "interested party" representing the landlords who would benefit if the controls are lifted. Therefore, he was not merely "assisting" the court as an innocent bystander.

Previously, Chief Justice Rinfret had intimated that Mr. Chitty was not even in agreement with the Provinces when he maintained the controls were illegal.

War Not Over

In the final stages of his reply Mr. Varcoe said that the Federal Government never had invaded the provincial field as indicated by Mr. Chitty and L. Emery Beaulieu, counsel for the Quebec Government. Both the Quebec Government and the landlords opposed controls.

The Federal Government had taken measures to deal with an emergency arising out of the war. This indirectly had affected property and civil rights—the exclusive powers of the Provinces during normal times—but all legislation "must do so" in one way or another.

The Chief Justice noted that Mr. Varcoe spoke of the war. There had been as yet no signing of the peace and he for one was not going to decide whether the war was over.

"The state of war appears still unfinished," said the Chief Justice. "We are told we may be attacked any day."

With conclusion of Mr. Varcoe's reply, arguments for and against the controls have been placed before the seven justices.

Those arguing the controls are valid were: the Federal Government, the Province of Ontario generally, the Canadian Congress of Labor and the Canadian Legion.

Those arguing against the controls were: the Province of Quebec and the Canadian Property Owners Association.

Prize Money At Exhibition To Be Increased

Mr. George MacMillan, Cornwall, Maritime director of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Breeders Club, was elected president of the P. E. I. Jersey Cattle Breeders Association at its annual meeting held on Wednesday. Mr. Bruce MacDonald was elected vice-president and Dr. J. P. Lantz, secretary-treasurer.

It was announced by Dr. Lantz that the prizes for the Provincial Exhibition will be increased this year by $2,000. This brings the total higher than the prize money at the Maritime Winter Fair.

A resolution was passed thanking the Government for aid to the calf sale last year by way of bonuses, and suggesting that in future the Government give the grant to one breed association each year.

$5,000 was voted to the cattle association last year. The plan favored at present for the use of such grant is the purchase of an outstanding sire.

Messrs. Edison Mutch, George MacMillan and Dr. Lantz were named a committee to meet with the Exhibition Association to discuss the 1950 prize list. This committee also will make recommendations later on judges for the Charlottetown and Amherst shows.

Directors named were Messrs. Arthur MacDonald, Forest Hill; Edwin Lord, Bedeque; James Vickerson, North River; Harold Stead, Brackley and Edison Mutch, North River.

Mr. George MacMillan presided in the absence of the retiring president, Harold Stead.

Returned To P. E. I. After a touch of malaria he came home and returned to Prince Edward Island and bought a small farm. This did not occupy him long and shortly after 1900 he was on his way west to Manitoba where he worked on farms and then moved to Humboldt, Saskatchewan, to homestead. Frozen crops and sickness among his horses hit him for three years straight but he kept going by hauling wood to town with a team of oxen, a trip which took 18 hours and netted him $2.50.

He decided to try the horse raising business and started out with a small loan from the bank. From this start he decided to go into the business full time, and he sold his homestead and moved to Rosebud Creek, Alberta.

Says Tourist Inquiries Up This Year

The number of inquiries and applications for reservations from tourists this year are higher than those at the same date last year.

Brigadier W. W. Reid told the tourist industry group at the meeting of the P. E. I. Innkeepers Association last night.

He stated the past year had been most successful numerically from the tourists standpoint as about 14,000 more people had come to the Island than in 1948. He said that the Travel Bureau desired more tourists than were here last year and were advertising in Eastern Canada and the United States for this purpose.

A new neon sign will be installed atop the Bureau directory station at Aulac, N. B., around June 1st. On it will be inscribed "Canada's Garden Province" and Prince Edward Island in an arrow pointing towards this Province.

Brigadier Reid believes that value differences between the American and Canadian dollar will result in more tourists coming to the Island. The ten cent difference he explained, will keep more vacationing Canadians in Canada and bring more Americans to this country.

Noteworthy Career Of PEI-Born Governor

The following details of the career of Hon. John J. Bowen, Alberta's new Lieutenant Governor, are from an article by Ross Munro in the Calgary Herald.

"Jack" Bowen, as he is known, was born in Cardigan, Prince Edward Island, in 1876. At the age of 16 he left "the Island" to go to Boston where he handled a ticket punch as the conductor of an early electric street car. From this he went into highway construction work.

The next step was a long one for it took him to Cuba with the 9th Battalion from Boston which was marching off to fight in the Spanish American War.

Returned To P. E. I. After a touch of malaria he came home and returned to Prince Edward Island and bought a small farm. This did not occupy him long and shortly after 1900 he was on his way west to Manitoba where he worked on farms and then moved to Humboldt, Saskatchewan, to homestead. 500 Maritime Miners Asked To Take Wage Cut

GLACE BAY, N. S., Feb. 2 — (CP) — Officials of United Mine Workers (C.C.L.) District 26 said today a subsidiary of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation has asked 500 miners to take a cut in wages.

The statement came after a meeting between U. M. W. and Dosco officials here today. The parties are attempting to thrash out terms for a new wage contract. The current agreement expires Jan. 31.

Union officials said Dominion Coal Company, Cumberland Railway and Coal Company and Old Sydney Collieries — all coal-producing units of Dosco — rejected a union demand for wage increases and countered with a proposal to keep wages at their current rate. Basic wage now is $8.14 for an eight-hour day and the union is seeking a boost of 25 cents an hour.

The U. M. W. said Acadia Coal Company of Stellarton, N. S., demanded that the men accept a wage cut of $1.50 a day on total rates and 15 per cent on all contract rates.

At the same time, Dosco asked that the miners pay the full purchase price for all coal they purchase. Miners now get coal about $3 cheaper a ton than the market rate.
