Bride For Prince Of Wales?

WITH THE DUKE OF KENT'S APPROACHING WEDDING SPECULATION HAS AGAIN BECOME RIFE AS TO WHICH EUROPEAN PRINCESS HEIR TO THRONE MIGHT MARRY

VIENNA, Nov. 22—With Europe's nobility marriage-conscious because of the approaching nuptials of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina of Greece, speculation has become rife again about who the Prince of Wales might choose as the possible future Queen of Great Britain should he decide to give up his bachelorhood. This speculation—an old game in court circles—secured a new impetus with the elimination of princess Marina from the lists of marriageable Princesses. Greece has more marriageable royal princesses than any other Balkan country, although Greece is not now a monarchy. All these blue-blooded princesses are sisters or cousins of Princess Marina, and they are also related indirectly to the Prince of Wales himself. Since the dethronement of King George of Greece, Princess Marina's uncle, the princesses have been scattered about Europe, most of them living in Paris or London. Other Balkan countries have few or no royal princesses. There are no princesses of the first rank left in Rumania. Nor are there any available in Yugoslavia or Bulgaria. It is true that Bulgaria has Princess Eudoxia, sister of King Boris. She is now 36. Albania has four princesses, all sisters of King Zogu, but they are not of royal blood and are Mohammedans. Those in a position to judge hold strange things could happen there, that the Prince of Wales should marry Princess Marina's beautiful sister, Princess Elizabeth, who has just turned 30. Like Marina, Elizabeth is regarded as lovely, modest and of a serious turn of mind. Princess Elizabeth was born in Athens and like Marina, was brought up in the rather strict atmosphere of the German-Russian-Scandinavian court which ruled in Greece since Prince William of Denmark, son of King Christian of Denmark, came to Greece as King in 1863 under the protection of Britain, France and Russia. There are no less than five of Princess Marina's first cousins among whom to choose. Among these are lovely Princess Irene, who is 30, and her sister, Princess Catherine, 21, both semi-blondes, whose father was the late King Constantine of Greece and whose brother is former King George of Greece. Princess Irene, who bears a close likeness, physically and spiritually, to Princess Marina, was engaged five years ago to a German Prince but later abandoned the courtship. Regarded always as the "baby" of the late King Constantine's family, Princess Catherine, who was born in Athens, is exceedingly pretty and vivacious. Catherine is tall, graceful, has a superb physique, and is a great lover of sports. Then there is Princess Eugenie, 24-year-old daughter of Prince George and Princess Marie of Greece and first cousin of Princess Marina. Like her mother, who was a Princess Bonaparte before her marriage, Princess Eugenie is very attractive.

Look at the TUBES in a Radio

Molten Metal Blasted Into the Glass and Base of Radio Tube Makes "SPRAY-SHIELD" TUBES

AS Molten Lava becomes an integral part of everything with which it comes in contact—so Molten Shielding Metal blasted on to the glass and base of the tube produces the famous Rogers Spray-Shield Tube. Tube and Shield become one unit, eliminating the need for a separate shielding can. Spray Shielding gives you five great points of superiority: (1) Eliminates vibration as caused by loose cans around the tubes. (2) Greater power. Permits of higher temperatures in the operation of the tube, thus increasing its power. (3) No distortion. Absorbs and carries off via ground all excess "charges" and heat which cause distortion and damage. (4) Preserves uniform temperature. This prevents "hot-spotting" which damages or destroys the tube. (5) Insures perfect tonal fidelity because of uniform operation. Each Spray-Shield Tube is both tube and shield in one. Yet they cost no more than an ordinary tube and are the only fully guaranteed tube supplied in any radio! Shoot the Molten-Spray. This gun blasts molten shielding metal, at a temperature of 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit, and at a speed of 60 to 100 miles an hour right over and into the glass bulb and base of the tube at 100 lbs. pressure per square inch, making the famous Spray-Shield Tube both tube and shield. It is the exclusive patent process that guarantees you better radio reception.

Recalls Marriage in St. Petersburg

(By The Canadian Press) MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 21—Prospective marriage of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina of Greece took place in the gorgeous Greek chapel of the Winter Palace, and the English rites—when Dean Stanley officiated—were solemnized in the Alexander Hall. The Duke of Edinburgh was a son of Queen Victoria and great-uncle of the present Duke of Kent. The Duke of Connaught is probably the only survivor among the spectators of the occasion. He and the Grand Duke Vladimir (grandfather of Princess Marina) held the crowns at arm's length over the heads of the bride and bridegroom. The subsequent banquet was emceed by the singing of Adeline Patti and followed by a state ball. The forthcoming wedding will be far simpler, The Guardian says, though there will again be a double ceremony. All the other sons of Queen Victoria and all her daughters were married in England. As the future husband of the Princess Royal, the Queen's oldest daughter, was the eventual heir apparent to the throne of Prussia, there was a question of the wedding's taking place in Berlin. But the Queen wrote resolutely that, from her point of view, "there was never even the shadow of doubt as to where the marriage should take place," with the reminder that "it is not every day that a Prussian prince marries the eldest daughter of the Queen of England." And the marriage was in England. Italy will reclaim 16,000 additional acres in the Pontine Marshes.

DOUBLE MARRIAGE RITE 60 YEARS AGO

MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 21—The prospective marriage of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina of Greece recalls a double marriage ceremony of 60 years ago. On January 23, 1874, the wedding of the Duke of Edinburgh and the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia (the parents of Queen Marie of Rumania) was well celebrated in St. Petersburg, later Petrograd, and now Leningrad.
