DIED IN THE WEST.—The many friends of Mr. John Donnelly, Albany, were greatly pained on hearing the sad news of his sudden passing away of heart failure at Beresford, Manitoba, whither he had gone on a short visit to see conditions in the West. Deceased leaves to cherish his memory, four daughters and six sons, namely, Mrs. P. Tierney, Albany; Mrs. E. Croken, Cape Traverse; Mrs. M. P. Baker, Melrose, Mass.; Sister Mary Rachael, St. Mark's Convent, St. Paul's Minn.; George F. Toronto, Louis, Regina; Harry and Patrick, Melrose, Mass.; John W., in Western States and Wilfred at home; also one sister, Miss Jane Donnelly, Kelly's Cross, to all of whom the heartfelt sympathy of the community goes out to their sad bereavement.

FOX RANCHING IN NEVADA.—The Black Fox Magazine, New York says—Advises at hand show that Nevada is becoming interested in fox farming, as in a late issue of a Reno, Nevada paper that was sent here, a long account appeared regarding silver fox ranching and states that a number of prominent people of that state are about to start a large ranch. They intend to bring the animals from the east, and are quite enthusiastic over their belief that Nevada has the greatest climate on earth for fox ranching. Some of our Island friends, however, are apt to take exception to this, especially when they say that Nevada has it over P. E. Island in not having any damp, rainy, wet weather or floods in the spring to kill off the young.

WEDDING BELLS.—The marriage took place in Charlottetown on Wednesday afternoon of Miss Ada Livingstone, daughter of Mr. Allan Livingstone of Cumberland, Lot 65, to Mr. William Grant McNeill of Fairview. Rev. George C. Taylor was the officiating clergyman. The bride was attended by her sister while Mr. McNeill was supported by Mr. Douglas of Fairview. Mr. McNeill recently returned from service in France where he was with the Third Machine Gun Battalion. He had been in khaki practically throughout the whole of the war serving first at Halifax with the Composite Battalion and was subsequently Regimental Sergeant Major of the 165th Battalion and then company Sergeant Major of the 14th Battalion. To the popular groom and his fair bride the Guardian extends congratulations.

WEDDING BELLS.—An interesting event took place in St. Anne's, Lot 65 on Nov. 5th, when Miss Margaret McQuaid and Mr. Simon Canavagh, both of that parish were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Dr. Curran, P. P., celebrated the nuptial mass and performed the ceremony. The bride was becomingly dressed in a blue tailored suit, with hat to match and wore a silver fox fur, gift of the groom. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Canavagh while the groom was supported by John McQuaid, brother of the bride. After the ceremony, the bridal party drove to the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. J. McMann, New Haven, where luncheon was served and afterwards returned to the home of the bride, where dinner was awaiting them. After which the evening was spent joyfully in music and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Canavagh were the recipients of many and valuable presents, which attest their popularity. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a beautiful rosary and to the groomsmen a stick pin.

The address in the Prince Edward theatre Sunday afternoon on Church Union by Mr. M. A. Howlett, of Winnipeg, was largely attended, about 500 people being present.

Mr. Howlett said that the attempt toward Church union would not be a success, not because of the insincerity of those attempting it but because evidently the plan of God decreed otherwise according to His Word. The Bible, the speaker said, makes a clear distinction between the true church and the false,—the true church being likened to a virgin, the false to a harlot, as the Revelation points out in the 17th chapter.

The Scriptural Commission the speaker said, of the true church was to keep herself unpolluted from the world, waiting for her union with her Lord when He will take her to Himself, as His bride. The false church, leaving her first love, has allied herself with the Kings of the earth as the Revelation states and has taken her place in the politics of the nations. This, he said, is contrary to her divine commission and forms an improper union.

er union, in the 17th chapter of Revelation termed harlotry.

The time in which we are now living, he continued, is designated, the end of the age in which the great church organizations in their present form will pass away, releasing many from their credal bonds. After the collapse of the present ecclesiastical institutions in this great trouble, the new order of affairs will be established on the ruins of the old. This, he said, will be under the direct spiritual control of Christ and His true church. Then will be fulfilled the statement, "Gory to God in the highest and in earth peace good will towards men."

W. M. S. WORKERS.—Mrs. Neil McLeod, of Summerside, who is president of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church of P. E. I., entertained the Island Executive at dinner last Thursday. Afterwards business was transacted, plans being laid for the "peace offering" drive of the W. M. S. to be launched at the New Year. Prospects are good for reaching their objective, as already nineteen life-members have been received, five of these having been secured by Hamilton and three by Zion church auxiliaries. A number of new societies have recently been organized, says the Summerside Farmer.

INVESTIGATION.—An investigation into the fire in the Queen Hotel stables opened in the City Court room Thursday night before Councillor Robert Rattray, Chairman of the Fire Board, Mr. E. H. Beer, Fire Marshal was also in attendance. Evidence was given by two young men who first noticed the fire, by several horsemen who were looking at the horses just before the stables were closed up at 10:30 p. m. Saturday and by a number of the firemen. No new facts, in addition to what have been published were brought out. The investigation was adjourned till tonight, when additional evidence will be given.

BACK FROM MONCTON.—Messrs. W. F. Tidmarsh and J. J. Horman, Charlottetown, P. C. Gallant of St. John's and J. W. McPhee of Georgetown, have returned from Moncton where they attended the annual meeting of the Maritime section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. At the meeting questions involving the lobster canning industry were discussed. The matter of the lobster fishing season was re-opened. A further trial of the later season was advocated by Mr. Tidmarsh on the grounds that results could not very well be judged from one experience. Mr. Tidmarsh was elected to the executive being the only officer elected for the Island.

THE LADY EVELYN.—The New Glasgow News contains the following additional particulars of the floating of the S. S. Lady Evelyn which ran ashore at Pictou Island: The Lady Evelyn floated at two o'clock Thursday morning. Although several steamers were standing by she made the effort under her own power and was successful. There was an abnormally high tide running, which accounts for her getting off so easily. When she struck on the rock there was a loud report which was heard inland for a considerable distance and it was feared the Lady Evelyn was either there to stay or that great difficulty would be experienced in clearing her. She made no water after being floated and apparently sustained no damage. A survey is to be held either this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

DEATH OF EX-CONDUCTOR MCKENNA.—By the death of Mr. Daniel (Conductor) McKenna of this city which occurred in the Charlottetown Hospital on Saturday at 3:30 p. m., a well known figure has been removed and one of the best known of the Prince Edward Island Railway's former employees is gone. Conductor "Dan" was well and favorably known to the travelling public. His genial smile and companionable nature gained him many friends who will sincerely regret to learn that he is no more. Mr. McKenna was about seventy years of age and retired from active railway life about two years ago on the pension list. He returned about two weeks ago from a trip to Western Canada where he met with a regrettable accident—an accident which no doubt brought about his death. He was walking along the railway track and fell over a foot embankment sustaining injuries which he bore manfully but from which he never recovered. There are left to mourn four daughters, Emily, residing in this city, Sister Ste. Ludovic of a religious order in Montreal and two others abroad. His wife predeceased him about two years ago. The funeral is expected to take place on Wednesday morning at 8:45 from Hennessey's undertaking rooms. His daughter in Montreal left last night for Charlottetown.

The services yesterday in connection with the 55th anniversary of the Dedication of the Methodist Church in this city passed off very successfully. The congregation in the morning was large. Rev. Dr. Wigle, of Mount Allison, was the preacher. He took for his text, "Consider the Lilies." It was a decidedly able and eloquent discourse and made a very favorable impression.

At the evening service the church was crowded. Rev. Dr. Wigle again occupied the pulpit. His theme was "Preach the Word." and it was indeed a powerful and brilliant discourse, masterly, scholarly, eloquent and helpful and was followed throughout its delivery with the closest attention. A feature of both services was the strong musical programme, which in the morning included the anthem, "I will sing of Thy Mercies" and in the evening "Gloria in Excelsis," and the "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel as a Postlude, besides appropriate hymns and solos, the soloist being Miss Minnie Myles of St. John who has a contralto voice of decided power and rarity of expression. A marked feature of the services was the hearty congregational singing which ably supplemented the good work of the large choir.

In the afternoon the annual Children's Day was observed in the Heartz Memorial Hall. About 500 children were in attendance and a splendid programme was carried out and the usual offering taken for the poor.

The Pastor, Rev. Mr. Glendinning was to be congratulated upon the successful carrying out of the services yesterday in connection with the anniversary.

SERIOUS TUESDAY
FIRE.—The dwelling house of Mr. William Gags of Green Bay was burned to the ground on Thursday 13th and most all the contents. The house was almost new and the loss will be greatly felt by Mr. Gags and family at this time of the year.

LOADING FOR NEWFOUNDLAND.—The S. S. Rosena B. has arrived here from Sydney with a cargo of coal and is now loading a cargo of potatoes for St. John's, Nfld. The shippers are Messrs. J. S. Wedlock and John McQuillan.

WEDDING BELLS.—An interesting event took place at St. Mark's church Lot 7 on Wednesday, Nov. 5, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Jennie O'Halloran, daughter of the late Alex. O'Halloran, of Brockton, to Mr. Dominic Quinn, of the same place. The bride looked charming in a gown of tulle silk, and wore a black seal plush coat with hat to match. The duties of bridesmaid were performed by Miss Regina Halloran, who was becomingly attired in blue taffeta while Mr. John Griffin supported the groom. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. P. A. McDonald, the bridal party drove to the home of the bride, where about fifty invited guests partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. Among the guests were Rev. Father McDonald, St. Mark's; Mr. Albert Kennedy, W. Terford, and Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, Lauretta. A pleasant social evening was spent after which the guests dispersed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Quinn a long and happy wedded life. The number of presents which they receive amply testify to the esteem in which the happy couple are held in the community. Mr. and Mrs. Quinn will reside in Brockton. (Pioneer please copy.)

WEDDING BELLS.—An event of more than usual interest took place at St. Malachi's Church, Kinkora, on Wednesday, October 29th when Mary Berneta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McIver, became the wife of Alphonse J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Brown, Bayside. The knot was tied by Rev. A. J. MacIntyre, who also celebrated the nuptial Mass. The bride wore a tailored suit of blue serge with hat to match and a set of racoon furs the gift of the groom. Miss Clara Gallant, teacher at Carleton attended the bride, while Capt. J. B. Brown of Charlottetown, did the honors as groomsmen. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride at five and a very pleasant evening was spent in music and dancing. On the following day the wedding party motored to the home of the groom, where dinner was served to the immediate relatives and presided over by their pastor Rev. John A. McDonald. Later a public reception was tendered the young couple in the Parish Hall and a complimentary address, accompanied by a substantial gift in the form of a cheque, Miss McIver was one of our successful teachers while Mr. Brown is a prosperous farmer of Bayside. Both are deserving popular and go forth on their new life-journey with the best wishes of a host of friends.

Born on the New Glasgow Road on May 7th 1876, the eldest son of John and Mrs. Boundy where he lived until his fifteenth year when with his parents and other members of the family he removed to Winsloe Road working on the farm with his father until April 27th 1904 when he became united in marriage with Susanna Elizabeth Bryenton also of Winsloe who proved herself to be an ideal helpmate in every walk of life and who deeply feels the loss of so devoted and loving a husband. At the age of 22 Amos gave his heart to the Lord under the ministry of Rev. W. Howard and from that time until God called him at the early age of 43 years he never left the path of duty. God wonderfully blessed him in his labour as a farmer. By nature, he was kind, generous, unselfish and loving to his aged parents he was most kind and thoughtful at all times. He leaves to mourn his early death besides his parents, his heart broken widow and one little son, John Clifford, aged nine years; also one brother Leonard residing in Calgary and two sisters Mrs. (Rev.) Hugh Miller, Bale Verte, N. B.; and Mrs. D. M. Robinson, Brackley Point, P. E. I., besides many other relatives and friends. In his removal the Church at Winsloe has lost a tower of strength which it seems cannot be replaced. His was a life of usefulness that few attain but on the first day of September 1919 his spirit took its flight back to the God who gave it.

On the third his body was laid to rest in the Winsloe cemetery followed by a very large concourse of people coming for many miles to pay the last tribute of respect to one who was greatly beloved. The funeral services were conducted by four Methodist Ministers viz Rev. C. Peters, Rev. F. Littlejohns, Rev. S. Webster and Rev. H. Miller. When nearing the end being asked by his father if the Everlasting arms were underneath he answered: "Yes Pap I am all right," and was heard to say as if speaking to some one: "Yes I am coming." On being asked to whom he was talking, he answered: "I was talking to Cyrus," a dear little brother who had passed away many years ago and who in childhoods days had been his playmate. Who shall say that they were not clasping hands across the dark river and now are enjoying together the beautiful home where there is no more death?
